OLIVE BRANCH OFFERED CAGE, BUT SPURNED

Russia Proposes To Restore Status Quo Prior to Beginning of Tariff War.

OFFER COMES TOO LATE, SECRETARY GAGE SAYS

Informs Russia That the Question of Sugar Differential Is Before the Courts and That the Executive Branch Cannot Act.

Washington, July 9.—Another important exchange has occurred between the Russian government and the United States relative to the tariff. The Russian minister of finance, M. De Witte, has proposed that Russia will vacate all of the additional duties levied on American goods since the imposition of the sugar differential if the United States will vacate its action on the sugar differential. To this Secretary Gage has replied that the offer of the Russian government cannot be accepted, as the question of the sugar differential is now in the hands of the court, thus precluding action by the executive branch.

The proposition of the Russian minister of finance was the result of Secretary Hay's note of about two weeks ago. In that note Mr. Hay pointed out that the action taken as to petroleum was not new, nor was it meant to have any connection with the previous action of the government on sugar. This appears to have confirmed Russian officials in their view that the petroleum order was only another step in the policy previously taken respecting sugar.

M. De Witt's response is not long, but is quite to the point. It makes no further issue as to the petroleum order. The chief attention is given to sugar and the specific offer is made to vacate immediately the increased duties which Russia has levied if the United States will vacate its action on sugar. This would amount to re-establishing the status quo which existed before the United States took its initial action relative to Russia.

The Russian proposition was communicated to Secretary Gage, who responded promptly that as the sugar question is now before the courts it is not possible for him to avail himself of the Russian suggestions. Thus the matter stands.

The reductions which would have resulted under M. De Witt's tender are those affecting cast iron wares, manufactures of iron and steel, boiler work, tools for artists, factories and workshops, gas and water meters, motors and dynamos, sewing machines, portable engines, not including threshing machines, fire engines and other machinery of iron and steel, also white rosin, gallipot, brewers' pitch and bicycles.

HAY RETURNS TO WASHINGTON

New Turkish Minister Calls on Secretary of State.

Washington, July 9.—Secretary Hay returned to Washington this morning from his New Hampshire home. He went at once to the state department, and was closeted for some time with Acting Secretary Hill and Assistant Secretary Adee.

The new Turkish minister, Chekib Bey, called, in company with Ali Ferrough Bey, the retiring minister. The new minister must await until a later date to be presented at the white house, owing to the president's absence, but he will from now on exercise all the functions of minister as a matter of courtesy. This course is necessary because Ali Ferrough Bey is returning to Europe almost immediately. The new minister says relations between the United States and Turkey are very cordial.

It is believed that the business which calls Secretary Hay to Washington is principally personal in character, and that he will not be obliged to remain here beyond this week.

CONGRESS OF THE REPUBLICS

Will Be Held in Mexico Despite Reports to the Contrary.

Washington, July 9.—Mr. John Barrett, former minister to Siam, and now one of the American delegates to the congress of American republics to be held in Mexico, called on Secretary Hay today and informed him of the receipt of a letter from one of the Mexican delegates to the congress, in which the latter states that the Mexican government fully expects the congress to be held, despite reports of disagreement. The writer of the letter is a senator in the Mexican congress, and is in such relations with the government as to be able to reflect its views.

Owing to the interest which Cuba has in the suppression of yellow fever, it is quite possible that Cuban delegates may be invited to participate in the congress. This, of course, is dependent upon the political status of Cuba when the congress is held, as it is understood that Mexico has refrained from issuing an invitation to Cuba until the independent government of the island has been brought into existence.

HYDROPHOBIA CAUSES SUIT.

Widow of Victim Wants Owner of Dog To Pay $10,000.

Washington, July 9.—James R. Keenan, a hotel proprietor, today was sued for $10,000 damages by Annie White, the widow of a milk wagon driver, who is alleged to have died from hydrophobia inflicted by dogs belonging to Keenan. It is claimed that while White was delivering milk on July 10th last at the home of the defendant he was attacked by dogs owned by Keenan and bitten in different parts of the body. White, it is alleged, died two months later from the poison of the wounds.

AROUND THE WORLD FOR THE CONSTITUTION JOS: OHL, STAFF CORRESPONDENT, STARTS TODAY

TODAY Josiah K. Ohl, staff correspondent of the Constitution, starts on a globe-girdling trip that promises the rosiest results both in interesting reading and practical information. Fully equipped with letters from the highest officials of the country, Mr. Ohl possesses the most potential advantages for a proper and thorough study of the business conditions of China and the Philippines, particularly; Korea, too, will come under his range of observation, and sturdy, progressive Japan will be one of the fields of his investigation. Many letters have come out of the Orient, and articles of economic value; but in none has yet been struck the note of immediate application to trade relations between the South and that great and alluring territory that stands ready to capitulate to the first and most aggressive commercial assailant. Understanding as he does the conditions of the South; being as he is a trained newspaper man, quick to see and apt in assimilation; and wending his way along as he will, there is every reason to hope for great good to the South from his letters, spread before the people through The Constitution's large and influential circulation.

Conditions in the Philippines, China, Japan and Korea Will Be Studied by Him with Direct Reference to Future Trade Relations Between the South and the Great Commercially Unconquered Territory of the Orient.

THE CONSTITUTION has completed arrangements by which its thousands of readers will be able to enjoy a tour of the world under the pleasantest auspices.

Through the eyes of one of its trained observers they will be brought face to face with those parts of the world which are just now of greatest interest to all Americans. Into the Philippine islands, which are now and which for all time may be American possessions, they will go to learn of the people, of the material conditions, of the possibilities of the future; into China, that mysterious land which promises to play so important a part in world politics of the future—a part in which this government and the American people are deeply interested; into Korea, the hermit kingdom, strange land of itself and of vast importance in its relationship to the eastern question—Korea, which thinkers believe will be the scene of the great struggle between Russia and Japan which may come at any time; into Japan itself, land of a marvelous people, who have in a comparatively few years forced themselves to the forefront of the great nations of the world, and into many other lands, each presenting its own stories of interest and its own problems in its relationship with the other nations of the world.

Mr. Jos: Ohl, the Washington correspondent of The Constitution, sails today from New York for a globe-encircling trip in the interest of The Constitution. This is no Phineas Fogg trip, made for the purpose of attempting to break a world's record for rapid travel; but it is a trip made with the idea of bringing results both interesting and instructive. The Constitution's purpose in sending Mr. Ohl upon this tour of the world is not to secure for itself cheap advertising, but to obtain for its readers a thoughtful and careful study of lands and peoples which have real interest to the people of the United States because of their importance to great problems which will play a large part in the politics and the legislation of this country.

The decision of the United States supreme court in what are known as the territorial cases settled some things and brought other things to a point where they must be treated not from the standpoint of theory, but from the standpoint of practical business and practical legislation. The end of the war in the Philippine islands—for the war seems at last to have ended—brings into the domain of American politics and American legislation problems by the side of which the war itself was infinitesimal. Whatever may be the difference of opinion as to the wisdom of such a policy, there can be no question that the decisions of the supreme court mean that this government has entered upon a career of colonial expansion, and the greatest of all problems which come with this new departure is that furnished by the new group of American islands off the coast of Asia. With the end of the insurrection in those islands, the time for the establishment of civil government has arrived, and it is for the American people to decide what shall be the character of that government. The power to shape this government is, according to the supreme court, in the hands of congress alone, and congress is but the mouthpiece for the American people.

For the purpose of giving the people of the south an absolutely accurate picture of the conditions prevailing in the Philippine islands, the facts about the inhabitants of the island, who have been variously pictured as uncouth savages on the one hand, and haloed heroes on the other, something about the material resources of this unknown land and of the possibilities of development, The Constitution has sent there a man in whose ability and integrity it has the greatest confidence. It is unnecessary to tell the readers of The Constitution who Mr. Ohl is, or to refer to the record he has made as the Washington correspondent of this paper. No man, we believe, is better equipped for the work he undertakes. His only instructions are to get the facts, and we believe he will get them.

To secure this study of the Philippines is, however, but one of the several reasons which impelled The Constitution to its decision to send its representative upon this long journey. His schedule has been arranged so that he will be able to devote much of his time to China. There is no land upon the face of this broad earth in which the people of the United States, and particularly the people of the southern states, are so deeply interested as they are in China. Whether the recent outbreak of anti-foreign feeling which culminated in the sensational siege of Pekin is but the precursor of other troubles, or whether the settlements which have been reached will pave the way to better things, is a problem the solution of which can only be surmised. At this writing the indications are hopeful.

The south's most immediate interest, if not her greatest interest, in continued peace in China lies in the lines of her most important commerce. It is to China, if to anywhere, that the southern manufacturer of cotton goods must look for his greatest future field. We are making more cotton goods today than can be consumed by our customers in other parts of the world. New markets must be found for the surplus and China has been slowly developing such a market. Already many of the leading mills in the south have been manufacturing for Chinese consumers, and it is believed by many of those who have made a study of conditions in that wonderful land, with its teeming millions of people, that this market can be developed to a far greater extent.

Josiah K. Ohl, Staff Correspondent of The Constitution.

How important this is, not only to the manufacturer of cotton, but to every man in the south, cannot be too strongly emphasized. An increased market which furnishes an outlet for the surplus of southern cotton fabrics not only means prosperity to the manufacturer and the mill hand, but it means prosperity to every man who is brought into business relations with either of these. It means prosperity to the producer of cotton, for the consumption of his crop means better prices; and prosperity for the producer of cotton means, in turn, prosperity for the entire cotton producing south.

The importance of a personal investigation of the Chinese field was recently brought to the attention of The Constitution by several of the leading mill men of the south, Dr. J. D. Turner, president of the Exposition Cotton mills of Atlanta, writing the following:

EXPOSITION COTTON MILLS, Atlanta, Ga., June 11, 1901.—Editor Constitution, Atlanta, Ga., Dear sir: We suppose you fully understand that every step of the developments in China is being watched with the greatest interest by the cotton manufacturers of Georgia and other southern states. The restoration of trade relations with China will mean a great deal to American commerce, but it is no exaggeration to say that the south has decidedly most at stake. Trade between the south and the Orient has been interrupted in a most pronounced way, but recently the volume of trade between the southern mills and the Orient has been very great and the possibility for future development appears to be far greater. Almost every mill in the southern states—if not every single one—is interested in the development of that trade, for not only the manufacturer and mill employee is greatly dependent upon it, but the growers of cotton and all those who have business relations with them, directly or indirectly, will be benefited by a further development of trade relations between the southern states and the Orient.

These matters are mentioned to you with no idea of giving you information that you do not now possess, but simply for the purpose of making a suggestion. We believe the people of the south would greatly appreciate the efforts of The Constitution in making a special study of the trade conditions and opportunities in China and the east, and if possible, by the aid of those who are familiar with the trade conditions in the south and its present needs. An undertaking of this kind would lead greatly to the benefit of many thousands of your readers. J. D. TURNER, Pres.

This matter of the market for cotton goods is but one of the subjects to be treated upon in China. Just now, as we have said, China is the center of interest for the entire world. Everything that can be learned about the Chinese people, their lives, their methods of thought, their possibilities as a nation, their government, will be read with the greatest interest. It is, of course, impossible that one who must make a hurried trip can learn all that there is to be learned, and it is not claimed for The Constitution's representative that he is going to be able to solve the Chinese mystery when so many others have failed; but the views of a trained newspaper man, with his ability to get at the kernel of things, one who will look at things through southern eyes, will prove not only interesting reading, but will doubtless also prove of real and substantial value.

Sailing from New York, Mr. Ohl will go out to the Philippines by way of the Mediterranean, the Suez canal, the Red sea and the Indian ocean. As there will be a number of stoppages at interesting points, this trip alone will furnish the material for many readable letters of travel. The outward voyage is across the Atlantic, with Gibraltar, that famous British key to the Mediterranean, as the first stop. After a short stop at Gibraltar, there will follow a trip through the Mediterranean to another famous British post, the Island of Malta. From here Mr. Ohl will go to Port Said, the entrance to the Suez canal, and a stop there will furnish the opportunity to see Cairo and Alexandria, in Egypt. Then will follow a trip through the hot and historic Red sea to Aden, the most important commercial point on the Persian gulf. After Aden will come a trip through the Indian ocean to Ceylon.

From Ceylon the route lies to Singapore, another British colony. From Singapore, the last leg of the outgoing trip will carry him to Manila.

After Manila, Hong Kong and up the China coast. China's great mart, Canton; Macao, the Portuguese colony, noted as the miniature Monte Carlo; Shanghai, the Paris of the east; Amoy, where there are large American interests; Chefoo, and from here into Korea; Port Arthur, the headquarters from which the Russian Bear can look almost into Pekin; Kiao Chow, the German headquarters on the Gulf of Pechili; Taku, the scene of the landing of the foreign troops which went to Pekin; Tien Tsin and Pekin itself, the capital of the empire of China, which has just added another chapter to its long and varied history and which will be particularly interesting upon the return of the Chinese court, an event which Mr. Ohl hopes to be able to witness.

After China, Japan, the picture country of the world. After Japan, Hawaii, where the first experiment of what might be termed American colonial government is under way. From Honolulu, back to San Francisco and from San Francisco across the continent to the original starting point, the capital of this nation.

Mr. Ohl goes fully equipped with credentials from the high officials of the government, who vouch for his standing in his profession, and who have given him letters which will insure every possible facility at the hands of the representatives of this government abroad. His trip has been arranged with the idea of his reaching Washington in time for the session of congress in December, or shortly after that session begins. He will furnish The Constitution a series of letters covering all of the points at which he touches and everything concerning them which he believes to be of interest to the readers of The Constitution.

McLEAN WINS, BUT JOHNSON IS BELLICOSE

Cincinnati Editor Seems To Have Complete Control of Democratic Convention.

NO CONCESSIONS MADE TO RADICAL ELEMENT

Dominant Faction Very Courteous, but Yield Nothing—Johnson Men Propose To Fight in Convention—Objections to Platform.

Columbus, O., July 9.—The McLean-Kilbourne element at the district meetings this afternoon secured control of all the committees and will accordingly have everything their way at the democratic state convention tomorrow. They were so strongly in the majority that there was no friction.

In the twentieth and twenty-first districts, which include Cleveland, the Johnson men had things their way as much as the McLean men in the first and second districts, which include Cincinnati. But in the rural districts the latter element got almost everything. The controlling element did not "ride rough shod" over minorities in any of the districts, but when names were proposed for places on the committees there were inquiries as to how they stood and if the replies were not satisfactory "they were excused," in some cases as quietly as jurors and in others with ballots.

Polite but Concede Nothing.

The McLean-Kilbourne element, while unusually courteous, made no concessions. The old state committee met previous to the district meetings and gave the tickets to the McLean-Kilbourne men where there were contesting delegations, and they took all the districts except those which include Cleveland, in which, under the unit rule, they could not control a vote.

But the Johnson men after the result of the district meetings promptly announced that they would carry the fight into committee on resolutions, for an all night fight, and then into the convention tomorrow for "a finish."

They have two strong men and vigorous speakers in Heisley and Baker, both members of Mayor Johnson's cabinet at Cleveland, on the committee on resolutions.

As the Montgomery contest, and probably the Butler contest, will be carried by minority reports on credentials into the convention for final action, it is predicted that the convention will not reach the order of nominations till late tomorrow afternoon, and that the proceedings may be protracted into the night.

Ex-Governor Campbell is with the Schwab delegation from Butler county and the Mason-Gray delegation from that county was today given the tickets by the old state committee.

With all the efforts of the McLean-Kilbourne men for harmony there is every indication of unusual scenes on the floor of the convention over minority reports, especially on credentials and resolutions.

Object to Kansas City Platform.

In order to expedite business tomorrow the committee on permanent organization voted unanimously to make the entire temporary organization permanent. There were only thirteen of the twenty-one members present and the absentees say the meeting was called for 8 o'clock, while those who favored compromising differences as well as expediting business assembled at 7 o'clock and adjourned before eight of the members arrived.

Some members of the new committee also attempted to proceed at 7 instead of 8 o'clock, but the other members dropped in before they were expected and then that committee adjourned till 8 o'clock without organizing. The McLean-Kilbourne men found three or four of their element wanting to succeed Lewis Brucker as chairman, and as many candidates for secretary and decided to adjourn for further consideration.

The committee on resolutions stood 17 to 4 against special mention of free silver in the platform in addition to indorsing the Kansas City platform; 15 to 6 against indorsment of the Kansas City platform without any further declaration on silver; 14 to 7 against reaffirming the Kansas City platform with the Johnson plank on state taxation. There were some who favored no reference to the Kansas City platform. No vote was taken, the tally on preferences being secured from the speeches as each one was called on for his views.

Gold Democrats Return.

The 950 delegates are accompanied by large delegations supporting different candidates for the nominations for judge and clerk of the supreme court, attorney general, state treasurer and member of the board of public works. The nomination for governor and lieutenant governor are the only ones in which there is not a free for all race with many entries.

But the large attendance is largely due to the reunion of democrats who have not been together in Ohio since 1896. Those who have been called "gold democrats" are very largely represented and many of them have not attended their conventions in Ohio for years. Nearly all of the old leaders of this class are here, and they are given places of prominence on the committees and in the organization generally. While they consider the financial question settled, they are actively cooperating with those who are being denominated the "conservatives" in opposing any other so-called isms that they claim will handicap the party as it has been handicapped by certain alliances in the past. They are with the McLean men as against the Johnson men in the proposed "new departure" of the latter on taxation, municipal ownership, etc. They are bitterly opposed to the insular policy of the national administration and to the present

AFTER AMERICAN BOXERS

China Asks the United States for Half Million Indemnity.

CLAIMANTS ARE NUMEROUS

Outrages Complained of Were Perpetrated on Chinese Residents at Butte, Montana.

Washington, July 9.—The Chinese government through Minister Wu Ting Fang has filed a claim for indemnity to the amount of a half million dollars on account of alleged outrageous treatment of Chinese at Butte, Mont. There is a suggestion of boxer outrages reversed in the presentation of the case to the state department, the treatment inflicted upon the Chinese at Butte being claimed to have been cruel and oppressive. It is charged that some of them were killed, others lost their property and nearly all were ruined in business and many of them were driven out. The claimants number several hundred.

The outrages date back to 1886 and it is declared that the city council of Butte upheld the rioters and the boycotters; that the state courts upon appeal decided in language so unjudicial as to be itself a subject of complaint that the city council was right, and finally that relief could be obtained only measurably through an appeal to the United States court. The claim raises some novel and extremely interesting points of international law.

Herbert Succeeds Fillmore.

San Francisco, July 9.—This afternoon J. M. Herbert was named to succeed Mr. Fillmore as manager of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

FOUGHT WITH SHOT GUNS

Edward Franklin and His Son in Law the Principals.

AGGRESSOR MEETS HIS DEATH

But He Inflicts Serious Wounds on His Daughter, Her Baby and Her Husband.

Tampa, Fla., July 9.—News reaches here from Plant City that a fatal duel with shotguns was fought near that place yesterday afternoon and that as a result Edward Franklin, a farmer, is dead and David Kinard, Franklin's son in law; Mrs. Kinard and their baby are all seriously wounded.

Franklin, it is alleged, had employed a farm hand to do some plowing, for which he was to receive 700 strawberry plants. The work having been finished, Franklin gave an order on Kinard for the plants. When the employed man presented the order Kinard refused to fill it. This was reported to Franklin, who immediately armed himself with a shotgun and went to the Kinard home. Arriving there he immediately opened fire, it is said, on his son in law, missing him, but striking and seriously wounding his daughter and grandchild. Kinard ran for his gun and returned the fire. Another volley was fired at each other, Franklin falling dead and Kinard being seriously wounded. Kinard has not been arrested.

General Daniel Sickles Very Ill.

New York, July 9.—General Daniel E. Sickles is seriously ill in Pleasantville, N. Y.

PAY CHAIRS CAUSED RIOT

Seats in Madison Square Garden Destroyed by Mob.

POLICE CHARGED THE RIOTERS

But for a Time the Officers Were Unable To Quell the Trouble.

New York, July 9.—The demonstrations against the reserved park chairs, for the use of which a fee is charged, were continued in Madison Square park today. A mob of several hundred took the police by surprise and began a wholesale destruction of the chairs at the north end of the park. The attendant was swept from his feet and carried down with his property. The chairs were scattered over the pathways, and the police reserves were unable to quell the riot for a time. They charged with drawn clubs, and several men were arrested.

One of the occupants of a pay chair today was Terry McGovern, the pugilist, who called upon one of the attendants to "come and collect."

The attendant, however, did not accept the invitation.

MISS MORRISON GOES TO PEN.

Taken to Lansing To Begin Serving Her Sentence.

El Dorado, Col., July 9.—Jessie Morrison was taken to the penitentiary at Lansing today to begin her five years' sentence for the murder of Mrs. Clara Wiley at Castle. There were several hundred people at the railway station to take a farewell look at the prisoner. Half of the crowd consisted of women. Despite the efforts of the trainmen to keep them off, a large number of men and women crowded into the train to stare at Miss Morrison. She was accompanied by her father, Judge Morrison, and her brother, Hayward.

SOLDIERS FREE WITH LEAD

They Begin a Fusillade on a Santa Fe Train.

ONE MAN FATALLY WOUNDED

Soldiers Claim Crooks Were Aboard and That They Shot To Prevent Robbery.

Kansas City, Mo., July 9.—John Howard, a private in company D, Forty-third volunteer infantry, and whose home is at Roanoke, Va., was arrested here today on the arrival of the Santa Fe train from the west, charged with shooting a man named Gibbons at Hutchinson, Kans., last night. Gibbons, who is not expected to survive his injuries, lives at Chillicothe, Mo., and was on his way home, after having worked in the harvest fields in Kansas.

Howard's story of the shooting makes it uncertain whether he or some other soldier shot Gibbons. He says a number of tramps boarded the train with the returning soldiers at a point west of Hutchinson. They wore partial uniforms and tried to pass as soldiers. The soldiers had been notified that several crooks were aboard and to watch them. Several soldiers were robbed of small sums. The shooting occurred when, according to Howard, one of the tramps made a slash with a knife at the pocket of a soldier in an effort to rob him. Gibbons was observed and backed toward the car door. The cry, "Shoot him," went up and as he reached the platform Howard and another soldier, whose name Howard does not know, fired two or three shots and Gibbons dropped.

Howard, who is twenty years old, will be taken to Hutchinson. He served nearly three years in the Philippines and was mustered out at San Francisco four days ago.

SOLD TO LOWEST BIDDER

Norfolk Council Lets Omnibus Franchise Go for $30,000.

LARGER SUM WAS OFFERED

But the Council Seemed To Be Doing a Bargain Counter Business.

Norfolk, Va., July 9.—By the select council's concurrence with the action of the common council tonight the Bay Shore Terminal Company secures a thirty-year franchise for a street railway through every ward in the city with the possible exception of one. There were two other competitors for the privilege, both backed by Pennsylvania capital. The highest bid was made at $45,000 and a bond of $70,000 given as forfeit if contract was not fulfilled. This was turned down and the franchise granted for $30,000.

VALUE OF PRECIOUS STONES.

Imports to United States for a Year Were Worth $21,919,053.

Washington, July 9.—A report received at the treasury department from George W. Windit, the government expert at the New York custom house of precious stones, shows that during the fiscal year ended June 30th last, the aggregate value of precious stones and pearls passed through his office was $21,919,053. This amount largely exceeds the total of any other year in the history of the country, and exceeds by over $3,000,000 the entire importations of the four years ended in March, 1896.

Mr. Windit states that the placing of precious stones in their rough, or native, state upon the free list has established a new mechanical industry in America, and nearly one-half the precious stones sold here are cut and polished in the United States.

BOTH PARENTS WANT THE CHILD

Savannah Contractor and His Wife Have Trouble.

HE CARRIES AWAY THEIR BABE

Man and Wife Make Scene on the Street, in the Courthouse and at Their Attorney's Office. Warrant Taken Out for the Father.

Savannah, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Stephen S. Leonard, a prominent and wealthy contractor, well known in Georgia and Florida, was arrested this morning charged with assault and battery on a warrant sworn out by his wife, the actual offense consisting of forcibly taking from his wife their five months old child. The incident occurred on Liberty and Barnard streets and the cries of the mother for help and the police attracted much attention. Finding that Leonard was determined to take the child, Mrs. Leonard walked with him to his office on West Broad street, where she called upon a policeman to arrest her husband for kidnaping. The officer seeing that it was a family affair declined to interfere. Husband and wife secured cabs and, the father still keeping possession of the child, drove to the offices of their respective attorneys, Attorneys Osborne & Lawrence for the husband, and Twiggs & Oliver for the wife. It happened that both sets of attorneys were engaged in the Johnson murder trial at the courthouse, and the aggrieved pair proceeded there. An exciting scene occurred in the solicitor's office, Judge Twiggs threatening to have Leonard arrested and Solicitor Osborne advising him to keep the child. The result was the warrant, but Leonard still has the child.

Leonard has done a large amount of government work at Fort Screven, and now has the contract for the union depot at Savannah, besides the one at Columbus and considerable other work throughout the state. Mrs. Leonard is a strikingly pretty woman. She is a native of Indiana and a trained nurse by profession. The marriage took place at St. Augustine April 5, 1900, after an acquaintance of one month only. According to statements made by Mrs. Leonard in an application for permanent allmony filed in the court here July 4th, the married life has been very stormy and unhappy, and she has been twice compelled to leave her husband on account of his violent temper and harsh treatment. She charges that on July 4th Leonard locked her out of the room which they had occupied at the DeSoto, cursed and abused her and made unfounded charges of infidelity against her, compelling her to obtain another room. Acting on the advice of her attorneys, Twiggs and Oliver, she left the hotel, taking her child with her, and secured quarters at a boarding house on Liberty street. Other sensational developments are expected.

MARIS MAY MEET TWO RACERS

Yacht Races on the Georgia Coast Attracting Attention.

Savannah, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The racing yacht Dragoon will sail tomorrow for Brunswick, where she is to be pitted against the Monsoon in a series of trials. If the results are satisfactory the Savannah Yacht Club will challenge the Carolina Yacht Club, of Charleston, for races for the cup taken from the Savannah Yacht Club last year by the Maris, representing the Carolina Yacht Club, which outsailed the Dragoon.

Mr. Harry G. Strachan will be in command of the crew taking the Dragoon to Brunswick. It is expected that he will reach Brunswick day after tomorrow and the races will probably begin the following day. F. D. M. Strachan, of Brunswick, owner of the Monsoon, left Savannah today for his home and will have the Monsoon in thorough readiness for the trials against the Dragoon.

The Dragoon was disposed of a few days ago and she fell to Cornelius F. Moses, who sold her the next day for $375 to Horace Rivers. Mr. Rivers sold her to Captain F. G. Strachan for $450. Captain Strachan wanted her for the very purpose to which he is now devoting her—racing.

Some question exists as to whether the Dragoon can beat the Monsoon. The latter showed up so well in her race against the Titania, of Charleston, not long since that it was thought by many she could not only beat the Dragoon, but the Maris. Talk was heard then of a challenge, pitting the Monsoon, representing the Savannah club, against the Maris. F. D. M. Strachan, however, wanted it shown that the Monsoon could beat the Dragoon before challenging the Maris. The cup races will be largely dependent upon how the Dragoon and the Maris show up in trials. A challenge under the cup rules of the two clubs must reach Charleston by July 15th, thirty days before the limit of the season prescribed for the cup races. Both the Dragoon and the Monsoon may be entered against the Maris, which will defend the cup for Charleston.

SAUSSY IS SERIOUSLY SICK.

One of Savannah's Leading Attorneys Is Very Ill.

Savannah, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Colonel J. R. Saussy, one of the most prominent lawyers in Savannah, is seriously sick, but the family and his many friends are in hopes that he will recover. He has been ill but a few days, but has had several violent seizures in that time. This afternoon he had a congestive chill, but rallied strongly and tonight is greatly improved.

BLOODHOUNDS AFTER HIM

Negro Manifests a Sudden Passion for Blood.

NOW HIDING IN THE SWAMPS

After Killing His Mules He Turns His Gun on His Wife and Two White Men.

Douglas, Ga., July 9.—Jake Devoss, a negro laborer on James McKinnon's plantation, was working a team of mules this morning. The mules balked and Devoss flew into a rage. Flogging failed to move the mule. The negro went to his house, got a winchester and shot both mules dead. Devoss's wife expostulated with him, and he turned the rifle upon her, inflicting a wound which may prove fatal. James McKinnon, who owned the mules, and his brother Charles, attracted by the shooting, started for the scene. The now wildly infuriated negro saw them coming and began shooting at them. Charles McKinnon was instantly killed and James McKinnon was so badly wounded that he will probably die. Then Devoss escaped to the swamps. The county authorities were notified and started in pursuit of the murderer with bloodhounds. He has his rifle, but it is not believed he has much ammunition. More bloodshed is looked for.

THEY COLLIDE ON TRESTLE.

Two Engines on Wadley and Mt. Vernon Road Are Damaged.

Adrian, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—About 5 o'clock this evening as the regular train on the Wadley and Mt. Vernon railroad was crossing the Ohoopee trestle it had a head-on collision with engine No. 5 of the James Lumber Company. Engine No. 5 was going to the trestle for water and was in charge of Fireman Johnson. It is down grade all the way from Adrian to the river, which is about one mile from the town. Johnson left town at a good speed and owing to a curve did not see the train till too late to stop. No. 5 had been out of the shops of the Wadley and Mt. Vernon road for only a few days, and Johnson was running while the regular engineer was attending court at Swainsboro. Both engines are badly wrecked. Nobody was hurt. Both crews jumped in time to save themselves.

Memorial Services Held.

Eatonton, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The Rising Star lodge No. 4, F. and A. M., of this place, held memorial services last night to pay tribute to the late Dr. Reuben B. Nisbet, a prominent and enthusiastic Mason during his life. A committee appointed to draft resolutions and prepare a suitable memorial address rendered its report.

Boiler Maker Drops Over Without a Sign of Life.

HAD BEEN DRINKING HEAVILY

Stranger in Waycross Follows Whisky with Ice Water and Quickly Dies.

Waycross, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—John Gallagher died suddenly this morning at the home of A. L. Waridrop, 42 Frances street. Gallagher was a boiler maker, employed by the Gillon Machine Company and has been here about six months. He was a native of St. John, New Brunswick, Canada, and so far as is known has no relative in this country. He has been a hard drinker and had been on a prolonged spree. He got drunk Saturday and was not seen at his boarding house from that time until yesterday morning, when he entered the boarding house. He told Mrs. Waridrop Saturday he was sick. During the night he raved a great deal. He was heard to go to the water cooler this morning about 3 o'clock and drank several glasses of ice water. The doctor is of the opinion that this was the immediate cause of death, the large draughts of ice water causing congestion. Shortly after Gallagher drank the water Mr. Waridrop went to the back porch and there on the floor he found the sick man. He assisted him to his room. Gallagher said he wanted to go to the shops. It was then about daylight and Waridrop assisted him in getting on his clothes, but just as he was dressed he fell over on the bed a dead man. In his delirium Gallagher often called for his sister and complained of severe pains in his head. He had a letter in his valise from W. A. Dunagan, High Springs, Fla. The body was buried today, Rev. J. M. Glenn officiating.

KILLS HIMSELF WITH RIFLE

Puts Muzzle of Winchester in His Mouth and Touches Trigger.

Tennille, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—John Yaunts, foreman of the Tennille billet factory, committed suicide in his bedroom tonight, shooting himself through the head with a Winchester rifle, death being instantaneous. The act was premeditated. Yaunts sat on the side of the bed, put the rifle in his mouth and pulled the trigger with the fingers of his right hand. Yaunts had been drinking for several days. This morning he ran his wife and children away from home. They refused to come back to him. Yaunts went to the office of Proprietor Dundas, of the billet factory, broke it open, took out the rifle and went to his home. He told several neighbors that he would kill himself. Dundas went to the house and unsuccessfully endeavored to get the rifle away from Yaunts. He threatened to kill any one who came near him. He walked into the house and killed himself. Yaunts was a native of Leechville, N. C. He came here from Charleston a year ago. The remains will be buried at the home of his brother at Union Point, N. C.

TWENTY GRAINS MORPHINE.

Girl Swallows Poison and Then Tells Her Friend of It.

Birmingham, Ala., July 9.—(Special.)—Miss Jemima Beddow, aged twenty, employed in the chewing gum factory here, this afternoon purchased twenty grains of morphine and repaired to her room, where she divided the drug into three doses and took all. She then sent for the proprietress of the factory and told her she had taken poison because she had so many troubles. She sank into unconsciousness. She was carried to the St. Vincent hospital, where doctors and nurses worked to save her life, but in vain. She died tonight. Her father lives in Coalburg, ten miles from here. She was a neice of C. P. Beddow, a delegate to the constitutional convention from this county.

RURAL DELIVERY IN ELBERT.

Fight for the Postoffice in Elberton Is on Again.

Elberton, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The postoffice department has inaugurated four lines of rural mail delivery routes in Elbert county, which are now in full operation. Every section of the county is traversed by one of these routes, and the people are pleased with the work. The business of the Elberton office increases as the country offices are discontinued. The fight over the appointment of a postmaster at the Elberton office is on with renewed vigor. The race has practically narrowed to the incumbent, Miss Ella Henry, a sister of the late W. P. Henry, republican candidate for congress from this district against Hon. W. M. Howard, and Mrs. Hairston. Mrs. Hairston's friends claim that she has the indorsement of the republican machine. The threatened application of a negro for postmaster seems to have subsided. The general impression is that Miss Henry, the incumbent, will be appointed again.

Elberton Company in Camp.

Elberton, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The Elbert light infantry, under command of Captain H. P. Hunter, left Elberton this morning for Washington, where they will go into camp together with other companies of the Third Georgia regiment.

Carrollton City Court in Session.

Carrollton, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—City court of Carrollton is now working on the civil docket. The case of D. H. Carter against J. T. Davis, of Temple, a suit for slander, $5,000 damage being claimed, has taken up the session so far.

ATHENS IS CARING FOR HER VISITORS

Three Conventions Being Held in the Classic City.

PLEASANT WELCOME FOR ALL

Georgia Weekly Press Association, Retail Grocers' Association and the Wheat and Oat Congress Are Now in Session.

Athens, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Three conventions, all going at one time, are keeping Athens lively just now. The city is full of visitors and the people of Athens have turned themselves loose to see that all the guests are entertained.

The Georgia Weekly Press Association met this afternoon in the Athenaem auditorium. There are about 100 editors in attendance and it is a thoroughly representative gathering of the Georgia press. A number of ladies are in the party.

President W. S. Coleman, of The Cedartown Standard, called the meeting to order and Mayor E. I. Smith welcomed the visiting newspaper men on behalf of the city of Athens, while T. W. Reed welcomed them on behalf of the local press. The reply for the association was made by Editor H. H. Revill, of The Meriwether Vindicator. The association got down to business during the remainder of the afternoon session.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock there will be another session of the association, at which the place for the next meeting will be named, the officers selected and a literary symposium enjoyed, consisting of interesting papers from a number of leading editors.

The Retail Grocers.

The Georgia Retail Grocers' Association was called to order at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Carithers's hall, by Grocer C. J. Kamper, of Atlanta, vice president. After opening with prayer by Mr. J. P. Fears, chaplain of the Athens association, Mayor Smith delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the city of Athens, Colonel M. G. Michael on behalf of the business men of the city and F. K. Freeman on behalf of the Athens Retain Grocers' Association. The response was made by Grocer R. A. Broyles, of Atlanta.

The presiding officer then made his annual address, which showed a decided progress made by the association during the pastyear.

The association listened to an address by Charles Pfeiffer, national secretary of the Retail Grocers' Association, St. Louis. Mr. Pfeiffer's address was followed by one by J. A. VanHoose, of Birmingham, Ala., president of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association.

The remaining portion of the afternoon was taken up with officers' reports and reports from different committees. Tomorrow there will be addresses by Carter Woolford and A. W. Farlinger, of Atlanta, and the election and installation of officers.

The Wheat and Oat Fair.

There were several hundred of the best farmers in northeast Georgia here to attend the Athens wheat and oat fair. One hundred of them are contestants for the cash prizes which are to be awarded tomorrow morning. The success of the wheat and oat fair is everything that could have been desired by its promoters.

The exhibits of the different wheat and oat crops at the opera house were splendid object lessons as to what can be done in that branch of agriculture in this section.

The first meeting of the wheat and oat fair was held at the opera house this afternoon at 3 o'clock and was presided over by Hon. John R. White, of Whitehall, one of the leading farmers in the county and president of the Georgia Manufacturing Company.

Judge White introduced Hon. T. B. Terry, of Ohio, who delivered an address on "Wheat Culture." Mr. Terry is a recognized authority on this subject and his hearers gained information from his address. His remarks were thorough in every respect. They covered all the approved methods of wheat culture and were clear and easily comprehended. Following the address of Mr. Terry came talks by a number of farmers and a general discussion of best methods, in which Mr. Terry took part.

Tomorrow morning the wheat and oat fair session will be devoted to the delivery of prizes and to addresses by Hon. James M. Smith, Hon. R. J. Redding and Professor Hugh N. Starnes.

Entertainments for Guests.

This afternoon at 6 o'clock the Athenaem Club tendered an informal reception to all the visitors in the city. Hundreds thronged the parlors of the Athenaem, where they were met and entertained in a most hospitable manner by the leading citizens of Athens.

Tonight the business section of the city was illuminated and on College avenue an enjoyable kinetoscope exhibition was given for the pleasure and entertainment of the city's guests.

Tomorrow at noon the city will give a barbecue at the Athens park complimentary to all its guests. This will be an elegant affair and at least 600 guests will mingle together.

The guests will all leave for their homes tomorrow afternoon. The press association will return to Atlanta, joining the Georgia Press Association there and going to the Buffalo exposition.

ATHENS WILL HAVE SILK MILL

Business Men of the Classic City Will Meet the Promoter.

Athens, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—A meeting of the business men of Athens was addressed last night at the Athenaem by J. M. Wade, industrial agent of the Southern railroad, relative to the establishment of a silk mill in Athens. The proposition is the result of the visit of Louis B. Magid, of Milford, Mass., to this city a few weeks since. Mr. Magid is a capitalist who is anxious to invest his money in the south. He was so pleased with Athens and her facilities that he settled upon this place for his new manufactory.

He proposes to erect a $150,000 mill, he taking $75,000 worth of the stock, the citizens of Athens taking the other half. In a year or two it is expected that the stock will be increased to $500,000.

A committee consisting of A. H. Hodgson, W. T. Bryan, H. J. Rowe and H. S. West was appointed to make the canvass. These gentlemen started out today, and are making good progress.

Wolffe Goes to Greenville.

Brunswick, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—E. D. Wolffe, former manager of the Grand opera house here, has severed his connection with that place and will in future manage the opera house in Greenville, S. C.

COLUMBUS WANTS LABORERS

In Every Factory There Is Room for More Men.

DEMAND IS NOW URGENT

Skilled Workmen Can Secure $2.50 to $2.75 a Day with Ease.

Columbus, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The scarcity of labor of all kinds is a matter of general comment in manufacturing circles at present. The influx of population is not keeping pace with the industrial development of the town. Every cotton factory in the city reports a shortage of help, and there is need for more men in nearly every manufacturing establishment in the city. One manufactory is advertising for skilled workmen at from $2.50 to $2.75 per day. The building of two 25,000-spindle cotton mills and the general enlargement of the various manufacturing interests in the city are responsible for the present situation. Both iron foundries here have practically doubled their capacity recently. The same shortage exists in the surrounding farming sections. In some places the farmers are paying $1 per day for ordinary field labor.

Malaria Makes Impure Blood.

EASTERN CAPITAL IS COMING.

Chattahoochee Falls Company May Soon Change Owners.

Columbus, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—A rumor is current that the property of the Chattahoochee Falls Company, two miles north of the city, is to be developed by eastern capital in the near future. Those contemplating work are the New England people who recently became interested in the Columbus Railroad Company.

The Chattahoochee Falls Company owns the old Clapp factory property, a mile north of North Highlands, which embraces one of the finest water powers on the Chattahoochee river. At the site of the old Clapp factory, still standing, a ledge of rocks forms a natural dam almost across the river. This old factory was operated in ante bellum times.

The plans under consideration contemplates a splendid power plant at this site for the Columbus Railroad Company, which at present buys its power from the city mills. The lines of the Columbus Railroad Company may be extended up the river, a belt line being built from Rose Hill to North Highlands via Clapp's factory.

As yet the deal has not been closed, but the option (which was for a consideration) seems to mean business.

TRIP IN SPECIAL SLEEPERS.

Party Leaves Columbus, Ga., for San Francisco.

Columbus, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Quite a number of Columbus people left yesterday morning in a special train for San Francisco, where they attend the convention of the Epworth Leaguers. The trip was arranged by I. A. Camp, traveling passenger agent of the Central of Georgia railway. It is the largest party that ever left this section at one time for the Pacific coast. The party will travel all the way in a special sleeper. In addition to the Columbus people a number of persons from nearby towns were members of the party.

NEW COAL CARS ARE ORDERED.

Central of Georgia Railway Needs More Rolling Stock.

Columbus, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—At the meeting of the Central of Georgia railway directors in Savannah yesterday the contract for building several hundred coal cars was authorized. The cars will be built in Ohio. The purchase of the Chattanooga, Rome and Southern road made it necessary to increase the rolling stock of this character, as 1,500 tons are mined daily along this line at the Durham coal mines. The general coal fonnage of the Central is immense and the increase in rolling stock would probably have been necessary even if this new acquisition had not been made.

New Officer Is Named.

Columbus, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—H. S. Reynolds, of Boston, has been made general manager of the Columbus Railroad Company. He will displace none of the present officials, his office being an entirely new one.

YOUNG ATHEAN IS DROWNED.

Swimmer Seized with Cramp and Suickly Goes to the Bottom.

Athens, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Charles Patrick, white, aged twenty-three years, lost his life in the Oconee river Sunday afternoon at Barnett shoals. Patrick was in bathing and must have been seized with cramp. He sank before assistance could reach him, and it was two hours before the searchers found his body. His remains were buried yesterday afternoon at Corinth church.

GRAND LODGE OF MUTUAL AID.

The Annual Convention Will Convene in Macon for Three Days.

Macon, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—The grand lodge of the Mutual Aid will convene in Macon tomorrow with about 300 delegates. This is an order established in LaGrange, Ga., and is for the benefit of colored people. C. H. Reevis of LaGrange, is at the head of the organization. The grand lodge will be in session until Friday night, when the convention will close with a banquet. The Mutual Aid brass band of LaGrange will be in attendance, and the officers and delegates will march from the depot tomorrow, headed by the brass band, to Fulton Baptist church, where the sessions of the grand lodge will be held.

News oNtes from Macon.

Macon, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Attorney General Terrell was in Macon today.

A valuable horse belonging to R. H. Plant was killed by lightning in New York state a few days ago.

In Bibb superior court W. H. McLean has filed a petition for injunction against R. T. Christian, who, he alleges, has broken a contract into which McLean and Christian entered to run a dairy business in Bibb county.

Is Charged with Infanticide.

Athens, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Lindy Hill, a negro woman, is in jail charged with infanticide. Yesterday morning the body of a negro baby was found in an old well near Tuckston. It had been placed in a sack, after having been killed, and then thrown into the well. Coroner Rogers definitely fixed the crime upon Lindy Hill. She entered a strong denial.

Athens News Notes.

J. S. Harper, guardian of Laura F. Skinner, has discharged his trust, and asks for letters of dismissal.

A. F. Allen, administrator of the estate of Love Allen, has discharged his trust, and asks for dismissal.

NEGRO HAS AN UGLY HISTORY.

Man Who Was Shot in Macon Has a Bad Record.

Macon, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Today the chief of police received a letter from the marshal of Marshallville relative to the character and record of the negro, Will Banks, who stole a horse in Forsyth last week and, while desperately resisting arrest in Macon last Friday, was shot three times by Policeman Dumas, and was kept in the hospital by his wounds until yesterday, when he was placed in the Bibb jail until the Monroe county officers send for him. The letter of the marshal of Marshallville reads as follows:

"The negro Will Banks is from Marshallville. He is a notoriously bad character, and is at present wanted by this city for disorderly conduct and by the county for forgery. He has often been in trouble with the authorities, and has never been captured without a fight. When he left here a few weeks since, probably going at once to Forsyth, it was after a chase and having been several times shot at by myself and a posse. He has borne a reputation for years as an all-round law breaker. Deputy Sheriff Bush had a severe struggle with him last spring. He has shown fight on every occasion when he was arrested."

PROSECUTORS MUST PAY COST.

The Bailiff Was Acquitted in the City Court of Macon.

Macon, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—Bailiff Gene Motes was acquitted in the city court of Macon today of the charge of pointing a pistol at Mr. and Mrs. Beecher, and the court directed that the complainants had to pay the costs of the prosecution. Bailiff Motes levied on a push cart he found in front of the store of the Beechers for a small debt, and when he started off with the cart he was followed by Mr. and Mrs. Beecher, who wanted him to give up the cart. During the trouble Bailiff Motes drew and pointed a pistol at Mr. and Mrs. Beecher, as they alleged, hence the prosecution.

SEALED BIDS ARE OPENED.

Proposed Auditorium at Macon May Face an Injunction.

Macon, Ga., July 9.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the city council tonight sealed bids were opened for building an auditorium to be erected by the city. P. W. Jones & Son bid $9,895 and J. H. B. Wilder and W. W. Dehaven $11,937.10. The bids were referred to the finance committee of council. B. L. Jones, a well known citizen, says he expects to enjoin the city from erecting the auditorium on the ground that the city has no legal right to spend money for such purpose.

A resolution to grant the Macon, Dublin and Savannah railroad certain privileges near Central City park in order to expedite the extension of the road from Dublin to Vidalia on the Seaboard Air Line was passed after much discussion.

Returned What He Stole.

Minden, Neb., July 9.—Fred Norlin, county treasurer of Kearney county, was arrested this evening on a charge of robbing the county treasury and setting fire to the courthouse on the night of June 27th. After his arrest Norlin made a confession and restored $6,775 of the $10,000 shortage.

Buddhist Turns Mormon.

Chicago Chronicle: Ten years spent on two hemispheres in the study of all the religions of mankind has convinced R. S. Nyaka that Mormonism is the highest form of religious belief. He has ceased for a while his studies at the University of Chicago, where he has been a student for two years, to devote all his time to the acquirement of a deeper knowledge of the creed of his new faith.

Nyaka, the son of a wealthy merchant of Colombo, Ceylon, and reputed to be a descendant of a one-time reigning family of the island was originally a Buddhist. He entered a theological school known as Viddyevdaya, which means "the rising of knowledge," soon after his sixteenth birthday, and there commenced his search for religious truth. Although Buddhism is the dominant creed of the land and he was intended by his parents for a priest of that faith, he was free to study at that institution the spiritual beliefs of all peoples. He is now past twenty-six years of age and most of his time since then has been given to religious research.

To India and the countrie sof Asia he went in quest of truth. He studied the creed of Zoroaster and watched the fire-worshiping Parsees at their devotions. He saw the Mohammedans bow to the rising sun and sing the praises of Allah, but could find no sufficient reason for their devotions. He examined the sacerdotal philosophy of the Brahmins and absorbed the doctrines expounded in the Vedas. The pagan rites of the ancient tribes in Asia and Africa attracted his attention for a time, and then he pursued his inquiries among such of those as had embraced the belief of Christianity.

After studying Confucius's teachings and the various oriental fatalistic theories he came to the United States and continued his inquiries. At the Chicago university he sought instructions as to the varying credal beliefs of the Christian denominations and recently heard of the Mormons. When he heard that they were among the plainest and most worshipful of the followers of Jesus he determined to go to their services. After attending several meetings in a humble temple at 116 Wood street, he cast aside the religions of all other lands and climes and bent a supplicant knee to the God of Joseph Smith and his strange followers.

Nyaka is small, with intelligent eyes, high forehead and a complexion the color of coffee. The little English he knows he speaks carefully and with perfect enunciation. He wants it clearly understood that he is a member of the church founded by the original Joseph Smith of the Iowa faction of Mormons, known as Latter Day Saints. The members of this church regard the Utah Mormons, the polygamists, as renegades.

Nyaka will leave the university at the end of next year and when he returns to Ceylon he will organize a branch of the Mormon church among his own people.

Brings a Strange Story.

Philadelphia Inquirer: A mystery of forty or fifty years' standing has been partially cleared up by the receipt of a letter from Cuba. It is near a half century ago when Jonathan or Joseph Mattson, who was a sea captain, left this port on a southern cruise. He never returned, and it was supposed that he was shipwrecked and drowned. Only a few of the residents here remember the circumstance. The captain left a son, Andrew, who followed the boat-building business for years here, and his widow, Mrs. Tancy Mattson, is the only surviving member of the family.

Mrs Mattson is in receipt of the letter from Cuba, and it was addressed to her husband, who has been dead tweaty years. The letter is written in Spanish, and Wallace McKeag, a distant relative, had the letter translated. It disclosed the news that the old captain was shipwrecked and was landed in Spain, where he settled down and married. A son survived the captain and his wife, and this letter is from the Spanish son. He claims that he has been sentenced to a long period in prison for an alleged crime against the government during the late war. He desires Mrs. Mattson to adopt his young daughter, who is motheriess, and take her from the scene and degradation of being a convict's child.

The letter states that the child has $160,000 held in trust for her, and the father states he is willing to pay all the expenses of his child's trip here with a guardian and will furnish money for her education.

Mrs. Mattson is thoroughly at loss to know how this son discovered that the captain had other children, unless the facts were disclosed before his death or in papers found afterwards. Mrs. Mattson will investigate the case.

Shot Twenty Years Ago.

Providence Journal: The fulsome praise that accompanied the tragic passing of Garfield was not a universal chorus. It was felt by many thoughtful citizens that the administration of the Ohio man had been in some respects unpromising. In the twenty years following the abrupt termination of his public career he has not grown upon the American people as a majestic figure in our national life. Twenty years after, we are not able to see that he was one of the towering personages in American politics, though he was unquestionably a brave soldier, a scholar of some attainments, a forcible orator and a man of many attractive personal gifts. Garfield's fame is rather a decreasing than an increasing factor, and few of his public utterances survive in familiar speech, except his inspired cry to the people of New York when Lincoln was killed: "God reigns and the government at Washington still lives."

Blood Poison's Blight.

DR. HATHAWAY.

My perfect method of treating Blood Poison promptly checks its progress and removes every outward manifestation of every stage. I do not compromise with this disease by mere patch work. Every trace of the disease is completely eradicated, and all danger of transmitting the taint to others is removed. I do not saturate the system with poisonous and destructive minerals; my treatment antagonizes, destroys and expels every vestige of the poison. This treatment has proven successful in thousands of instances, and I consider no case incurable, no matter what other treatment has failed.

I invite free consultation either at my offices or by mail. Send for symptom blank, explaining my successful plan of home treatment.

DISPENSARY PEOPLE AROUSED

Article on Local Legislation Is Brought Up by O'Neal, Chairman of the Committee, and a Warm Discussion Ensues at Once.

Montgomery, Ala., July 9.—(Special.)—This was an off day in the constitutional convention. Mr. Beddow, of Jefferson, introduced an ordinance to stop the hiring out of convicts after January 1, 1904. The article on local legislation came on and Mr. O'Neal, chairman of the committee, made a set speech of thirty minutes trying to warm up the subject. But the article consisted of a long enumeration of special subjects on which the legislature cannot enact a special law. Two of the sections raised a suspicion in the minds of the dispensary people that there was an anti-dispensary "nigger" in the wood pile. They said so and made a combined attack on those subdivisions. It is significant of their strength that they were successful in both cases, in spite of the strenuous opposition of the committee. The convention adjourned before the catalogue of forbidden subjects was half completed. As far as the convention went it provided against special laws on the following subjects: Granting a divorce, relieving any minor of the disabilities of non-age, changing the name of any corporation, association or individual, providing for the adoption or legitimating of any child, incorporating a town, city or village; granting a charter to any corporation, association or individual; regulating the time within which a civil or criminal action may be begun, exempting any individual, private corporation or association from the operation of any general law; providing for the sale of the property of any individual or estate, changing or locating a county seat, providing for a change of venue in any case, regulating the rate of interest, fixing the punishment of crimes or misdemeanors, regulating either the assessment or collection of taxes, and giving effect to invalid will, deed or other instruments.

THE ALABAMA STATE FAIR.

Show Will Be Held in Birmingham During Early Fall.

Birmingham, Ala., July 9.—(Special.)—The board of directors of the Alabama State Fair Association this afternoon decided to hold the annual fair in Birmingham in September or October. The officers who served last year were re-elected as follows: Captain J. M. Falkner, president; Mayor W. Melville Drennen, vice president and general manager; John W. O'Neill, secretary, and Henry B. Gray, treasurer. Efforts will be made to work in harmony with the Atlanta fair. The exact dates of the fair here will be decided Friday.

REWARD MAY BE THOUSANDS.

Governor Jelks Wants Members of the Elmore County Mob.

Montgomery, Ala., July 9.—(Special.)—Governor Jelks has broken the record in offering rewards. He has offered $400 for evidence to secure the conviction of each member of the mob which lynched Robert White in Elmore county last week. No one knows the size of the mob and the total reward may figure into the thousands.

GIRL SET UPON BY WILDCATS.

Kentucky Woman Is Badly Wounded in Desperate Battle.

Middlesboro, Ky. July 9.—(Special.)—While horseback riding on Taggett creek in the Tennessee mountains twenty miles from Middlesboro, Mary Sumler, a country girl, was set upon by two wildcats. The animals leaped upon her with fury and terribly lacerated her side, breast and arm with their claws and teeth. Her condition is dangerous.

Shot Went Through Body.

Huntingdon, Tenn., July 9.—Jack Laycock, a prominent Carroll county farmer, was mortally wounded by an unknown party while at work in his field last evening. A charge of shot and slugs entered the back and passed clear through his body. The identity of the assassin is not known, but bloodhounds have struck a trail.

New Tennessee Railroad.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 9.—Directors of the Virginia and Southwestern railroad have decided to at once build an extension from Elizabethton, in Carter county, Tenn., to Mountain City, the county seat of Johnson county. The distance will be about thirty miles, through a heavily timbered region, with iron and coal deposits.

Ex-President's Daughter Dying.

Greenville, Tenn., July 9.—Mrs. Patterson, of this place, daughter of ex-President Andrew Johnson, is dying at her home here. She has been ill for some time.

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS

MECKLENBURG COUNTY, VIRGINIA

These Springs are open for guests from June 15 to October 1.

They are approached from all directions by the Southern railway system.

By recent purchase the proprietor of these springs has acquired a spring of remarkable boldness of CHLORINATED LITHIA Water. The old springs contain the CARBONATE OF LITHIA. The invalid can take his choice. The celebrated Dr. Thomas H. Buckler, of Paris, suggestor of Lithia as a solvent for Uric Acid, says: "Lithia is in no form so valuable as the CARBONATE, the form in which it is found in Buffalo Lithia Water," referring to the old Buffalo Lithia Springs.

Spring pamphlets sent on request.

WAS SOLD FOR GOOD PRICE

Old North State's Greatest Water Power Changes Hands.

IT WENT OFF FOR $93,000

Mill Plants, Both Large and Small, Are Soon To Be Erected and Equipped.

Raleigh, N. C., July 9.—(Special.)—One of the greatest water powers in this state, or in the entire south, is known as the "Narrows of the Yadkin," at that point this large stream being compressed between walls of granite and running like a mill flume. This property and several thousand acres of land have been sold by the owner, Dr. Dillon Brown, of New York, to George J. Whitney, of Pittsburg, Pa., president of the Whitney Reduction Company, the consideration being $93,000. The North Carolina Power Company was formerly the owner. The Whitney company will at once develop the power, using a great deal of it electrically. Mill plants of large size are to be built. State Geologist Holmes and other experts have made careful studies of the power and the possibilities.

TARHEEL MILITIA IN CAMP.

Tents Are Now Awaiting the Arrival of the Third Regiment.

Raleigh, N. C., July 9.—(Special.)—The tents for use at the encampment of the state guard at Wrightsville were pitched today. There are 377 of them for three infantry regiments, with a total strength of 1,920. The encampment will be by regiments, the Third going first. It begins tomorrow. Colonel Henry Perry, of Henderson, commands the regiment. Its companies are rather widely scattered and nearly all twelve are in tobacco towns. The governor and all, or nearly all the state officers, will visit the encampment July 18th and will remain some days so as to see the Second regiment go into camp. The Second is commanded by Colonel William B. Rodman and nearly all its companies are in the eastern part of the state. The First regiment will go into camp August 5th. Colonel Joseph F. Armfield commands it. It is the largest in the state guard. The Charlotte battery of artillery will encamp with it. Each regiment has a band of thirty-two men. The equipment of the entire state guard is being made thorough.

PROFESSOR OF BOTANY RESIGNS

Massey Will Take Active Charge of the Practical Farmer.

Raleigh, N. C., July 9.—(Special.)—W. F. Massey, for a number of years horticulturist at the experiment station here, and also professor of botany and biology, today resigned that professorship, but will continue to be the horticulturist. His resignation takes effect September 1st and on the same date he becomes the sole editor of The Practical Farmer, published at Philadelphia. He has long been its associate editor and special contributor. It has now 40,000 circulation, Professor Massey says, and he proposes to greatly increase it.

NO TRACE IS YET SECURED.

McKnight's Tracks from High Point Still Undiscovered.

Raleigh, N. C., July 9.—(Special.)—Professor Harry P. McKnight, alias Hiram P. McKnight, who fled from High Point Tuesday night to escape detection, has not been found anywhere. His property has all been seized under writs of attachment. His wife is at High Point. It is the presumption that he got wind of the fact that a record of Hiram P. McKnight as a three-term convict in Ohio had been sent to the sheriff at High Point and it is thought he has gone south, as he would hardly risk going north or west. He is a New Yorker and has served in the regular army in Texas.

SHE MARRIED THREE SOLDIERS

North Carolina Woman Is Anxious To Secure a Pension.

Raleigh, N. C., July 9.—(Special.)—There is an odd application for pension before the board. An Alexander county widow swears that between May 20, 1861, and April 1, 1865, she married three confederate soldiers.

Good Samaritans in Session.

Raleigh, N. C., July 9.—(Special.)—The grand lodge of Good Samaritans, the largest negro order in North Carolina, began its annual session here today. There are over 650 subordinate lodges and nearly 40,000 members in the state.

DEMOCRATS ARE DEADLOCKED.

Republicans in Sixth Texas Nominate a Gold Democrat.

Dallas, Tex., July 9.—The democratic congressional convention to select a candidate to succeed J. R. Burke remains deadlocked with four candidates in the field.

W. C. Weare, of Hill county, withdrew today and his strength went to D. W. Odell, who leads in the number of votes, he having thirty-four, while fifty-six is required to nominate.

At Corsicana today the sixth district republicans nominated Judge Philip D. Lindsley, of Dallas, for congress in this district. Judge Lindsley was a gold democrat and supported McKinley in both campaigns. The republican convention announced that the reason for putting out a candidate was that the democrats reaffirmed the Kansas City platform.

TOO DRY FOR TEXAS COTTON.

Unless Rain Soon Falls Crop Will Be Cut Short.

Houston, Tex., July 9.—The Texas section of the government weather bureau says of the drought now prevailing in Texas:

Cotton is beginning to feel the drought, and unless the situation is soon relieved by a good rain the crop will be cut short. The plant is small and picking will be late. The drought has been particularly disastrous to the corn crop, which will be much below the average. That planted early is too far gone to be benefited. Gardens are mostly burned up and vegetables as well as watermelons and cantaloupes are scarce and of inferior quality.

COAL COMBINE IN KENTUCKY.

Karl Beirach Says That Consolidation Will Be Effected.

Louisville, Ky., July 9.—Karl Beirach, who has charge of the proposed consolidation of Kentucky coal mines, says there is no doubt the combine will be formed.

Asked if J. Pierpont Morgan was interested in the proposed consolidation of soft coal mines in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois, Mr. Beirach said: "I am not at liberty to give out a statement concerning the matter."

"You will not deny that Mr. Morgan is interested?"

"I simply cannot say a word at this time, but I think I shall have something of interest to say within a short while."

SUFFRAGE IS THE THEME

Virginia Constitutional Convention Again in Session.

MEETING WAS A SHORT ONE

Senator Daniel and His Committee Hear Leading Negroes of the State.

Richmond, Va., July 9.—The constitutional convention met at noon today after a week's recess, but the attendance was small. A number of resolutions and ordinances bearing on the suffrage question were introduced and a flood of ordinances touching other important matters followed. There was no debate and after an hour's session the convention adjourned.

Previous to the meeting of the convention the suffrage committee, of which United States Senator John W. Daniel is chairman, held its first meeting. That the work which this committee is expected to shape is considered the important feature of the convention was evidenced by the general interest in the meeting, as well as by the large attendance of its members. Chairman Daniel stated that several representatives of the negro race desired to be heard by the committee in the presentation of their views and he announced the committee's intention to hear them, it being the desire of the committee to give them full opportunity to present their views, and a half dozen or more representatives of the race were heard today. All said the negro asks the right of suffrage only upon the attainment of certain qualifications.

"We ask nothing," said D. B. Lewis, of Richmond, "but what you deem advisable for the best interests of Virginia."

Lewis wanted the ballot safeguarded, but would have white and black treated alike.

F. C. Henders spoke to the same effect, but said that the negro wanted an incentive to work for higher citizenship.

President Goode laid before the convention a communication from the auditor of public accounts, stating that no records existed in his office of the amount of property exempted in the several counties and cities of the state.

The convention adopted a resolution directing the clerks of county and city courts to furnish a statement showing the amount of real estate exempted from taxation and for what purpose.

Mr. Waddell offered an ordinance providing for the meeting of a state board of charities which shall have control of the several state hospitals, the members to serve without pay.

Mr. Wise, of Richmond, offered a franchise clause, providing for a residence in the state of two years and six months in voting places. A poll tax of $2 is to be paid for two years prior to voting, which is to be devoted to school purposes in the county or city in which the voter resides.

Mr. Pettit, of Fluvana, presented an ordinance fixing a poll tax of $3 to be devoted to school purposes and requiring voters or wives of voters to pay taxes on at least $300 worth of property.

Mr. Turnbull, of Brunswick, offered a section providing for viva voce voting and $.00 property qualification with a $2 poll tax, old soldiers and their descendants being exempted.

Mr. Braxton, of Augusta, presented a clause providing for taxation of franchises in lieu of bonds and stocks of corporations doing business in the state.

Mr. Goode wanted to prohibit the operation of trusts in Virginia which seek to control output and prices and to prevent the consolidation of persons or firms with such purposes.

MINERS REFUSE TO RETURN.

Five Hundred Men Are Out on Account of Wages of Drivers.

Birmingham, Ala., July 9.—(Special.)—President Ed Flynn, of the Alabama United Mine Workers, leaves tomorrow for Blue Creek, where five hundred miners have refused to return to work because of a disagreement about the wages of drivers. The miners were to have returned to work yesterday, but the local complaint was not settled and the district president has been summoned.

WANTED TO BE SURE OF DEATH

Young Man Takes Enough Morphine To Kill Dozen Persons.

Columbia, S. C., July 9.—(Special.)—A young man who registered at the Congaree hotel yesterday was found dead in bed this morning at 4 o'clock. There was absolutely nothing to identify him. Three new $5 bills were in his pocket and a vial half full of morphine was in the chimney place. He had taken enough of the drug to kill a dozen men.

FREIGHT TARIFF FOR SOUTH.

Southern Commissions Assication Will Meet in Asheville.

Jackson, Miss., July 9.—President J. D. McInnis, of the Southern Commissions Association, announces that Asheville, N. C., has been selected as the place for holding the coming annual meeting of the association in September. The association of commissioners from southern states was formed last year at Lookout Mountain, and a committee to prepare a general freight tariff for all the southern states, so that uniformity in rates might be secured, was appointed.

Ex-Convict Goes to His Old Home.

Jackson, Miss., July 9.—(Special.)—Dabney Marshall, who was yesterday pardoned by Governor Longino, left this morning for Vicksburg, whence he will go to the home of his parents in the country.

HE CONSIDERED HER A MAN.

Sensational Testimony Is Given in Ellis Glenn Trial.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 9.—The Ellis Glenn trial began in earnest today. E. J. Byers, of Williamstown, identified beyond doubt the person before the bar as Bert Glenn, who boarded at his house during 1896, as a real estate and mortgage dealer. He had apartments with his son, and slept in the same bed for a year. He always took her to be a man, and treated her accordingly.

Miss Glenn is dressed in black, with a heavy veil over her face.

Aged Seventy-two, He Takes a Bride.

Indianapolis, July 9.—Ex-Lieutenant Governor Will Cumback, seventy-two years old, was married today at Lapel, Ind., to Miss Laura Wachstatter, a teacher. Mr. Cumback was one of the founders of the republican party. He was famous in Indiana as a Lincoln elector.

Mobile Schooner Founders.

Key West, Fla., July 9.—The brig L. F. Munson, Watts, from Mobile, bound for Sagua La Grande, foundered during a gale on July 7th, two hundred miles northwest of Tortugas. The captain and crew were taken off by the steamer El Rio and sent ashore here by the pilot boat Jewett.

CUBANS REJECT ELECTORAL LAW

Conservatives Claim That Measure Was Too Radical.

BALLOT NOT SAFEGUARDED

Rather Than Accept Proposed Law Opponents Said They Would Prefer To Hold Elections Under Military Supervision, as at Present.

Havana, July 9.—The Cuban constitutional convention this afternoon rejected the commission's project for the electoral law by a vote of 13 to 12.

The conservatives claimed that the law as proposed was too radical, inasmuch as it provides that there should be no interference with the elections by the central government, and because the last elections showed it to be impossible to conduct elections honestly without some restraining powers. They pointed out that the provinces and municipalities were as yet unable to govern themselves, and contended that a free hand regarding elections would result in calamity to the country. In the opinion of the conservatives, the first elections under the election law should be conducted with all possible safeguards, with safeguards equal at least to those provided by the military governor. Rather than accept the commission's project, the committee said they would favor holding the elections under the existing law and leave to the public the task of drawing up a suitable law later.

Another objection was that party lines had not been clearly defined as yet, and that the law provides for political representation on the election boards, which, under existing conditions, would be a farce.

A new commission will be appointed tomorrow. The conservatives claim a majority in favor of the plural vote, based on the Belgian law.

CORNERED IN DEEP CANYON.

Bandits Who Held Up Train Are Brought to Bay.

Great Falls, Mont., July 9.—In a deep canyon about thirty miles south of Malta, fifteen miles east of Rocky Point and five miles north of the Missouri river, Sheriff Griffith has at last cornered the Great Northern train robbers. The canyon is a veritable fortress, as it is full of caves where the robbers can hide and hold at bay an army if need be.

HAYTI SCOURGED BY STORM.

Entire Loss of the Banana and Corn Crops Reported.

Port au Prince, Hayti, July 9, via Haytien Cable.—Owing to the non-arrival of the regular French mail steamer, due here today from Jaemel, Les Cayes and Santo Domingo, exact details of the havoc wrought by the storm which for four days have swept Hayti and San Domingo are still lacking. Fears are entertained for the safety of the French steamer. The entire loss of the banana and corn crops is reported from the southern part of Hayti.

THIS WOMAN LOVED TOO WELL.

For That Reason She Ended Her Life by Gas.

Chicago, July 9.—Mrs. Ethel Fleming, aged twenty-five years and said to have come from Kansas City, ended her life today in her flat at 2455 State street by turning on the gas. Her body was found when the janitor, detecting the odor of gas, broke in the door. A note found in the room read:

"I am so tired I would find rest."

Another sheet of note paper was found bearing these words:

"She loved, not wisely, but too well."

STOLE NUMBER OF WATCHES.

One of Eufaula's Largest Stores Is Cleverly Burglarized.

Eufaula, Ala., July 9.—(Special.)—The storehouse of Shelly & Co., hardware and jewelry, was burglarized last night and a number of watches and other valuables to the amount of several hundred dollars were carried off. Some hardware and other effects are missing, but the amount is not known. The thieves gained an entrance from a back window by prizing open the shutters and twisting out the iron guards. No clew to the perpetrators has yet been gained.

Remarkable Feat at Sea.

Victoria, B. C., July 9.—The officers and crew of the Norwegian tramp steamer Guernsey have performed a most remarkable feat of marine engineering. Losing their propeller and shaft in mid-ocean, they shifted the cargo until the stern of the boat was tilted high in the air and then put in a new propeller and shaft.

Grainger Named for Mayor.

Louisville, Ky., July 9.—Charles F. Grainger defeated Thomas W. Jefferson for the democratic nomination for mayor of Louisville in a legalized primary held today.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

KANSAS BEING BLISTERED

Protracted Hot Spell Is Ruining All the Crops.

FARMERS LOSING MILLIONS

Estimated That State Will Suffer Crop Losses of $10,000,000. Records Are Broken.

Topeka, Kas., July 9.—The hot weather continues with no immediate prospect of relief. Corn is fast shriveling up, the oat crop is worse than a failure and hay is scarcer than for years. In western Kansas the conditions are better than in the eastern part, this being opposite to the usual state of affairs. Some of the central Kansas farmers are shipping their stock to western Kansas so as to take advantage of the superior hay crop. It is estimated that Kansas will suffer crop losses from the protracted heat spell to the extent of $10,000,000.

Some of today's temperatures were:

Topeka, 103; Salina, 102; Abilene, 107; Osage City, 103; Lawrence, 100; Fort Scott, 108; Sedan, 106; Hays City and Manhattan, 105.

Nebraska Is Parching.

Lincoln, Neb., July 9.—Today has been one of intense heat all over the eastern half of Nebraska. The average temperature was 101. The maximum in Lincoln was 103. A hot wind is cooking the corn and a continuation of many days will seriously damage it.

Very Hot in Iowa.

Oskaloosa, Iowa, July 9.—The mercury rose to 102 today. Much damage was done by a hot wind to growing crops and fruits.

Heat Record Broken.

Kansas City, July 9.—This was the hottest day since the weather bureau was established, the official thermometer recording 103.4 degrees.

STEEL TRUST AND STRIKERS.

Conference on Situation Will Be Held Tomorrow.

Pittsburg, July 9.—A more hopeful atmosphere pervaded the headquarters of both the steel combine and the amalgamated association today.

As the result of the preliminary conference between President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, and Warner Arms, representing the combines' interests, last evening, the Wellsville trouble, which threatened to undo all that had been done toward effecting a peaceable settlement of the strike, was not referred to today, and everything pointed to an amicable adjustment of all differences at the general conference arranged for next Thursday in this city.

"Our board," said President Shaffer, "will meet the committee representing the combine in conference at the Hotel Lincoln, in this city, at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning. I am now pretty well satisfied that the trouble will be settled at this meeting. There seems to be a spirit of fairness prevailing among those to whom I have talked officially on the subject, and I think we will fix matters up. The meeting will be for the signing of the scale for the mills as a whole."

LONG FOR VELDT AND KOPJE.

Boer Exiles at Bermuda Oppressed by Homesickness.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Thursday, July 9.—The Boer prisoners are, taken as a whole, a fine-looking lot of men, and one feels much sympathy for them in their lack of occupation and the longing for home and freedom which presses them.

The Free Staters, who number 800 men, have been placed on Darrell's island, and the Transvaalers, a less contented crowd, whose confessed desire is to be free to fight again, and who number only about 130, are on Burtt's, or Moses's island. The former are orderly and quiet, well-mannered and many of them educated. They say they never wanted to fight, but that it was a case of "fight or be shot."

They recognize also that their case is hopeless, and only desire to return to their homes to live peacefully.

Two gunboats guard either end, and buoys are placed to define the deadline. It is therefore impossible for civilians to have any intercourse with the Boers.

BUYING UP ZINC PROPERTIES.

Big Syndicate Is Now Investing Near Knoxville, Tenn.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 9.—(Special.)—A big deal is said to be pending whereby all the zinc properties in this section are to be bought by an eastern syndicate in which it is thought some Joplin, Mo., people are also interested. If the deal is concluded the purchasers will build concentrating plants and make this a most important zinc producing section.

Rev. Geoorge W. Newell Falls Dead.

Raleigh, N. C., July 9.—(Special.)—Rev. George W. Newell, aged sixty, who in 1893 was state senator from Franklin county, fell dead in his buggy yesterday afternoon while driving with his son to Louisburg.

Judge Earhart, New Orleans.

New Orleans, July 9.—Judge Ferdinand B. Earhart, postmaster at New Orleans, is dead. He was born in the Indian Territory in 1840. He was civil judge in the 70s, deputy collector of the port in 1890 and United States district attorney under Harrison and Cleveland. He succeeded J. R. G. Pitkin as postmaster in January, 1901.

M'LEAN WINS, JOHNSON BELLICOSE

state administration, and want all the democrats in Ohio together for the purpose of securing control of the legislature as well as electing the state ticket, and to elect a United States senator. There is no friction. Every effort seemed to have been made for harmony by the conservatives, but they insisted on harmony being secured without any compromise with what they termed as "new ideas," "experiments," "expediencies," etc.

Johnson Will Not Yield.

Mayor Tom L. Johnson, who still is in Brooklyn, called Charles P. Salen on the long distance telephone today and had a talk with him regarding the plank on a revision of the taxation laws of the state. When Salen informed the mayor as to the situation here and that the McLean-Kilborune men controlled the committee on resolutions as well as all other parts of the convention's organization, Johnson advised Salen never to surrender, but to insist, both before the committee on resolutions and in the convention, for the incorporation of the Cuyahoga plank, which specifically mentions railroads and other corporations as not bearing their full portion of the burdens of taxation. Soon after the talk over the telephone with Johnson, Mr. Salen called at Colonel Kilbourne's headquarters, and these two, with M. A. Daugherty, of Lancaster, and E. M. Heisley, of Cleveland, went into conference in Colonel Kilbourne's room, where they remained behind locked and guarded doors for more than an hour. The taxation plank was under consideration. At a joint meeting of the Cuyahoga delegation this afternoon, when members of the committees were selected, Mr. Salen told his colleagues from Cleveland of his talk by telephone with Mayor Johnson, and urged them to stand by the Cuyahoga platform to the last. He said Cuyahoga county had no candidate and was not represented here in the interest of any one.

CONCOCTED AN ASSAULT STORY

Miss O'Hair Wanted To Get Rid of Butler's Attentions.

Springfield, Ill., July 9.—Miss Reba O'Hair, daughter of Elsberry O'Hair, a wealthy farmer near Charleston, married yesterday to Edward Elliott, today confessed that she and Elliott had concocted the plot which resulted in the arrest of Edward Butler, a farm hand, who was almost lynched. On the night of June 8th Miss O'Hair was found on her doorstep, apparently unconscious, and with blood on her garments. Today Miss O'Hair stated to her father that the assault story had been concocted by her and Elliott to relieve her of Butler's attentions, a chicken being killed to produce the bloody stains found on her clothing.

WON'T WORK UNDER GUARDS.

Imported Machinists Throw Up the Game at Knoxville.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 9.—(Special.)—Two machinists, Robert Palestine and Sam Sacco, who reached here yesterday, today refused to go to work in the place of strikers at the Southern railway shops. They state they are not pleased at working where guards are stationed. The men claim to have reached Baltimore June 27th from Liverpool. They say Superintendent of Motive Power W. H. Thomas in Washington offered them 29 cents per hour, and when they failed to work here Master Mechanic Michael made it 30 cents. They claim the strikers got 27½ cents. It has been reported here that the conductors, engineers, firemen and boilermakers' organizatons would enter a movement to assist the striking machinists in getting another conference. President B. F. Henry, of the strikers, denies this, except that one of the organizations mentioned may be interested. He says he has advices from Atlanta today to the effect that the organizations there which are to assist are arranging for their committee to visit Mr. Gannon.

Millions for Fair Building.

St. Louis, Mo., July 9.—World's fair directors today appropriated $5,000,000 for the purpose of constructing World's fair buildings. This action puts the exposition company in a position to have official announcement made by the government to the nations of the world that the fair will be held in St. Louis in 1903.

WITNESS HELD FOR PERJURY

Negro Swore Himself Into Jail for His Cousin.

A WHISKY STEALING CASE

Two Negroes Held for Tapping a Whisky Barrel—Henry Hart, a Witness, Also Goes to Jail.

For trying to swear his wife's cousin out of trouble, Henry Hart, a negro drayman, swore himself into jail on a charge of perjury in the police court.

Officers Newt Heard and Manier, Special Railroad Officer Heard and Call Officer Tibbs worked up a case in which Henry Gresham and Elijah Clark were charged with tapping a barrel of whisky at the Central freight depot.

The negroes were tried two days ago and Clark was bound over for larceny, it being shown that he borrowed three empty bottles which were afterwards found in his coat pockets filled with whisky.

The case against Gresham was postponed because Henry Hart, his wife's cousin, swore in court that he bought the whisky that was found in Gresham's pocket. Hart was made to tell at what saloon he bought the whisky, what he paid for it and when and where he met Gresham.

Officers Heard and Manier went to the saloon named and took Hart with them yesterday morning.

In the police court yesterday afternoon it was shown by the saloon keeper that Hart never bought any whisky at his place and that the kind of whisky found on Gresham was not carried in his stock.

Gresham was found guilty and was bound over for larceny.

Hart was sent to the Tower in default of a $500 bond for perjury.

MADE CONFEDERATE CANNON.

Aged Furnace Man Seriously Injured by a Fall.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 9.—(Special.)—James Webster, eighty-three years of age, builder of the first furnace in this district which was erected in this city and which is now known as the Chattanooga furnace, was seriously injured by a fall at White Sulphur Springs, Ala., and owing to his extreme age his friends are quite apprehensive. Mr. Webster was employed by the confederate government in making a cannon during the civil war and has been directly interested in manufacturing departments in this city and section for forty years.

CHATTANOOGA AS RIVER POINT

Captain of Tennessee River Steamer Is Given a Banquet.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 9.—Citizens of Chattanooga tonight gave a banquet to Captain L. Cramer, of the steamer Avalon, which vessel has been plying the Tennessee river from Chattanooga to Paducah under charter of Chattanooga business men. At this banquet it was announced that the Avalon will be rechartered as well as two other boats of heavy tonnage, the three vessels to ply regularly between this city and Paducah, Ky. This movement was undertaken to compel railroads to recognize Chattanooga as a river point and grant rates to conform to those given Nashville and Memphis.

Lucas Investigating Near Mobile.

Mobile, Ala., July 9.—Captain A. F. Lucas, of Beaumont, Tex., arrived in Mobile today to investigate for himself the value of reports of oil indications in Choctaw and Washington counties, Alabama. Geological experts, including State Geologist Eugene A. Smith, report favorably. Lucas will not talk tonight, but says an important announcement may be made tomorrow.

Thomas Chosen President.

New York, July 9.—At a meeting of the directors of the telephone, telegraph and cable companies of America today James N. Thomas, of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the Independent Telephone Association of America, was elected president. The office to which he was elected has been vacant ever since the resignation of W. J. Latta, early this year.

Sheldon's View with Local Application.

The Rev. Mr. Sheldon, of Topeka, addressing the Christian Endeavor convention now in session at Cincinnati, gave his views as to how newspapers should be conducted.

Some of Mr. Sheldon's ideas are impracticable and visionary, but he goes straight to the point on one proposition: "The standing question," said he, "in the business and editorial management of a newspaper would be 'what is the best thing for the best interests of the city; what will promote the welfare and happiness or morality of the entire family?'"

The sugestion in this inquiry is a good thought, not only for newspapers, but for governments and people as well.

Suppose we should apply Mr. Sheldon's text to municipal affairs of any city? Suppose that city councilmen elected to serve the people should not forget their duty, but keeping it in mind when rival candidates grapple for public favors, should maintain the rights of the city as against the interests of those who would despoil it of its possessions? This would seem to be an easy and an honest thing to do, and yet how strange is the rarity of it! All over the union we find phenomenal increases of public values as a result of modern invention. These values are part of the increment of the people and should not be parted with save for full consideration. Why should a council give away for nothing a city's ten million dollar interest in a public utility and then haggle about making a present of the city hall to some passerby? Wherein lies the difference? Upon what plane of morality could a bank director justify his diversion of the surplus fund and claim that he had done his duty because he retained the capital stock? Was not the one fund equally the property of the shareholder with the other? Hence it is, when coming to city affairs, we find men ready to double tax the people on their homes and kitchen furniture, and yet making presents of millions of dollars' worth of property to private individuals.

It must be recollected that it is not the individuals claiming franchises who are to blame. All they do is to ask the city to stand and deliver. If the city is represented by men who would act upon the advice of Rev. Mr. Sheldon, there would be no doubt as to the answer.

It is useless to conceal the fact that Atlanta is at interest in this discussion as much as other cities. The public utilities of Atlanta are valuable enough to meet the entire bill of city government and improvement, and still the tax collector carries his red flag around to the homes of the poor and the needy. It is but fair to the small taxpayer, who can ill afford his little mite to the public treasury, that he should have the benefit of the contribution resulting from public utilities.

Are the men who will appear from now on as candidates for the city council prepared to ask themselves the question propounded by Mr. Sheldon—"What is the best thing for the best interests of the city?" Let not this question be perverted, as it has too often been, into—"What is the best thing for this franchise seeker, or for that one"—but first, "what is the best thing for the best interest of the city?" and after the city has been served, then "what is the fair thing as between all citizens of the city?"

This line of thought can best be applied to Atlanta electing men to administer the affairs of the city who can be depended upon to serve the interests of the city first and of existing corporations afterwards.

Millions of dollars in franchise valuations have been given away covering a period of many years.

The people should see to it that a city council is elected pledged—

First. To the enactment of legislation which will make all public utility corporations, street railways and electric companies using the streets, pay an occupation or other tax that will, in some way, give the [illegible] adequate returns for the [illegible] privilege granted. This should be made to apply to all franchises heretofore granted, or hereafter to be granted, and no man should be elected to the city council who does not pledge himself to secure such tax.

Second. A uniform tax rate, or compensatory plan, being agreed upon, franchises should be made as free as water until every unoccupied street is provided with such facilities as the residents may be offered. Until an equitable and just system of compensation, with uniform operation, is agreed upon, every unoccupied street should be opened to new lines on the same basis and under the same terms as other streets have been opened up to existing lines—no more, no less.

It is time that the people of Atlanta should begin to think about these things in connection with the choice of the next council.

THE CONSTITUTION OPENS THE WINDOWS OF THE ORIENT FOR ITS READERS.

Recognizing the fact that the events, both of war and of peace, by which the past three years have been marked, have conspired to create for the south her first great commercial opportunity, The Constitution has taken steps to make plain the development of this fact and its application to our section.

In pursuance of this purpose, as will be found narrated elsewhere, we have detailed Mr. Josiah K. Ohl, the Washington correspondent for The Constitution, to make a trip around the globe, to China, Japan and the Philippine islands, visiting all the points at interest and collating all the facts which can shed light upon the situation. To the performance of this work he will bring skilled journalistic ability, supplemented by most favorable introductions through which he can make a success of his project.

The reasons leading to the conclusion which we have indicated and to the carrying out of the work thus detailed are not hard to find. There has grown up in the south a product the possibilities of which have been unknown to even the wisest of our men of commerce and of state. The cotton plant has become the fabric for the clothing of the world's population, and through the conflict between east and west the world becomes, for the first time, a customer for the product of the loom. Naked Africa has disappeared. Paper-clad China has surrendered to a more luxurious demand. The teeming millions of Asia and of Oceania are now clamoring at the doors of commerce.

A war waged in behalf of the freedom of a neighboring island took on the dimensions of a conflict that shook the world, and the first answer to American arms came, not from the point at issue, but almost circled the globe from an unexpected source, so that the falling of the shackle from the limbs of the Cuban became but the echo of the same work in the Philippines. When the American navy thundered at the gates of Asia and disturbed the sleep of fifty centuries, it meant a revolution in the commercial mastery of the world, and the youngest nation of the earth made its triumphant appearance before the oldest. The awakening of the orient, which had slumbered in its coma-like garb for thousands of years, was quickly followed by an animation which showed that there was life and activity only awaiting a vivifying touch.

It was thus that Providence had placed American power upon the point of vantage when Europe sought to bring the celestial empire to terms. And thus in the world conflict which had been brewing for decades, the nation which had no thought of participation became the leading figure. Out of these two conflicts there arose a result anticipated neither by statesmen nor people. The narrow confines of nationalism had been sundered and the world stood, for the first time in its history, as one. Strangely enough, the nation to be benefited by this awakening of the peoples of the earth was the one last to appear in the world's history, and the product most in demand was that of which the southern states of the union have a monopoly.

Ever since the development of these facts The Constitution has been urgent in inciting the people of the south to a greater interest in their material welfare. We have made it plain that in the crop upon which our agriculturists labor there was indeed the golden fleece. Out of its manufacture the commercial nations of the world had grown rich. A staple growing in our fields, bringing in three hundred million dollars, represented not less than three billion dollars in the form in which the people of the world asked for it. These pleadings have been recognized by our agriculturists, and also by our manufacturers, so that The Constitution has been in receipt of numerous letters similar to the one which we present from President Turner, of the Exposition cotton mills.

These intelligent captains of industry were all anxious to know the extent of the new fields which had been opened to their enterprise. The development found our books to be as unprepared as were our statesmen and public officers. The whole field was new and unexplored. Its richness has been conceded on all sides. Its possibilities are reasonably beyond any comparison which we are at present able to make. The work of investigation, then, became one of startling importance. Great as was the field before Livingstone and Stanley when they entered the gigantic forests of Africa to extract from them their secrets, greater still is the mystery surrounding the trade relations into which we must now enter. Fully understanding all this, The Constitution, as representing that section of the union most deeply interested in cotton culture, has resolved upon the work of exploration, exploitation and final elucidation.

By the decision of the supreme court the condition abroad has been made permanent, a fact which but increases the necessity for a full understanding of the whole condition. In sending Mr. Ohl upon this mission, The Constitution feels that it serves a great purpose of state as well as of commerce. It is only through the trained eye of the journalist, free from the trammels of politics, looking alone to the development of events as they must come, that we can obtain that full and fair discussion necessary in any cause. The Constitution will, therefore, treat the whole eastern question from the standpoint of impartiality and a desire to know the truth. We do this because to the south will belong the great fruitage of the future, which is bound to come from the changed conditions.

In the revolution of commercial handling and of shipping, in the universal opening of hitherto closed ports, it will become necessary for the young men of the south to take the places which have been opened to them by Providence and to become leaders in the world's affairs.

We feel sure that in this work we will have the sympathy and the intelligent co-operation of all of our people, who will appreciate this effort to bring east and west together and to let them feast upon the cotton fields and the product of the cotton mills of the south.

The result of Mr. Ohl's investigations will be published in a series of letters in The Constitution, covering a period of several months. These letters will begin to appear just as soon as Mr. Ohl reaches the field of his operations and gets them back to The Constitution. They will interest every business man and every household in the south. The trip involves the expenditure by The Constitution of more money than was ever paid before by a southern newspaper for a special assignment, but The Constitution's readers want the situation in the Orient, and that is what Mr. Ohl is going to get for them.

Sustain the Police.

The board of police commissioners should not hesitate one moment in the war it has inaugurated against idlers and vagrants.

It was to be expected when these raids were inaugurated that there would be interested individuals who placed their peculiar business above law and order. In the case which has been brought before the police commission the men arrested have been found guilty and sentenced. It does not appear that any wrong has been done. The keeper of a pool room finds his business interfered with because loafers and idlers who prowl upon the city are not permitted to congregate for the purpose of spending the proceeds of their calling.

The city of Atlanta does not exist for the purpose of maintaining a pool room, either one or many; but it does exist for the purpose of protecting the people against the idle and the criminal. Whenever a dozen idle negroes are found congregated in a single place it is proof positive of their vagrancy. They have not the money to present a leisure class, and if they were engaged in earning a livelihood they would have no time to spend in a pool room.

The law against vagrants cannot be too rigidly enforced. The city must be rid of them. Those who labor and do their duty must have full protection against the class of people who congregate around public places and make life unpleasant for others.

A Significant Action.

The action taken yesterday by the Atlanta machinists, who recently went out of the employ of the Southern railway for reasons which, in their opinion, justified their action, is a hopeful indication that the unfortunate differences which have existed between the company and its machinists will soon be harmoniously adjusted.

The resolutions unanimously adopted by the Atlanta lodge yesterday were introduced by Mr. William Robinson, who is one of Atlanta's most conservative laboring men. They are particularly significant in that Mr. Robinson was one of the general committee by the action of which the strike was precipitated. Under the resolutions offered by him yesterday, and unanimously adopted, each of the other shop towns of the system are asked to appoint a new representative to form a general committee, which will [illegible] take up, de[illegible] with [illegible] ent of the Southern the existing differences. This general committee will consist entirely of former employees of the road, and it goes without saying that the Southern management will accord to it the respectful hearing to which it is entitled.

The strike, which has existed for several weeks, is to be deplored from every standpoint. Many native born southerners and others who, from long residence in the south, have become closely identified as good citizens have been thrown out of employment. Many of the positions vacated have been filled, but should the company and the men who recently left its employ arrive at a satisfactory agreement there is no reason why all those who are ready to return to their jobs should not be given an opportunity to do so.

The Constitution congratulates the Atlanta machinists upon their action, which we hope will be followed by each of the other cities interested. We believe that the new general committee, to be formed on the line of the suggestion of the Atlanta machinists, will be accorded a ready hearing, and we are confident that when the company and its former employees take up the points at issue they will reach an understanding which will be satisfactory to all concerned. Such a result would be immensely gratifying to the people of the whole south.

Hard on the Germans.

It is a little hard on the people of Germany to be compelled to maintain a show of respect for monarchy when the kaiser indulges in his freakish displays of language.

The remarks attributed to Wilhelm upon the adoption of his son into the army make very strange reading for the beginning of the twentieth century, and especially for a people with such common sense attributes as those of Germany. "The noblest task is the defense of the fatherland," said the kaiser, in which expression he would be indorsed. But when he goes on to say that "the noblest weapon is the sword," he is speaking from the standpoint of the middle ages, when the armed man considered himself under no obligation to others. "The finest thing I can imagine," he resumed, "is the earnest officer inflexible as iron in everything, which constitutes the chivalry of an office holder; hard toward himself, upholding with rigid self-discipline the traditions of his house and regiment; indifferent to the opinion of others, and with one goal before his eyes; responsible only to his God and his father, so may my son follow his path in life."

If it was the desire of the kaiser to destroy belief in monarchy and to bring about the reign of the common people, he could not proceed about it with more effect. The blasphemous twinship which he would form between king and God and the utter disregard which he inculcates as to decent public opinion simply shows that he has become a victim of his own vanity, such as must be recognized by the humblest citizen.

A Claimant at Last.

It was hardly to be expected that Secretary Long's declaration that the authorship of the order to Dewey was unknown should remain unanswered. When there is such a plethora of fame seekers, some one may be relied upon to come to the front.

The statement made by Secretary Long is not new, since it is but a repetition of what he said at the peace banquet in Atlanta two years ago. It was to the effect that in the rush for honors no one had laid claim to the writing of the dispatch to Admiral Dewey. The secretary stated that he had made full inquiry and had not been able to trace the authorship of the celebrated dispatch. Happening to be in Boston a few days ago, the secretary repeated this statement, and, as is the custom of Boston newspapers to regard nothing as new until it has first been told there, they began to conduct a very orderly discussion over it.

But the claimant has made himself known. Rear Admiral A. S. Crowninshield now remembers that he is the man. When any little stray honor is floating about, some member of the late lamented board of strategy may be depended upon to put in a claim. This board did not get full possession of itself until a few days before the battle of Santiago, when it resolved that the credit for the coming fight should be given to Sampson whether he was in it or no. It is fortunate for Admiral Dewey that the board had not intrenched itself at an earlier date, for had it anticipated the battle of Manila full credit would have been claimed for some one of its members, and Admiral Dewey would still be a very commonplace commodore.

When the kaiser told his son that his sole duty was to his God and his father, he came very near to Captain Coghlan's parody of "Me und Gott."

President What-His-Name of France will have to do something to bring himself before the public. He might engage as an opera singer.

When a Pullman conductor can become a white house doorkeeper, it cannot be said that the age of opportunity has passed away.

The developer in the Philippines cannot resist the temptation to turn a nimble penny whenever the chance presents itself.

The lectures on business integrity now being read to Spain and Cuba by the bondholders are full of pathos.

"My country right or wrong" will have to give way to "my country for what there is in it."

Mr. Hanna is on a business trip to New York. He has his private memorandum book with him.

The fresh air fund has afforded The New York Tribune an opportunity to spread its sails.

The people of Illinois owe it to themselves to give the negro a fair chance to earn a living.

When Rosebery called upon the king, they doubtless discussed the last Derby winner.

Mr. Kilbourne has an excellent opportunity to forge a presidential reputation.

Edward VII will have a dull time as long as he has Salisbury on his hands.

Ironton is not entitled to a first page display in The Commercial-Tribune.

Tough World.

Philadelphia Telegraph: "I tell you," said the curbstone moralist, "this is a tough world."

"That's so," the busy man took time to reply, "and very few of us will get out of it alive."

INSURANCE NOTES.

John J. Siebles, of Columbia, S. C., special agent for the Glens Falls, the Rochester German and the New Hampshire, is at the Aragon. He is here giving the Atlanta agencies an overhauling and is giving his agents lectures and special instructions as to the risks which the companies will take in the future. In accordance with the action of nearly all companies they are drawing the lines closer and are declining business which they were formerly glad to get.

Charles W. Hilliard leaves the city today for Pensacola. He will cover the state of Florida on this trip.

A meeting of the Georgia Association of Life Underwriters will in all probability be held in Atlanta some time during the present month. This association is composed of general agents and managers and numbers among its membership the representatives of nearly every prominent company which does business in the state. At present the officers of the association are: President, W. Woods White, and secretary, J. R. Nutting. Secretary Nutting has not decided on the exact day for which he will call the meeting, but it is certain that it will be held before a great time. At the meeting delegates to the National Association of Life Underwriters, which meets in September at Portland, Me., will be selected and the election of officers for the current year will take place. The association is both business and social in its nature and has been found of great benefit to its members in correcting the more pernicious evils which seem necessary attendants to the life insurance business. A number of prominent Atlanta life men are showing an increased interest in the association and an effort will be made to put it on a more active basis. The approaching election is also a matter of interest and forecasts are being made as to who will be elected officers.

B. T. Palmour, of Gainesville, special representative for the Mutual Life of New York, is in the city.

Credit insurance is being generally discussed and adopted by Atlanta wholesale merchants. This is a new departure in insurance in the south and may become a very popular line.

L. D. Drewry, state agent for the Mutual Benefit, having charge of Ohio, Tennessee and Alabama, was in the city yesterday and had the temerity to go up against Clarence Angier on the golf links. As the result he will have a crushing defeat to remember as a reminder of his visit.

The Oglethorpe hotel of Brunswick, which was greatly damaged by fire, was heavily insured. The amounts with the various companies are reported as follows: Philadelphia Underwriters, $10,000; Liverpool and London and Globe, $10,000; New York Underwriters' Agency, $5,000; Sun, $5,000, and Agricultural, $5,000. The fire was caused by lightning and the loss is estimated at about 40 per cent.

The Prudential has closed with James J. Turner, who will be general agent with headquarters at Raleigh and John R. Lindsay, who will be general agent with headquarters at Charlotte.

The taxes paid to Comptroller General Wright by the insurance companies amount, according to his report, to $66,241.99. This includes the taxes of all companies which do business in the state with the exception of three life companies which have not been heard from yet. This amount is divided as follows: Life insurance companies, $32,367.78; fire insurance companies, $28,106.26; assessment life insurance companies, $2,920; miscellaneous companies, $2,846.88. The taxes show an increase over those of last year of $8,000, or about 12 per cent. As the taxes are 1 per cent of the premiums paid during the current year, they show the latter to be nearly $6,625,000.

There seems to be no foundation for the statement published in an afternoon paper that the Magdeburg had quit the south. The representatives of the company in this city have heard of no such action and say that there is no more reason to believe that the Magdeburg will leave than there is that any other company will.

James O. Wynn, southern manager for the Prudential, is at Asheville with his family.

Reports from the big fire at Clarksville, Tex., are quite incomplete, but it is known that the total losses were in block 16, while the damages were on houses across the street, located in blocks 14 and 15.

The Southern Detective Agency of Birmingham seems to be quite active in the effort to get business from Atlanta insurance people. Their hangers are seen in nearly all the important offices.

Tuesday is the lightest day of the week with insurance people. There is no northern mail and the amount of business received from agencies is small, consequently the day gives office forces an opportunity to catch up with routine work and prepare for the heavy business which always comes with the close of the week.

TALKS ABOUT ATLANTA.

Macon, Ga., News: Atlanta owners are not satisfied and are anxious for other contests with Macon horses. It will afford the Macon sportsmen great pleasure to repeat the dose.

Dawson, Ga., News: Four policemen have been killed in Atlanta in the last three years, and not a single one of the murderers has been brought to justice. Inability to catch big criminals seems to be the long suit of Atlanta officers.

Savannah, Ga., Morning News: It would be a good thing if the quarterly of the Georgia School of Technology, just published, could be placed in the hands of every father of young sons who can afford to give them a practical education, in Georgia. The pamphlet, of 118 pages, is well worthy the perusal of every Georgian who has the good of his state at heart and would like to see it prosperous. It shows that the "Tech" at Atlanta has grown from a modest beginning into a considerable institution, which promises great things for Georgia boys. It will turn them out competent, skilled workmen, able to take charge of and manage the industrial enterprises which are destined to cut so large a figure in the future of the state. The text and the illustrations of the pamphlet give an excellent idea of the thoroughness of the training received by the young men at the school, which is of high standard. A statement of costs is also submitted, showing that the necessary expenses at the school are moderate. The "Tech" at Atlanta is doing a great work for the state. We hope to see a duplication of it in South Georgia at no very distant day.

A Comman Law Divorce.

New York Sun: Carl Edward Alfred Friberg, a Swedish-American newspaper man of 304 Washington street, Brooklyn, inserted this notice yesterday in a newspaper in that borough:

FRIBERG—My common law marriage with Emilie (Amelia) Josephine Ljungdahl is declared annulled, separation having taken place May, this year, by mutual consent.—Brooklyn, July 1, 1901. Carl Edward Alfred Friberg, 304 Washington street.

Friberg said: "We were married in Worcester, Mass., by mutual consent and have lived together continuously since. The reason no formal ceremony was held was that Emilie and I were not of the same religious belief. The separation is mutually consented to. We have no children."

OVATION TO WASHINGTON

Christian Endeavor Convention Enthused by Negro Educator.

APPEALS FOR HIS PEOPLE

Asks That Negroes Be Judged by Best Among Them and Not by Worst.

Cincinnati, July 9.—The fourth day of the convention of the Christian Endeavor Society was a light one, as far as the programme was concerned, but the Endeavorers in their determination to miss nothing were out en masse in attendance at the two big meetings today. It was another beautiful day, somewhat hotter than yesterday, but not oppressively so, and fans were again in evidence at the meetings, and assiduously used. The three big music hall rallies were concentrated into two meetings, which were held in Auditoriums Endeavor and Williston.

Auditoriums Endeavor and Williston are amply sufficient to accommodate the Endeavorers, and besides a number of the speakers have failed to put in an appearance. Five of the prominent ones are absent from illness. Those not present are: Rev. Wilbur Chapman, Rev. George D. Purves and Rev. Charles C. Hall, of New York; Rev. John Henry Barrows, of Oberlin, O., and Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago.

Twentieth Century Church.

After the usual two quiet hour meetings in the morning, the big auditoriums were thrown open for a discussion of "the twentieth century church."

Rev. Canon J. B. Richardson, of London, Ontario, presided at Auditorium Endeavor.

Marion Lawrence, of Toledo, delivered an address on "The Power of the Sunday School."

Rev. Howard W. Pope, of New Haven, Conn., spoke at length on "The Power of Personal Work."

Rev. A. J. Lyman, of Brooklyn, spoke on "The Power of the Bible." He said the Bible is the book of incarnation, the God in literature, and its power is the power of that life reproduced in other lives.

Professor Amos R. Wells, of Boston, spoke on "The Power of Christian Endeavor."

William Phillips Hall, of New York, followed with a paper on "The Power of Evangelism."

Booker Washington Speaks.

The chief address, however, was that of Booker T. Washington, of the colored normal school at Tuskegee, Ala. He took as his subject "The Power of a Noble Life." As he advanced to the front of the stage to speak he was the recipient of a tremendous ovation, and he had not proceeded far in his address, which he cleverly punctuated with dialect and other stories of the colored folk, until he had won a warm spot in the hearts of his hearers. He traced his own career from that of a slave through the bitter struggles he had to attain what he is, and what he has done for his race.

"I do not believe that in all the history of the country," he said, "has there been such a need for strong, unselfish, pure and intelligent men who are willing to sacrifice ambition, position, fortune and comfort for the welfare of their fellow men. The noblest of lives and the one thing worth living for is the opportunity to make some individual more happy, more useful."

He made an impassioned appeal for his people and asked that they be judged by the best among them and not the lowest.

Hate Is Dying Out.

He said the privilege of teaching and lightening a fellow human being's burden is the highest privilege given to any man, and that he long ago learned that to cherish hatred even against the white man in the south was unChristian, and that he was glad to note that this spirit is rapidly gaining a foothold among his people.

In Auditorium Williston, where Rev. Allan B. Philputt, of Indianapolis, presided, a number of addresses limited to five minutes each were made by the following preachers:

J. H. Prugh, Pittsburg; J. S. Henderson, Hensall, Ont.; I. A. Barnes, Morgantown, W. Va.; Henry W. Sherwood, Kingston, N. Y.; Charles M. Sheldon, of Topeka. They spoke on "Sunday Evening Service."

Rev. Johnson Myers, of Chicago, told of "The Church of the Twentieth Century." He said that the spirit of the church today is weaker than the spirit of the first church; that while larger in numbers, in proportion it is less effective, and that the present church with the present spirit will never conquer this world for Christ, but the signs are clear that a change is rapidly coming.

Rev. Wayland Hoyt, of Philadelphia, followed in a talk on "Christian Conventions," which he said are of great use to the church.

Miss Margaret Koch, of Waterville, Me., conducted a personal equipment conference at the Ninth Street Baptist church, taking as her topic "The Relation of Expression to Power in Christian Endeavor Work." There was a large attendance of Endeavorers who sought advice as to the best means of extending their work.

Banquet to President Clark.

The members of the board of trustees and other officers of the united society gave a banquet to President Clark at the Grand hotel at noon. He was presented with a beautiful silver loving cup in commemoration of the twentieth anniversary of the Christian Endeavor. In the afternoon Dr. Clark attended the Congregational rally at the Walnut Hills Congregational church, where the Hon Samuel B. Capen, of Boston, presented him with an immense memorial, signed by over 200 of the leading educators, editors, clergy and business men in the United States as an expression of thankfulness and appreciation for the work that Dr. Clark has done in organizing and guiding the Christian Endeavorers. Dr. Clark is a Congregationalist, and the first Endeavor society was organized by him in his church at Portland, Me.

The annual junior rally, held in Auditorium Endeavor, was addressed by Secretary Baer, who spoke on "Six P (eas) in a Pod." He said when applied to ethics they stand for politeness, patriotism, punctuality, practicability, perseverance and prayerfulness. Then followed numerous exercises by the Junior Endeavorers of the local churches and the children of several orphan asylums. The children, dressed in white, filled the immense stage and made a very pretty picture as they filed across the length of the footlights to sing and go through their various evolutions.

The older Endeavorers spent the afternoon in their respective denominational conferences, of which there were twenty-six and which were held in the various churches about the city.

This evening was devoted to receptions and rallies at the various state headquarters.

Tomorrow is the closing day of the convention.

The Goverment and Its Scientists.

Philadelphia Ledger: Two important government positions at Washington are going begging because there are no applicants for them. The reason is simple: they can be filled only by men of technical skill and scientific training, and the salaries attached to them are $1,200 and $1,400 a year, respectively. The politicians who fixed these low salaries for high-class work knew that the incumbents would be worthless for political maneuvering and hence did not care to "waste" much money on them. It is a rule that holds good all through the scientific side of government work.

EDUCATORS WAXED WROTH

Report Against National University Caused Angry Debate.

CALLED IT CONTEMPTIBLE

Despite Report, National Association Goes on Record for University at Washington.

Detroit, Mich., July 9.—The bright gowns and hats of the ladies gave the large auditorium of the Light Guard armory the appearance of a huge animated flower garden this afternoon and evening at the first sessions of the National Educational Association. Each of the two thousand chairs on the first floor had an occupant tonight when addresses were read by President Green and Bishop Spalding.

"The Duty of the National Educational Association in Shaping Public Educational Policy" was the title of President Green's address. A storm of applause followed the close of the president's address.

Bishop John L. Spalding, of Peoria, Ill., was given an enthusiastic welcome when he arose to begin his address on "Progress in Education," which was renewed when he closed.

A meeting of the board of directors was held in the Temple Bethel today, at which Treasurer Greenlee submitted his annual report. It showed total receipts for the year of $16,559, and expenditures of $16,283. The board of trustees reported the permanent fund of the association as $84,100, invested in interest-bearing bonds. The application of the American Religious Educational Society to affiliate with the National Educational Association in their work of research was laid over for one year. A committee of twenty was appointed to investigate the matter of an educational exhibit for the Louisiana purchase exposition to be held at St. Louis. A resolution to appropriate funds for a committee of twelve to investigate the consolidation of rural schools was referred to the national council of education, as is the custom.

Against National University.

The report of the committee on a national university was submitted by William R. Harper, of Chicago university. The report said:

"The committee has been advised of a plan for a non-governmental institution at Washington which may be able to supply all that is desired. This plan is the outcome of action taken by the Washington Academy of Sciences and by the George Washington Memorial Association.

"Both organizations have agreed to cooperate to found an institution in the city of Washington as a memorial to George Washington, which shall be maintained to promote the advanced study of the sciences and the liberal arts.

"Concerning the proposed institutions it is assumed:

"1. That it will be independent of government support or control, as it will also be independent of the support or control of existing institutions.

"2. That its objects will be: (a) To facilitate the use of scientific and other resources of the government for research. (b) To co-operate with universities, colleges and individuals in securing to properly qualified persons opportunities for advanced study and research now obtainable only to a limited extent in Washington and not at all elsewhere.

"3. That its oversight and control will be in the hands of trustees and officers representing the educational experience and ideals of the existing institutions for higher education."

The report resulted in a hot two hours' debate, which ended by the adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the report of the committee be received and the committee discharged, and that while we express our appreciation of their labors, we are not prepared to abandon the position taken by the National Educational Association in favor of a national university."

This was adopted by 22 to 4.

Like Prearranged Harmony.

President Baker, of the University of Colorado, was the first speaker on the committee's report. He could not understand the process by which the committee arrived at its decision, and said: "It looks very much like prearranged harmony."

Continuing, he said:

"If we had a national university, one that was compelled to keep in touch with the people of the country and their thought, it would in a century cure all the evils that threaten the land at present."

He said that the presidents of eighteen state universities had written him letters favoring the national university, and read letters from General Miles, Ambassador White, ex-Senator Edmunds and John A. Kasson, declaring for its establishment. After calling the report "a contemptible thing," he said:

"This council should affirm its belief in a national university and should advise the National Educational Association to appropriate money for the best committee that can be appointed to work for its establishment."

President Harper took the platform in the defense of the committee, and said:

"The character of the members should relieve them from aspersions like those preceding."

He denied that there was any prearranged harmony.

Considerable more debate of an acrimonious nature followed.

Papers on "The Lessons of the Educational Exhibits at the Paris Exposition" were read by Miss Anna Tolman Smith, of Washington, D. C., and Howard J. Rogers, of Albany, N. Y.

Kate Chase's Great Ambition.

Ladies' Home Journal: The story of "The Dashing Kate Chase and Her Great Ambition" is told by William Perrine. Born in 1840, she early began to exhibit a masterful spirit to study politics, and to dream of the possibilities in store for her when her father, Salmon P. Chase, was proposed as a candidate for the presidency in 1856 and again in 1860. When he was called to a cabinet position he had been married three times, and it was whispered that he was about to make a certain lady his fourth wife. But the resolute Kate had made up her mind that no one should step in between her and her father, and one day when the lady called she was made so keenly to feel that she was an intruder that the budding romance was blighted, and Chase remained a widower.

Even after Kate's brilliant marriage to Senator William Sprague, of Rhode Island, she still cherished the ambition to see her father installed in the white house, and was most gracious to those who were likely to be influential in helping her to advance his interests. When he was appointed chief justice she saw in it only a scheme to head off his presidential aspirations forever, and said, half loosely, half reproachfully, to Senator Sumner, who had voted for his appointment: "And you, too, Mr. Charles Sumner, in this business of shelving papa! But never mind, I will defeat you all!"

In 1868 she nearly succeeded in getting the democratic national convention to carry out her wishes. It was in session in Tammany hall, New York city, and she kept in communication with it by messengers, waiting anxiously for the moment when it was believed her father would carry all by storm. On the fourth day the moment seemed to have arrived, and her heart leaped with joy. But the expected stampede did not come, and the impatient daughter was almost moved to go herself to Tammany hall. Indeed, there was afterwards some politicians who observed that if she could have gone among the delegates on the floor she might have been able at the crucial point to have swung the convention to the chief justice. Instead Horatio Seymour was nominated; and Kate Sprague that night was the most unhappy woman in the land.

MACHINISTS TAKE IMPORTANT STEP

New General Committee To Be Named To Confer with the Southern.

EFFORT TO BE MADE FOR HARMONIOUS SETTLEMENT

Atlanta Lodge Takes Action and Names a New General Committeeman—All Other Lodges Are Communicated With.

An important step looking to harmonizing the differences which exist between the Southern railway on the one hand and the striking machinists on the other was taken yesterday at a meeting of Atlanta Lodge, No. 1, I. A. of M., held af Federation hall.

By unanimous action resolutions were passed by the machinists calling on the other lodges interested to appoint one representative each for the purpose of conferring with the Southern railway management, with a view to harmonizing the differences now existing.

The resolutions provide for an entirely new general committee, not because of any dissatisfaction with the present committee, but because it is believed a new committee will be better able, perhaps, to bring about some agreement by which the company and its employees may reconcile their differences in a spirit of fairness and mutual concession.

Atlanta lodge, in accordance with these resolutions, named John H. Wilson as its representative upon the new committee, and makes the request that the general committee thus to be selected make some agreement with reference to a conference with the management of the Southern railway.

It is of special interest and significance that these resolutions looking to the end stated, were introduced in the meeting of machinists by William Robinson, the present member from Atlanta of the general committee of ten, which aided in precipitating the strike, and by which the affairs of the strikers have been directed since they went out several weeks ago.

Conference Will Be Asked For.

The other lodges of machinists interested have all been communicated with on the subject and notified of the action of the Atlanta lodge. Answers are expected from them promptly, and the belief is expressed that they will acquiesce in the plan to name a new general committee for the purpose stated.

When the new committee is named a conference will be asked for with the management of the Southern in the effort, as the resolutions indicate, to reach some mutual understanding. The machinists believe that if both sides are willing to make concessions for the sake of harmony, there will be no difficulty in reaching a satisfactory agreement, and that is the line they propose to follow.

The new committee, it is stated, will be composed entirely of employees of the Southern, who are, of course, best calculated to understand the situation in all its phases; and the machinists believe that the Southern management will unquestionably meet such a committee in a spirit of fairness and mutual concession.

The Resolutions Adopted.

Following are the resolutions in full introduced by William Robinson and unanimously adopted at a regular meeting of Atlanta lodge, No. 1, I. A. of M., held yesterday:

Resolved by the members of the Atlanta lodge, No. 1, I. A. of M., who recently left the service of the Southern Railway Company, for reasons which, in their opinion, justified their actions, that the other lodges interested be requested to appoint one representative each to confer with the management of the Southern railway relative to harmonizing the differences now existing.

Resolved further, That this committee consist of employees not now serving on the general committee, this suggestion being made not with the view of discrediting the present committee, whose services are fully appreciated, but with the hope that a new committee may be able to effect some practical understanding or agreement by which the company and its employees may reconcile their differences in a spirit of fairness, manhood and mutual concession in the interest of both sides of the controversy.

Resolved further, That in conformity with this suggestion this lodge names John H. Wilson to represent it on said general committee, which general committee is requested to assemble at such time and place as may be agreed upon by conference with the management of the Southern Railway Company.

These resolutions state the position of the Atlanta machinists clearly and fully. It is an important step in the direction of harmony, and the next move will be awaited with expectation and interest.

Orders To Leave France.

Rome, July 9.—The vatican has received official information that in consequence of the enactment by the French parliament of the law of associations bill, many congregations in France will transfer their headquarters to Brussels, or other Belgian cities, and that many millions of francs have already been withdrawn from the Bank of France.

MANY DAIRYMEN PAY HEAVY FINES

Sanitary Department Making It Warm for Sellers of Impure Milk.

DAIRYMEN ARE PROTESTING

They Allege That the Analysis Does Not Give Fair Test.

HEALTH OFFICERS SAY POOR MILK IS SOLD

Cases Are Made Nearly Every Day. Two Heavy Fines Were Imposed Yesterday by Recorder.

The sanitary department is making it warm for the dairymen who sell milk in the city. Nearly every day cases are made by Inspector King against dairymen whose milk does not come up to the standard required by city ordinance.

The inspector secures samples of milk from wagons or at stores, when it is least expected, and the samples are turned over to Chemist Loyd for analysis. If the analysis shows that there is not enough cream in the milk and too much water, a case is made against the person selling the impure milk.

Under the milk ordinance the minimum fine that can be imposed by the recorder is $10.75.

Cases were made yesterday against Keller & Scott, of Decatur, and S. L. Phillips. The inspector introduced the reports from the chemist showing that samples of milk taken from wagons run by the defendants contained too little fat and too much water.

There have been so many arrests and such heavy fines that the milk dealers are up in arms against the analysis of the milk. They do not say that the chemist has not done his work fairly and correctly, but they hold that milk is subject to such quick changes from atmospheric conditions that a sample carried in a closed bottle by the inspector for several hours and then analyzed by the chemist after it has been kept for probably a day does not give a correct test.

On the other hand, the inspector and chemist say that a correct test is made and that the milk being in a bottle a few hours cannot possibly change the amount of fat.

Chief Hope, of the sanitary department, is making a personal supervision of the milk inspection and looks after the cases in the recorder's court. It is claimed by the department and by the state chemist that there is a great deal of impure milk being sold in Atlanta, and that it must be stopped. Skimmed milk, they say, is often sold for milk that has not been skimmed.

"Milk," they say, "is sold to sick people and infants, and to have it impure may mean the death of invalids and infants."

The recorder yesterday fined Keller & Scott $25.75 and S. L. Phillips $15.75. The former gave notice of an appeal.

In all such cases the defendants state that they do not adulterate their milk and that it would be against their own interests to do so. Ottimes it is admitted that the cans are not locked and in many instances the milk is watered by outside parties.

COLORED METHODISTS MEET.

Atlanta Conference of A. M. E. Church Is Conducting Bible Meeting at Shiloh Church.

The Atlanta annual conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church began the first session of its Bible meeting in Shiloh church on Thurmond street at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Bishop H. M. Turner, seeing the need of special training for the ministers of his denomination, called a Bible session in July for each of his five conferences in Georgia. The North Georgia conference held a profitable session last week in Marietta and others will follow till the series is completed.

Yesterday morning the bishop was called away by a telegram and Rev. M. M. Ponton, of Morris Brown college, conducted the meeting. Rev. C. L. Bradwell, of Atlanta, made the opening prayer and the following officers were elected: Secretary, Rev. L. A. Townsley, of Covington; assistant secretary, Rev. W. B. Lawrence, of Woolsey, Ga.

Each minister was called upon and recited a portion of the scripture from memory. Then followed an outline study of the book of Genesis which was divided into two sections, the first including eleven chapters to the flood, and the second running to the end of the book.

Many knotty problems were advanced by the different speakers, who were overwhelmed by numerous questions from the ministers, who seemed to have come prepared to make the most of their opportunity.

At the afternoon session Rev. E. K. Nichols read a paper on the ancestors of Israel and a fine address was delivered by Rev. R. L. Pope on divine inspiration.

Last night an interesting sermon was delivered by Rev. G. B. Wilson, of St. James church, Atlanta.

Today at 11 a. m. Rev. J. S. Flipper will lead the discussion on the book of Philippians, and tonight the sermon will be delivered by Rev. L. A. Townsley, of Covington.

The conference will adjourn some time on Thursday.

MADLY RUSHING TO HUNT HOMES

Thousands Are Pouring Into Oklahoma To Register.

WOMEN IN THE SCRAMBLE

Hundreds of Tents Dot Suburbs of El Reno—Every Road Lined with Prairie Schooners. Government Will Oust the "Sooners."

El Reno, O. T., July 9.—Every train brings extra coaches crowded with people coming here to register, and roads leading into the city are lined with travelers to this place for the same purpose. The hotels and restaurants are already taxed to their utmost capacity, but there will be no suffering here for lack of food and accommodations. The opera house has already been turned into an eating and sleeping house, and as rapidly as needed churches, school houses and every available room will be given up for the accommodation of the crowd. Many come with blankets, expecting to camp out, and hundreds of tents now dot the side streets to be used for that purpose.

Governor Richards, of the interior department, and thirty clerks from Washington arrived today and six places for registering will be ready for business at 9 a. m. tomorrow. A line of men has already formed at each of these places. Governor Richards says the work of registering will proceed rapidly and as many more booths will be opened as may be deemed necessary as the work progresses. Twelve thousand pounds of blanks arrived this morning by mail from Washington. The report that the registering would be enjoined by certain Indians of the Kiowa and Comanche tribes, through their attorneys, is ridiculed here, and if proceedings are instituted it is believed that they will result as did Lone Wolf's suit in Washington.

The failure of the president's proclamation to permit registration at all land offices in Oklahoma has provoked much complaint, and acting upon the request of Oklahoma City, Perry, Guthrie and other land office towns, Delegate Flynn has appealed by telegraph to the interior department at Washington asking that all land offices be given authority to accept registration. His request will be supplemented by telegrams from citizens in the different towns. As the matter stands now El Reno will be practically the only land office where home-seekers will assemble, as Lawton, the other town named, is twenty-five miles from a railroad.

Women in the Rush.

Oklahoma City, O. T., July 9.—Nearly 1,000 people left this city tonight to go to El Reno to register. Only one train left here this afternoon for that place, and the coaches were crowded to their utmost capacity. Several hundred people waited at the station until the train came in, when a wild scramble ensued for the seats. Women as well as men were boosted through the windows of the coaches, which were filled almost as soon as the train had stopped. Others stood on the platform or on top of the coaches. Nearly everyone carried a blanket and provisions. Canteens and jugs were taken along to guard against a water famine.

Prairie Schooners Galore.

Guthrie, O. T., July 9.—Hundreds are arriving here to await a favorable opportunity to go to El Reno and register. Every road is lined with white-topped wagons en route to the promised land. The heat is terrible, but everybody is taking things good-naturedly and hurrying along to register for the drawing of land.

To Oust the "Sooners."

Washington, July 9.—Secretary Hitchcock said today that he anticipated no serious trouble with "sooners" at the opening of the Oklahoma lands on August 6th. He said there might be several thousand people now on the lands, but there was no reason to believe they would not be gotten off easily. If they should make trouble, he said, there would be ample means available to handle them.

LENGTH OF LIFE INCREASING.

Mutual Life Insurance Company Finds Its Position Supported.

New York, July 9.—(Special.)—After eight years of work on the mortality records of 608,000 persons, the actuaries of England and Scotland declare that the average length of human life is increasing. This agrees with the conclusions of the great American companies. The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, by far the largest and strongest institution of the kind in the world, demonstrated some years ago that the average duration of human life has increased notably over what it was in America at the beginning of the nineteenth century. Officers of the Mutual say its records of more than a million lives on which the company has written insurance if analyzed today would undoubtedly show the same result as is set forth by the British investigation. The Mutual Life reports an increasing demand for investment insurance, particularly for its 5 per cent gold bond policies, which, apart from the protection they give a much larger net return than government bonds and are just as safe. Increased expectation of life is believed to be one reason for this popular favor and not alone the lower premium rates and higher guarantees of the Mutual.

PORTO RICO IS PROSPERING

According to Reports Made by British Consular Officers.

London, July 10.—The foreign office issued yesterday a number of consular reports dealing with Porto Rico. W. B. Churchward, British consul at San Juan, says the general trade of the island has improved, although the commercial benefits have gone entirely to the United States, but that the condition of the people is not so satisfactory as has been expected. "The new system of taxation has not been well received by any class," continues Mr. Churchward. "The upper classes dislike it, for they have to pay more than under the Spaniards, and the lower classes because they expected to be free of any import tax."

The British vice consul, reporting from Aguadilla, says:

"Under American rule Porto Rico has entered upon an era of prosperity, the effects of which will soon be apparent. Statistics show that British trade is declining."

MONEY GONE GLIMMERING

Endowment Rank of the Pythians Short Half Million.

CRIMINAL ACTION IS LIKELY

Reported That Former Official Will Lose Membership—Special Assessment Is Probable.

Chicago, July 9.—Behind closed and carefully guarded doors, the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias today met here in special session to consider alleged "injudicious handling of the funds of the endowment rank of the order."

Members of the fraternal organization both in the United States and Canada are said to be intensely interested in the outcome of the investigation, a report of which will be made during the present meeting by President C. F. S. Neal, of the board of control of the endowment rank. It is said $550,000, the entire surplus of the endowment rank, is unavailable for use, except at a great sacrifice.

A special assessment on insured members and an increase in the monthly payments on insurance are said to be probable.

As a result of the report of the officers and six members of the board of control of the endowment rank of the Knights of Pythias, it is said a former president of the board will lose his membership. It is also probable that proceedings on criminal charges will be instituted against three former members of the board of trustees.

The report considered this forenoon was signed by six members of the board of control and by officers of the order. The seventh member of the board, who is absent, is J. A. Hinsey. This report also shows the findings of the insurance departments of Illinois, Kansas and Connecticut.

It is stated that charges of reckless financiering, juggling of accounts and misappropriation of funds were made by the report of the board of control.

On July 1st, it is asserted, the endowment rank found itself with a half million of unpaid death claims and only $135 in the bank with which to pay them, while little more was available from $480,000 of investments, most of the properties reported by them being in the hands of receivers. The Knights of Pythias, however, regard themselves as legally responsible, the endowment rank being a part of the order, its control being vested in the supreme lodge and will devise plans for making good the deficits, paying off the claims and putting the insurance rank on a firm basis, with adequate rates and a good business system.

MRS. SARAH TAYLOR IS DEAD.

She Was Wife of the Former Governor of Kentucky.

Indianapolis, July 9.—Mrs. Sarah Bell Tanner Taylor, wife of William S. Taylor, ex-governor of Kentucky, but for more than a year a resident of Indianapolis, died at 3 o'clock this morning of hemorrhage resulting from heart disease from which she had suffered for many years. She had been ill for a number of weeks, but her death was unexpected.

She was forty years of age and was born at Morgantown, Ky. She came here a year ago last May, following her husband, who came the fall before, during the troubles consequent upon the killing of Governor Goebel.

HANDLE TRUST IS ORGANIZED.

Combine Controls 85 Per Cent of the Output.

Huntington, W. Va., July 9.—The handle factory trust, known as the Turner-Day-Woolworth Company, chartered under the laws of West Virginia and capitalized at $1,000,000, organized here today by electing C. M. Garth, of Louisville, Ky., president and the following board of directors:

J. T. Caldwell and Ben W. Marr, of Huntington, W. Va.; C. M. Garth, John Stiles, C. D. Gates, C. F. Turner, Colonel Boquet, of Louisville, Ky., and E. G. Oates, of Knoxville, Tenn.

This trust controls 85 per cent of the handle production in the United States. The largest factories are located in West Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee.

Dominican Headquarters in America.

Montreal, July 9.—Arrangements are in progress for transferring the administration of the Dominican order in Canada and the United States from France to this continent. An ecclesiastical province will be created in America under the direction of a superior president on this side of the Atlantic.

Filipinos Are Surrendering.

Manila, July 9.—There have been a number of additional surrenders to Colonel Wint. In all 59 officers and 475 men, with 286 rifles and 46 revolvers, have surrendered to him. Of the Ninth cavalry deserters, Dubose and Russell have surrendered and Hunter and Victor were brought in by Deliarmino.

To Extend Railroad.

Philadelphia, July 9.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf Railroad Company held here today by action of the board of directors in deciding to extend the company's line to Amarillo, Tex., was ratified. Two millions of the common stock of the company will be issued to pay for the extension.

Launch Was Not Lost.

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 9.—Considerable alarm was caused here today by an unconfirmed report that the gasoline launch Chispa, with nine people aboard, had been lost at sea. Late this afternoon it was learned the report was unfounded and that the Chispa and her passengers were safe in the harbor of Santa Cruz islands.

Presbyterian Church in Mexico.

Mexico City, July 9.—The Presbyterians in Mexico assembled here have taken definite action and have organized the Presbyterian church in Mexico independent of the same body in the United States.

EXPRESS TRAIN HITS FREIGHT

Two Are Killed Outright and Several Are Injured.

ENGINEER DIED AT POST

Shock to the Passenger Coaches Was Terrific, but No Passenger Was Killed — Complete Somersault Was Turned by the Engine.

Nottingham, O., July 9.—One of the worst wrecks on the Lake Shore road in years occurred at 2:30 o'clock this morning in the center of this village, ten miles east of Cleveland. The Southwestern limited on the Big Four from St. Louis, Cincinnati and other western cities, and which goes into the Lake Shore tracks at Cleveland, was ditched through collision with a portion of a freight train. Just what caused the wreck is not definitely known, but it is thought a part of a freight train that had broken in two had rolled onto the passenger tracks. No passengers were hurt. The dead are:

FRANK ANDERSON, engineer of the passenger train, of Buffalo.

O. G. McCULLEN, of Cincinnati, mail clerk.

The injured:

William Elliott, of Buffalo, fireman of passenger train; probably will die.

W. M. Baker, Columbus, mail clerk; not serious.

E. F. Lovelace, Cincinnati, mail clerk; slight.

Two unknown tramps, badly hurt.

The shock to the passenger coaches was terrific, and, although the occupants were badly shaken up, no passenger was hurt.

When the front end of the engine plowed into the ground of the gully it became disconnected from the coaches that went over the embankment and swirled sideways so that it pointed in the other direction.

The mail car crashed into the tender, surrounding it completely. The engineer met his death by being pinioned under his engine. McCullen, the mail clerk, was crushed between the side of the car and coal tender. He was found with his head forced down between his knees. Two mail clerks when they awoke to their condition were able to extricate themselves from the wreck without assistance. At least one person is believed to be buried under the wreck. Two Nottinghom doctors responded to the call for assistance. The roadbed and the tracks were torn up for quite a distance, the embankment will have to be repaired before the track can be relaid. The Lake Shore track is blocked east, and all trains are being sent over the Nickel Plate. The passengers of the wrecked train were taken to Cleveland over the Nickel Plate, and wrecking trains are at work on the Lake Shore.

LABOR AND ITS TROUBLES.

Reading Strike Is Still On—Charge of Broken Faith.

Reading, Pa., July 9.—The Reading railway shop hands' executive committee met here today, when the strike situation was considered. The committee claims that as the company broke faith with the agreement reached between President Baer and Chairman Beschor, they now stand where they were before that agreement was made, and the contest is again on the original list of grievances. Chairman Beschor said today that the men have decided to stand out for their list of grievances as presented to the company as though the agreement with Mr. Baer had never been made and that the latter will no longer figure in the contest.

It was asserted by a man of some acquaintance with Acting President Welch that the company, having exhausted its efforts at conciliation, will now try to run the shops with new hands. This, it is believed, will lead to trouble, and it is predicted that if the company introduces new men at the shops tomorrow serious disturbance will ensue.

Employers Will Not Yield.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 9.—No attention will be paid to the proposition for a settlement of the machinists' strike made by President James O'Connell, of the machinists, to the National Metal Trades Association, according to President Reynolds, of the latter body.

Newport News Men To Ballot.

Newport News, Va., July 9.—The machinists will ballot at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning on the question whether they shall return to work in a body. It is thought that the ballot will result in the men returning to work. If they are not at work by Thursday morning the shipyard management declares its ability to fill their places.

HIGH TIDES AT GALVESTON.

Moderate Gale Prevailed but No Harm Was Done.

Galveston, Tex., July 9.—A good rain fell here tonight. It was much needed. The wind rose to a moderate gale, the tide was higher than since the September storm. No damage was done.

Many people came in from the beach and spent the night in the city. The streets for a couple of blocks from the beach were inundated.

Papers are telegraphing here for storm reports. There is no ground for sensational reports. The tide at midnight is not as high as at 9 p. m. The street cars have been running up to midnight as usual.

Presidents of Western Lines Will Stop Rate War.

Chicago, July 9.—Presidents of the western lines involved in the rate difficulty have practically reached an agreement and are only waiting for the assent of a few southern lines to put it into effect.

The plan, which has been approved by the chief officials of the lines centering in Chicago, is termed "an equitable diversion of traffic" and will be carried out at all the gateways which have been affected by the alleged secret rate making.

All known opposition to putting the plan into effect was removed when the Great Western became a party to the arrangement, though the votes of some lines centering at St. Louis and Kansas City are necessary before formal announcement can be made.

Wilson Returns from North Carolina

Washington, July 9.—Secretary Wilson has returned from western North Carolina, where he went with a company of scientists engaged in a government employ for the purpose of inspecting the country where it is desired to establish a national park in the Apalachian range of mountains.

Carnegie Has Given $11,219,500.

Waukesha, Wis., July 9.—The American Library Association today heard a number of interesting papers read. The report of bequests showed that Andrew Carnegie has given during the past year $11,219,500 to libraries.

"Know Thy Opportunity"
—Pittacus

Whatever kind of suit you want, it is here today at an unusual price. But perhaps you're not decided that you want anything in the clothing line—you will later on. Get the suit new, wear it off and on, and be ready for Fall. By doing this you save exactly half. Don't come expecting to find sizes intact—there are skips in many of the lines. But the different lots make it up in variety, so that almost any man can be fitted.

We'll be pleased to do as well by your boy—fit him in one of the three styles, vestee, three-piece or double-breasted. There he is—O. K. for school, and the saving's half.

Boys' pants, 3 to 16 years, white figure and check and plain and checked linen—39c a pair.

Boys' Shirt-waists, straw hats, underwear, neckwear, shoes, everything at reduced prices.

In the World of Sports

FROM BOB FITZSIMMONS RUHLIN WON TWO FALLS

New York, July 9.—Gus Ruhlin and Bob Fitzsimmons, in a Graeco-Roman wrestling bout, attracted 2,500 people to Madison Square Garden tonight. Ruhlin was both cleverer and heavier than the Cornishman and won two falls in succession with a quarter of an hour's rest between them. Ruhlin showed that he knew a great deal more about the game than Fitzsimmons and it was the latter's agility that prevented his being thrown more quickly. Ruhlin's weight was announced at 195 pounds and Fitzsimmons was said to weigh only 160.

When they faced each other the spectators cheered as Fitzsimmons, in trying for a hold, swung his right as if he were going to fight. He repeated these tactics a couple of times to the intense amusement of the on-lookers. Fitzsimmons several times compelled Ruhlin to act wholly on the defensive and to seek the mat, but found his man too heavy for him and Ruhlin gained first fall in fourteen minutes thirty-four seconds, and the second in twelve minutes and thirty-five seconds.

AT CHICAGO

ROBERT WADDELL BEATEN FOR THE DREXEL STAKES

Chicago, July 9.—Robert Waddell again met defeat at Washington Park today. He finished second in the Drexel stakes, a three-year-old event at one mile, Jiminez, to whom Robert Waddell was conceding thirteen pounds by the scale, led from start to finish and won going strongly by two lengths. Jiminez is owned by E. J. Kelly and is a gradually improving colt.

Waddell was beaten in the race for the rail in the early part of the contest and had to run on the outside of his field the entire way, but it is doubtful if he would have beaten Jiminez with even luck. Terminus was a contender from the quarter-mile pole to the stretch, but he tired and third was his position at the finish. Of the other four starters, W. J. Deboe was the only one who cut any figure in the race. He was second until half the journey was completed. Although the track was nardly at its best, the record for the Drexel stake was lowered half a second.

In the closing event Cambrian lowered the track record for seven and a half furlongs from 1.33¾ to 1:33 2-5 and won pulling up.

The sensation of the afternoon from a betting standpoint was the success of Captain Gaines in the third race at 40 to 1. St. Wood was a slight favorite for the race. Captain Gaines was not prominent in the early part of the running, but came fast at the finish and won easily.

Weather clear; track fast.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs, purse: Miss Bennett, even, won; Burnie Bunton, 6 to 1, second; Likeness, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:13.

SECOND RACE—One mile, purse: Vulcain, 7 to 10, won; Trinity Bell, 6 to 5, second; Brigade, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 4-5.

THIRD RACE—The Drexel stakes for three-year-olds, $2,000 added, mile: Jiminez, 6 to 1, won; Robert Waddell, 9 to 5, second; Terminus, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:41.

FOURTH RACE—Seven and a half furlongs, purse: Captain Gaines, 40 to 1, won; Nettie Regent, 9 to 2, second; Thurles, 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:34 4-5.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs, for two-year-olds, purse: Sir Oliver, 5 to 1, won; Flora Pomona, 10 to 1, second; South Trimble, 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 2-5.

SIXTH RACE—Seven and a half furlongs, selling, purse: Cambrian, even, won; Scotch Plaid, 9 to 2, second; Sam Lazarus Esq, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:33 2-5.

Entries at Chicago for Today.

Swimming Records Are Broken.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 9.—The National Amateur Athletic Union swimming championships at the park lake at the Pan-American exposition grounds resulted in broken records from 660 yards to one mile. Otto Wahle, of New York, smashed all the intermediate records and going the mile in 28:52¾, against the former record of 29:51 3-5. Schaeffer, of Philadelphia, lowered the 440 yard record from 6:33½ to 6:26.

Hobart Defeats Minor.

Queens Royal, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., July 9.—In the preliminary round of the championship singles of the Canadian tennis championship tournament today Clarence Hobart, of Summit, N. J., beat John Minor, of New Orleans, 6-2, 6-0.

Whitney's Shibboleth Wins.

London, July 9.—William C. Whitney's Shibboleth filly (J. Reiff), won the Bingham plate at the Nottingham July meeting today and Mr. Whitney's Holstein (J. Reiff) won the Bashford plate.

DEKALB'S SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Will Meet in Annual Convention July 18th—Northen and Dowman Will Speak.

The annual convention of the Sunday schools of DeKalb county to be held at Stone Mountain on July 18th will be of unusual interest. In the morning ex-Governor W. J. Northen will address the convention on the "Relation of the Home to the Sunday School," and in the afternoon Dr. C. F. Dowman, president of Emory college, will speak on the relation of the Sunday schools to education. There are fifty-four Sunday schools in the County Association, and this will be the thirty-sixth annual celebration. The public is invited to attend and no doubt a large attendance of Sunday school workers will greet these distinguished speakers.

Mrs. Kernodle Dies in Birmingham.

Mrs. Caroline E. Kernodle, widow of the late George Milton Kernodle, died Wednesday, July 3d, at the residence of her daughter in law, Mrs. Komak. Mrs. Kernodle was born near Atlanta sixty years ago, but for the past ten years has made her home in Birmingham. She was well known in Atlanta, and her many friends here will regret to hear of her death. She is survived by six grandchildren.

BRIGHTON BEACH

GUNFIRE, AN 8 TO 1 SHOT, TAKES THE VENUS STAKES

New York, July 9.—J. E. Madden's Gunfire, with Shaw up, and quoted at 8 to 1, won the Venus stakes at $3,000 at Brighton Beach today. Eight of the best fillies in training, with the exception of Blue Girl, faced the starter. The unbeaten Hatasco was favorite at 11 to 10. Disadvantage was held at 4 to 1 and the others 8 to 1 or better. The start was bad. Spencer made play at once with the favorite and rushed her out four lengths in front in the first quarter, while Lucilene, Disadvantage and Hanover Queen ran head and head behind her. Rounding the far turn Hatasco still showed the way, but she ran wide coming into the stretch and stopped in the home-run under the weight, so that Gunfire and Rossignol, who had been trailing, closed with a rush, and Gunfire won ridden out by three lengths. Rossignol was second, a length before Disadvantage, who beat Hatasco a head for third money.

It was a day of upsets and startling incidents. Not a single favorite won. Turner, who rode Wax Taper, held at 1 to 10, and beaten by Bedeck, was suspended indefinitely pending an investigation.

Weather threatening; track fast.

FIRST RACE—One mile: Princeton Girl, 5 to 1, won; The Amazon, 5 to 2 and 4 to 5, second; May W., 11 to 5, third. Time, 1:40 4-5.

SECOND RACE—Selling, steeplechase, about two miles: Zinzibar, 7 to 1, won; Eophone, 2 to 1 and 7 to 10, second; Orman, 3 to 1, third. Time, 4:46.

THIRD RACE—Seven furlongs, selling: Inshot, 5 to 1, won; Anecdote, 3 to 1 and even, second; Twig, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:27 2-5.

FOURTH RACE—Venus stakes, five furlongs. Gunfire, 8 to 1, won; Rossignol, 12 to 1 and 4 to 1, second; Disadvantage, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:00 4-5.

FIFTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs, selling: Locket, 20 to 1, won; Wild Oats, 10 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Ben Howard, 60 to 1, third. Time, 1:08 1-5.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles: Bedeck, 8 to 1, won; Wax Taper, 1 to 10 and out, second; Ginki, 100 to 1, third. Time, 1:48.

BASEBALL GAMES

NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

Cincinnati 5, New York 4.

Cincinnati, July 9.—Phyle lost control of the ball in the ninth and Cincinnati won out on two bases on balls, Buelow's error and Dobbs's single. Warner became enraged at one of Umpire Behle's decisions in the last inning and when the game was over he threw the ball at the umpire, hitting him in the stomach. New York should not have had a run off of Case, the local amateur. His inability to field his position gave them their four runs. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
New York	0 0 1 0 3 0 0 0 0	4	7	3

Batteries—Case and Bergen; Phyle and Warner.

Philadelphia 6, Chicago 3.

Chicago, July 9.—Two errors, followed by a neat sacrifice, two singles and a triple gave Philadelphia enough runs to win today in one inning. Orth was hit freely, but not safely, fifteen of the locals perishing on flies. Attendance, 1,100. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 0	3	7	4
Philadelphia	1 1 0 0 4 0 0 0	6	10	2

Batteries—Taylor and Kling; Orth and McFarland.

St. Louis 5, Brooklyn 3.

St. Louis, July 9.—Dick Padden's single, which scored Burkett and Murphy, gave St. Louis today's game over Brooklyn after the score had been tied for five innings. Attendance, 4,000. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1 0 1 1 0 0 0 2 x	5	7	2

Batteries—Murphy and Ryan; McJames and Farrell.

Pittsburg 9, Boston 4.

Pittsburg, July 9.—Excellent fielding and A1 pitching by Philippi kept Boston down to four hits. Although Willis's support was ragged and the errors costly, he was hit hard and often. Attendance, 2,900. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	2 1 0 1 0 1 1 3 x	9	13	1
Boston	1 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 0	4	4	4

Batteries—Philippi and Zimmer; Willis and Moran. Time, 2:05. Umpire, Nash.

AMERICAN LEAGUE GAMES.

Baltimore 3. Wshington 1.

Washington, July 9.—Two doubles and an error in the tenth inning today gave Baltimore one of the prettiest games seen here this season. McGraw was benched in the first and Foster in the ninth inning for kicking. Attendance 2,000. Score:

Batteries: Patten and Clark; McGinnity and Robinson. Umpires, Sheridan and Manassau. Time, 1:45.

Detroit 11, Cleveland 1.

Cleveland, O., July 9.—Cleveland could not hit a little bit today, and Detroit managed to hit whenever it was necessary. The result was a narrow escape from a shut out. Attendance 1,700. Score:

Detroit	1 2 0 5 1 0 0 2 0	11	19	0

Batteries: Hart, Weyhing and Wood; Siever and Buelow. Time, 2 hours. Umpire, Haskell.

Chicago 17, Milwaukee 9.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 9.—Garvin pitched a good game for the home team today, but after Chicago had made three hits off him in the sixth and a base on balls, Husting went in to pitch without getting a chance to warm up. Three bases on balls and a wild pitch followed, and before the side retired scored nine runs. Attendance 850. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	0 0 2 0 0 2 0 3 2	9	15	3
Chicago	0 0 3 0 3 9 0 0 2	17	14	1

Batteries: Garvin, Husting and Connor; Griffith and Sullivan. Time, 2 hours. Umpire, Cantillon.

No Game at Boston.

Boston, July 9.—Philadelphia-Boston game postponed—rain.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE GAMES.

Memphis 8, Selma 1.

Memphis, July 9.—Shields was very effective in the box today, while Memphis hit Baker freely, the local team winning the game in easy fashion. The field work of Selma was not up to its usual firm. Score:

		R.	H.	E.

Birmingham 14, Little Rock 0.

Birmingham, Ala., July 9.—Birmingham pounded Blackburn all over the lot this afternoon and took the game from Little Rock. Wilhelm let the visitors down with three hits, and not a man from Arkansas was able to get beyond second base. Score:

		R.	H.	E.

Nashville 9, New Orleans 8.

Nashville, Tenn., July 9.—Nashville batted out a victory over New Orleans today in the seventh inning, the final score standing 9 to 8. A costly error by Stafford in the first allowed Nashville a run, which may have lost the visitors the game. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Nashville	1 3 1 0 0 0 4 0 *	9	12	3
New Orleans	0 0 5 1 0 0 1 0 1	8	12	3

Batteries: Corbett and Fisher; Freeland and Westlake.

Shreveport 9, Chattanooga 8.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 9.—Shreveport batted Bruner today when hits meant runs. The score was tied in the tenth inning. Hulseman sent the ball over left field fence after two were out. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Chattanooga	1 0 0 2 0 0 2 3 0 0	8	11	2
Shreveport	5 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 1	9	15	2

Batteries: Bruner and Roth; McGinnis, Keefe and McGuire.

Virginia-Carolina League.

At Charlotte, N. C.—Charlotte 4; Wilmington 7.

At Raleigh—Tarboro 0; Raleigh 3.

Billy York Quits Umpiring.

Nashville, Tenn., July 9.—Billy York has resigned from the staff of Southern league umpires. Seachrist, a former Southern league pitcher, succeeds him and will officiate here tomorrow.

DAVIDSON MUST STAY HERE.

Judge Lumpkin Requires Him To Remain in the Jurisdiction of Superior Court.

Judge J. H. Lumpkin yesterday issued an order requiring A. R. Davidson to give a bond of $500 to prevent his leaving the jurisdiction of the superior court, and in default of the bond directing that he be placed in jail.

The order was the result of a petition for alimony filed by Mrs. Mattie Davidson, through her attorney, William Schley Howard. Mrs. Davidson seeks temporary and permanent alimony and also reasonable attorney's fees for the prosecution of the alimony suit. It was stated that it was believed Davidson intended to leave the state and a writ of ne exeat was asked.

The order was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Jones and he arrested Davidson yesterday afternoon. He was unable to give the bond at once, and Sheriff Nelms allowed a deputy to accompany him while he endeavored to make the bond.

Funeral of Joseph P. Woodruff.

The funeral services of Joseph P. Woodruff, who died Monday at his residence, 341 Simpson street, were held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Jones Avenue Baptist church, and the interment was at Westview. Masonic rites were performed at the grave.

BITING NEGRO IS WANTED

In a Fight Henry Gasaway Bit Another Negro's Ear Off.

FLESH WAS TORN BY HIS TEETH

He Bit His Antagonist on Face and Neck—County Police Searching for Fugitive.

The county police are searching for Henry Gasaway, a desperate negro, who on Monday night brutally bit another negro in several places, inflicting ugly and painful wounds.

The negroes became involved in a fight and during the melee Gasaway bit one of his antagonist's ears entirely off, tore a piece of his cheek out with his teeth and sunk them several times deeply into the face and back of the neck. He also beat him, it is said. Gasaway, leaving his bloody and lacerated victim, then made his escape and is still at large.

The trouble occurred in the yards of the Atlanta Brick Company, a short distance from Bolton and near the Chattahoochee river. County Policemen Chambers and Dunbar were notified shortly after the fight and they visited the scene. They made a close search for the fugitive but he had a good start of the officers and they failed to locate his whereabouts.

Chief A. Q. Turner yesterday gave his men instructions to be on the lookout for Gasaway. He is determined to land him in jail if possible.

The fight was one of the most desperate brought to the attention of the city or county police in some time and its character renders it very remarkable.

COMMITTEES MEET TODAY.

Joint Session of Ordinance and Police Committees To Be Held This Afternoon.

The joint meeting of the ordinance and police committees of the city council, postponed from Monday afternoon, will be held this afternoon. The board of police commissioners will also meet with the committees.

One of the matters to be considered is the ordinance providing for the re-establishment of the police reserve. The ordinance has attracted a great deal of attention and its disposition will be watched with interest.

Another important ordinance to be considered will be the Grady ordinance to abolish the city boards. The ordinances will probably be reported to the next meeting of the council, either favorably or adversely.

FAIR OFFICIALS WILL MEET.

Finance Committee Will Get Together Today and the Directors Are Called for Tomorrow.

The finance committee of the Interstate Fair Association will meet this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the office of Secretary T. H. Martin, and will discuss, among other things, the question of the amount to be appropriated for amusements and also for decorations. Following the meeting of the finance committee the directors of the association will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and will have a number of important matters up for discussion.

It is expected to do some unusually fine decorating in the fair buildings this year. Especially will this be the case in the coliseum, where the horse show, bench show and other similar features will be had, and also in the agricultural building, which will be decorated in true agricultural style. Wheat and grasses of many kinds will be used, besides a profusion of bunting and flags, all of which will set off the building and the displays to the greatest advantage.

TO DEBATE LABOR QUESTION.

Henry Grady Debating Club Will Discuss Live Subject—Ice Cream Festival.

The Henry Grady Debating Club will enter into a discussion of the labor question at its meeting Friday night.

The subject for debate is, "Resolved, That strikes are detrimental to the best interests of society." E. F. Childress is the leader for the affirmative and E. W. Johnson for the negative. The debate promises to develop an interesting discussion.

The ladies' auxiliary of the club will give an ice cream festival tomorrow evening at 55 Mills street for the benefit of the club. The ladies are using their efforts to render the affair a great success and it is probable a large crowd will attend.

TO HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Odd Fellows Will Meet Sunday Afternoon at 2:30 O'Clock—Speeches Will Be Heard.

The Odd Fellows will hold a memorial service in their hall at the corner of Broad and Alabama streets Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Speeches will be made by Deputy Grandsire John B. Goodwin, Past Grand J. B. Bloodworth, Rev. A. C. Ward and other grand officers, as well as by a representative of each lodge in the city. All members of the order, their wives and daughters and the public generally are cordially invited to be present. The hall will be cool, as a full set of electric fans has just been put in.

Dr. Roy Is Much Better.

Dr. Dunbar Roy was much better yesterday, and his condition continues to improve. It is hoped by his many friends that he will soon be among them again.

Captain Neal Improving.

Captain T. B. Neal still continues to improve and was enjoying a very easy sleep at a late hour last night, after having spent a restful day.

When Your Throat Rattles.

London Answers: A quack doctor stood on his wagon in Chamberley, selling his cure-all. A group of people gathered about him, and he undertook to explain to them the construction of the throat.

"My dear friends," he began, "perhaps you don't know it, but there are two passages in the throat. One is called the esophagus, and the other the esophagi. Now, the solid victuals go down the first, the liquids down the second. Over the top of the passage is a cover, with a hinge down the middle, and when you swallow beefsteak the little door over the esophagus flies open and the little door over the other drops down, and vice versa when you take a drink of coffee."

This description proved too much for a farmer, who, shaking with laughter, called out in a loud voice:

"Gosh! but those doors go flipper-flopper when a fellow eats bread and milk!"

The Leading Hotel.

Visitors to Atlanta should make their homes at The Aragon, which is now under new management. The house is run under the American and European plans and is on the beautiful Peachtree street. If the reputation of a house rests on its patronage.

THE ARAGON IS ALL RIGHT.

OWMEN KNIFED BY CRAZY MAN

Mrs. Bullis Killed and Jessie Kinport Terribly Mutilated.

GIRL VICTIM OF ASSAULT

Denver Police Have Arrested Chris Jenson and He Has Confessed. Believed To Be Guilty of Numerous Assaults on Women.

Denver, Col., July 9.—Mrs. Armenia A. Bullis, sixty-two years old, was murdered last night on a lonely road near the city limits, being stabbed to the heart, and Jessie Kinport, fourteen years of age, was assaulted at her home and terribly mutilated with a knife. Christian Jensen, a farm hand who is in custody, has confessed he murdered Mrs. Bullis. He says she ran against him on the road and believing she had a gun, he stabbed her. He is believed to be crazy. Mrs. Bullis lived on a small farm and was walking home when murdered. Robbery was evidently not the motive for the murder, as the woman's money was not taken.

Jessie Kinport was alone at her home when assaulted. The girl's assailant gained access to the house through a window. He choked her, cut her and otherwise maltreated her.

Mrs. Kinport, upon returning home, found the doors open and in her daughter's room the bed clothes were strewn about and blood spattered over the room. She aroused the neighbors, who about midnight found the girl in a vacant lot near by, unconscious and with numerous cuts on her body.

The authorities were notified, but not before Chris Jensen had been brought to the station by Policeman Lambert, who had arrested him on the outskirts of the city. As Lambert approached Jensen whipped out a knife and shouted to the officer that he would not be taken to jail. Lambert disarmed the man and brought him to the station. On the way he repeatedly spoke of having been compelled to defend himself from a woman, saying that he had cut her up pretty badly. His knife was covered with blood. He is believed to be demented and to be the man who lately has committed numerous assaults on women.

Jensen confessed to the police that he assaulted Jessie Kinport.

It has developed that a young man was at the Kinport home calling on the girl, and remained until after 10 o'clock. Jensen was arrested about 9:45 o'clock in the evening, making it impossible for him to have committed the assault.

A crowd of several hundred gathered outside of the city jail tonight and made threats of lynching Jensen. Tonight he was taken to Colorado Springs.

MILLION YANKEE WATCHES

New York Factory Makes a Great Sale in London.

New York, July 9.—(Special.)—The largest single order for watches on record was cabled from London yesterday to Robert H. Ingersoll & Bro., of this city, manufacturers of the famous Ingersoll dollar watch. The cable was as follows: "London, July 8.—Cleberated the glorious Fourth by closing with Symonds' London stores for 1,000,000 yankee watches; contract mailed.

(Signed) "ROBERT H. INGERSOLL."

CRACK YACHTS IN HARBOR.

Managers of the Independence Are Still Undismayed.

Newport, R. I., July 9.—None of the big racing boats moved out of harbor today. The managers and crew of the Independence are still undismayed by the showing their boat has made thus far, and are as full of hope and courage as ever. It is admitted that she has shown surprising weakness as a light weather boat, but her admirers hope that tomorrow may bring a good club topsail breeze and give her an opportunity to redeem herself.

In discussing yesterday's remarkable performance of the Constitution, Mr. Duncan today said he thought his boat had all the advantage there was of better winds, and he did not believe the Constitution could beat the Columbia by any such margin under ordinary conditions. He is perfectly satisfied with the qualities of the new sloop in light weather, but he is still a bit anxious to see what she will do in a good hard breeze.

When asked if he considered yesterday's race settled the future of the Independence, he said:

"Not by any means. It is impossible to tell what she may do under better conditions."

PREACHER DILLON THRASHED.

Mayor Vigal Did Not Like the Minister's Strictures.

Edinburg, Ill., July 9.—The Rev. T. M. Dillon, a Methodist minister, was caned on the street today by Mayor Vigal, of Edinburg. Dillon had published in The Rochester Item, of which he is editor, an article headed "Czar W. H. Vigal," in which he denounced Vigal, who refused to allow a band stand on the street of Edinburg, as "un-American, ungentlemanly, un-Christian and insane." Today Mr. Dillon visited Edinburg. Mayor Vigal met him, cane in hand, and beat him severely. The mayor was then taken before Justice George and fined $3 and costs.

WHITE TO LEAVE BERLIN

United States Ambassador to Germany Will Resign.

SHOCKED BY HIS SON'S DEATH

Fact of Suicide Has Thus Far Been Withheld from the Ambassador.

Berlin, July 9.—Although United States Ambassador Andrew D. White quite recently denied to the correspondent of the Associated Press here that he intends to resign, the correspondent now learns from a close friend of Mr. White that he will resign next year upon reaching his seventieth year.

Mr. White's decision to resign was taken before the news of his son's death reached him, but it is believed that the son's death renders Mr. White's decision irrevocable. He is at present staying at Sassnitz, island of Reugen, in the Baltic. He was informed of his son's death and the correspondent understands that Mr. White is greatly shocked and nervously depressed at the death of his son. Mrs. White, therefore, fearing the result upon her husband, has thus far withhheld the news of the suicide, intending to break it gently to Mr. White.

LIBERALS GETTING TOGETHER.

At a Meeting They Vote Confidence in Campbell-Bannerman.

London, July 9.—The much-discussed meeting of liberals called by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the liberal leader in the house of commons, with the object of ascertaining whether he still retains the confidence of the party, was held at the Reform Club today and resulted in the adoption of a vote of confidence in the leader of the opposition. All factions of liberals attended. The liberal-imperialists, headed by H. H. Asquith and Sir William Vernon Harcourt, were the only two who received any marked recognition on entering. The crowd watching the arrivals greeted them with cries of "How's your friend Kruger?"

Sir Henry made a conciliatory speech.

The imperialists showed that they would not be associated with any anti-national policy, but the gathering was harmonious and seems to have resulted in a temporary clearing of the air.

In the course of his speech Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman met the imperialists so far as to say the war must be brought to a victorious conclusion, but he thought the liberals ought to insist an amnesty in the settlement. While the country had the sword in one hand, it ought to have the olive branch in the other and show a disposition to come to terms with an enemy that had fought so bravely.

SPAIN INJURED BY LIBERALS.

So the Duke of Tetuan Declares in the Senate.

Madrid, July 9.—In the senate yesterday the duke of Tetuan, one time minister of foreign affairs, declared that the present government could not be considered a guarantee for the integrity of the country. Responsibility for the disasters which had occurred, he said, could not be attributed to the conservatives, but must be credited to the liberals. The conservatives had not permitted the intervention of the United States in the question of Cuba and they had refused several times to sell the United States the island. If the conservatives had remained in power the war with the United States would not have broken out.

"Among the errors of the liberal party," continued the duke, "must figure the recall of Weyler at a very difficult moment."

The duke will conclude his speech today.

NO TARIFF COMBINE LIKELY.

Europe Will Not Begin Trade War on United States.

London, July 10.—"Contrary to the opinion expressed in Vienna," says a Berlin dispatch to The Daily Express, "it is held that there is no possibility of a general European trade combination against the United States, Germany's trade relations with the United States being too extensive to permit her to assume an attitude of hostility."

According to a dispatch to the Associated Press from Vienna, July 8th, The Vienna Post of that date says the projected European commercial combination against the United States had constituted a subject of practical negotiations between Russia, Austria and Germany. The Post further said that the rumored visit of Count Von Buelow, the German imperial chancellor, to St. Petersburg, would be made in connection with this combination.

FIERCE LABOR RIOT IN SPAIN.

Workmen and Gendarmes in Conflict at Seville.

Seville, Spain, July 9.—There was a serious conflict in the street here today between workmen and gendarmes. Owing to the refusal of groups of the former to disperse, the gendarmes arrested a workman. The latter's comrades thereupon threw cobblestones at the police, injuring five of them. The gendarmes then charged, shots were exchanged and several persons were hit. Women actively participated in the disturbance. The prefect, who intervened, was stoned. Finally a force of cavalry dispersed the rioters.

Prince Christian Is Coming.

Copenhagen, July 9.—Prince Christian, eldest son of the crown prince, intends to visit the United States on board his yacht in the spring of 1902, unless in the meantime the king's age should bring about the accession of the crown prince. Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark also contemplate a trip to America in 1902.

Great Heat in Europe.

London, July 10.—Great heat extends throughout western Europe from Spain to Scandinavia. Heat prostrations are reported from many points. There have been very numerous prostrations in Paris, and there were twenty deaths attributed to heat in Copenhagen yesterday.

German Exports to United States.

Berlin, July 9.—German exports, including Dresden, to the United States during the fiscal year ending March 31st amounted to $99,887,013. This is an increase over the last fiscal year of $1,074,854.

To Dine with Royalty.

Copenhagen, July 9.—The crown prince has invited the commanders and officers of the United States training ship Hartford and the Massachusetts school ship Enterprise to partake of dinner with the royal family tomorrow.

Boer Generals in Conference.

Cape Town, July 9.—Four Boer prisoners who today were brought into Bloemfontein report that Generals Botha, Delarey and DeWet recently held a conference at a point on the Vaal river.

Former Congressman Stone Dead.

New York, July 9.—William H. Stone, a former congressman from Missouri, died at Asbury Park, N. J., this afternoon, aged seventy-one.

WANT UNIFORM TERMS OF OFFICE

Sheriff Nelms Will Advocate Four-Year Terms for All County Officials.

CONVENTION MEETS TODAY

Chiefs of Police, Sheriffs and Others To Gather in Columbus.

FEE QUESTION IS TO BE CONSIDERED

Sheriff Nelms and Clerks Arnold Broyles and Thomas H. Jeffries Will Represent Atlanta.

Atlanta will be represented at the state convention of chiefs of police, sheriffs, marshals and clerks, which is to be convened in Columbus today, by Sheriff John W. Nelms, Clerk Arnold Broyles, of the superior court, and Clerk Thomas H. Jeffries, of Judge J. H. Lumpkin's court. They will leave for the convention city this morning.

Sheriff Nelms will inaugurate a very important movement in the convention. He stated yesterday afternoon that he would introduce a resolution calling on the legislature to make the terms of all county officers uniform—four years.

The sheriff says that the ordinary and the solicitor are the only county officers who are elected for terms of four years, and that he believes the four-year law should apply to all county offices. He says that the people would then not be put to the trouble and expense of an election every two years.

Sheriff Nelms states that he will also introduce a resolution to incorporate into the convention all of the various county officers. This would render the association a very strong organization.

Probably one of the most important matters to be before the convention will be a consideration of the fee question. All of the county offices are now operated on a fee basis, and the convention will prepare to resist any attack that may be made on the system. Steps will probably be taken preparatory to going before the legislature with a fight, should that become necessary.

The convention will be in session three days, and a number of matters will likely be considered. Columbus has prepared to entertain the visitors, and they will be given a good time while in that city. Among the features of entertainment will be a steamboat excursion on the Chattahoochee river, a banquet at the Rankin house, a trolley ride and amusements at the park.

MISS PAMELIA GRIGGS DEAD.

One of Atlanta's Most Accomplished Young Ladies Passes Peacefully Away.

Miss Pamelia Louise Griggs, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Griggs, passed peacefully away at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Miss Griggs had been ill for several months and her death was not unexpected. She was a patient sufferer and her dying moments were a most beautiful lesson to all gathered around her bedside. Until illness came Miss Griggs was considered one of the beauties of Atlanta and was considered one of the most brilliant young women. She was the idolized sister of Mr. Lamar N. Griggs, Misses Mamie and Julia Griggs and the niece of Misses Mary and Felicia Goodwin.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 310 South Pryor street, this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and the interment will be at Westview cemetery.

COLLIER COOPER IS DEAD.

Young Man of Prominence, a Student at the Tech and Member of K. A. Fraternity.

J. Collier Cooper, the twenty-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Cooper, of 601 Washington street, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock at the Elkin-Cooper sanitarium, after a three weeks' illness from typhoid fever. Funeral services were conducted at the residence yesterday afternoon and the body was taken to Forsyth, Ga., on this morning's train for interment in the family burying ground.

For nearly two terms Mr. Cooper was a student in the special textile course at the Technological school. He became an enthusiastic and prominent Kappa Alpha fraternity member. The pallbearers, with one exception, were taken from this fraternity, and were David Quarles, Bunyon Stephens, Carl Hutcheson, Charles Andrews, Arthur Jones and Ben Lee Crew. A large delegation from the school, including many fraternity men, as well as numerous friends of the family and the deceased, were present at the obsequies. Dr. W. W. Landrum conducted the services, and a quartet from the First Baptist church furnished music for the occasion.

The death of this young man was a peculiarly sad one, coming at a time when life apparently held for him its rosiest promise. He was bright, handsome, winsome and sincere, and in his church, school and social relations had won hundreds of friends in all ranks of life. He was connected with The Atlanta Journal before entering the Tech, and by marked ability and strict attention to every obligation gained the esteem of all of his business associates and others with whom he came in contact. He manifested unusual capacity in the career which he had mapped out for himself, and the conscientious and unremitting labor which he spent on his studies did much, his friends fear, to pave the way for the illness which subsequently struck him down in his budding manhood.

Dr. Landrum paid an unusually strong tribute to his character and worth, telling of the magnificent possibilities which seemed opening before him, of his unselfishness and manliness, and dealing with his death as a personal loss. "He displayed such characteristics as his church and his country now most need," said the minister, "and in the death of such a young man the entire community, hardly less than his heart-stricken parents and friends, sustains a deep and real loss."

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."

This Fact Is Specially True in Education.

Quite a different saying from this: "The cheapest is the best." The former, though trite, is true. The latter, less trite, is very much less than true. Application: Write to President C. C. Cox, Southern Female college, College Park, Ga., for illustrated catalogue and souvenir of that old and renowned institution, and weigh the advantages therein offered for the education of your daughter. Magnificent grounds, splendid buildings, ample and luxurious accommodations, first-class cuisine, the purest of cold water, complete waterworks, cold and hot baths, sanitary plumbing, electric lights, steam heating, secure elevator, able faculty, up-to-date curriculum, unsurpassed musical facilities, unexcelled church and Sunday school privileges, the numerous benefits accruing from proximity to a great city, etc. And what is the cost? "The best is the cheapest."

MANY RESIDENCES SOON TO BE BUILT IN ATLANTA

The building in prospect for the next few months in Atlanta, aside from the large blocks already frequently chronicled, is largely in residence building. Many handsome homes, especially on the north side, are now going up, or will be started in the next few weeks.

Among these is a handsome house, designed by G. L. Norrman for Leon Lewman on Peachtree place. It will be two stories, frame and of English-Gothic style. The house will cost about $8,000.

Major Joseph Nash is building a home corner Spring and Fourth streets. It is two stories, frame, costing $6,000. G. L. Norrman, architect.

Moreland Speer has started a frame residence on South Pryor street, corner Glenn, to cost $5,500. G. L. Norrman, architect.

L. C. Fletcher is building a pretty cottage on Juniper street, costing $5,000. G. L. Norrman, architect.

The Markham house block will be finished this week. This was a $65,000 contract. The warehouses will be occupied by their former tenants, Maddox, Spalding and others.

The new university buildings at Athens are up to the second story. They are a dormitory and a mess room, costing $35,000. They will be done in November. G. L. Norrman, architect.

Dr. Thomas P. Hinman's handsome residence on West Peachtree, near Fifth, is a two story gray brick structure in picturesque style of architecture. It will cost about $10,000. Bleckley & Tyler are the architects.

W. H. Patterson will soon build on Peachtree street near Fourteenth street. The house will be two stories, frame, with stone foundation, costing $8,000 to $10,000. W. F. Denny, architect.

J. B. Black will also build on Peachtree, near Fourteenth, a $10,000 house designed by W. F. Denny.

M. R. Emmons's plans for a Peachtree residence, corner Peachtree place, have just been designed by W. F. Denny. It will be a handsome frame house in colonial style, costing $10,000. Work will be started soon.

V. H. Kriegshaber has a new residence in Inman Park half completed. It is one story brick and terra cotta, costing $6,000. W. F. Denny, architect.

Maier & Berkele are making extensive improvements on their Whitehall street store, putting in handsome mahogany fixtures, a new plaster ceiling finished in aluminum and mosaic floor. The room for displaying cut glass will be a special feature of the interior. It will have a beautiful glass dome overhead. W. F. Denny designed these improvements.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL AT THE STATE CAPITOL

Captain R. F. Wright, assistant commissioner of agriculture, will leave the city today with the Georgia editors for Buffalo, where he goes to be present on Georgia day at the Pan-American exposition. Friday will be Georgia Day, and the state will be well represented. Captain Wright has prepared an address relating to Georgia's resources and industries, which he will deliver on Georgia Day to the assembled crowds. His long experience in the department of agriculture well fits him to present the most important facts on these lines, and he knows how to put them up in just the right way. With the editors there and a large number of citizens from all parts of the state, Georgia will be quite in evidence. It was expected that Attorney General J. M. Terrell would make the trip, but he found that it would be impossible for him to go, on account of an accumulation of work here. The supreme court will take up criminal business on July 16th, and the attorney general has several briefs to prepare in capital cases. This will necessitate his presence here at least until after that time.

Governor Candler received a rather alarming message yesterday from Decatur county. It stated that smallpox had broken out at Brinson, a little town not far from Bainbridge, and that seventy-five persons had been exposed to the disease. The governor was asked to forward some vaccine points at once, and he ordered 200 sent to the ordinary of the county for use at Brinson. There are only a few cases of the disease at Brinson, and it is presumed it will not spread extensively, as this is the wrong season of the year for smallpox.

Senator Clay came down from Marietta yesterday and spent several hours in the city. He visited friends at the capitol during the afternoon. Senator Clay is taking a quiet rest at home after his arduous labors at Washington, and is not worrying himself about the future. He is looking both well and happy.

Another insurance company, the American Fire Insurance Company, of New York, has withdrawn from Georgia. This makes the fourth or fifth within the year. Comptroller General W. A. Wright was notified yesterday that this company would withdraw, and that it desires to take down its deposit of $10,000 now with the state treasurer. The business of the company has all been reinsured in the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, of Connecticut. The company will be allowed to withdraw as soon as it has advertised for the customary sixty days and settled all claims against it in the state. It is said the reason why so many fire insurance companies are withdrawing from Georgia and other southern states is that they have met with so many losses recently that they feel they cannot afford to remain in this territory.

The officers of the Fifth regiment are making arrangements to have state tents shipped to Dalton for their encampment, which begins there next week. It is said the regiment, headed by Colonel Park Woodward, will take into camp from 350 to 400 men. More men would go, it is stated, were it not for the fact that they are all required to pay their own expenses, the state making no provision for encampments this year outside of furnishing the tents. Dalton, however, has been quite generous with the regiment, and will furnish them a good camping ground, and stand some of the general expense of the encampment.

Prison Commissioner Thomas Eason is quite ill at his home at McRae, and there will be no meeting of the prison commission this week. There is very little, however, that requires the attention of the board at the present time.

State Treasurer R. E. Park is in Savannah, where he went to assist State Bank Examiner Turner in his work on the state banks there. He will stop in Macon before returning to the city.

Secretary of State Phil Cook is quite ill at his home on Houston street with neuralgia. He has been indisposed for some days, but his many friends express the hope that he will soon recover and return to his desk at the capitol.

State School Commissioner G. R. Glenn is in Detroit in attendance on the convention of the National Educational Association. Commissioner Glenn is president of the department of superintendence of this association.

Atlanta camp, No. 159, U. C. V., will hold its regular monthly meeting next Monday night in the office of the comptroller general, at the capitol.

PROF. A. H. FORD WILL JOIN THE TECH FACULTY

Professor Arthur H. Ford has been elected professor of physics and electrical engineering of the Georgia School of Technology in place of Professor E. F. Scattergood, who lately resigned on account of ill health.

Professor Ford has been for the past year professor of the same department in the University of Colorado, at Boulder, Colo. He recently came east and had a consultation with President Hall in regard to the position to be filled at the school. The result of his visit and testimonials has placed him in the important position which he will fill hereafter.

PROFESSOR A. H. FORD,
Professor of Physics and Electrical Engineering at the Technological School.

He is a graduate of the electric engineering department of the University of Wisconsin and has had three years' postgraduate study at that institution and at Columbia university, New York. He has had two years in the shops and office of the General Electric Company and the Western Electric Company. The heads of the electrical engineering department at the University of Wisconsin and at Columbia university recommend Professor Ford in the very highest terms. His extensive practical experience and his thorough mental training will make him a most valuble man to the School of Technology. Professor Crocker, of Columbia, among other things, says of Mr. Ford that "he has done a great deal of experimental work and knows how to handle apparatus." Professor Ford will be here in September to take charge of his department, much of which will be located in the new electrical building now being erected on the campus.

THE PASSING THRONG.

A gentleman from Chicago was telling a story yesterday that is remarkable enough to have happened in Atlanta. R. P. Spaulding, whose home is in Chicago, near Lincoln park, is the gentleman who was telling some Atlanta friends of how he recently captured a snow white coon. Mr. Spaulding's home is in a thickly settled part of the city and is surrounded by a high fence with barbed wire on the top of it. His attention was attracted to a disturbance among his chickens one morning and going out in the yard he saw that they were trying to get away from some sort of a white animal. Mr. Spaulding succeeded in catching the varmint under a plank, and holding it there he discovered that it was a freak in the way of a pure white coon. Mr. Coon was immediately sent over to join the collection of beasts and birds in Lincoln park, and he is there today. Those in charge of the animals at the park declare it is the only white coon that they have ever been able to hear of anywhere in the world, and it is looked upon as a great curiosity. The strangest thing connected with it all is how a coon, white or black, happened to be in the heart of a city like Chicago, and no one has yet offered a theory as to where it came from.

A party of hotel men were talking yesterday about the duties of a hotel clerk and the little accomplishments of the business. One of the greatest tricks of the business is learning how to read the register upside down and learn how to write the number of a guest's room on the register without turning it around. One of the party remarked that there were a number of clerks in the north at the large hotels who could read any name upside down at a glance. "That may be alright up there," remarked one of the local clerks, "but I would like to see any try it down here about the time that the Georgia legislature is in session and the country politicians come to town. I'll bet dinners to the crowd that there would be names on our register that they could not read from any side, to say nothing of getting them upside down."

Congressman Livingston is stopping at the Aragon for a few days.

H. F. Latimer, of Rome, registered at the Marion yesterday.

Bolling Whitfield, of Brunswick, is stopping at the Marion.

Hon. Hamilton McWhorter came over from Lexington yesterday and is at the Kimball.

E. B. Terrell, of Greenville, is among the Georgians at the Kimball.

H. W. Hill, of Greenville, is also at the Kimball.

S. P. Gilbert, of Columbus, came up to the city yesterday and registered at the Kimball.

Thomas G. Lawson, of Eatonton, was a guest of the Kimball yesterday.

John Seibles, the well-known insurance man of Columbia, S. C., is in the city for a few days on business. Mr. Seibles has just returned from New York, where he was during the recent hot spell. In speaking of the heat, he said: "No, indeed, the stories in the newspapers about the heat were not exaggerated in the least. It was simply awful and such a thing as keeping anywhere near comfortable was out of the question. I declare Atlanta is the coolest place I have seen this summer. This weather here may seem hot to you, but to me it is perfectly delightful."

Why a Woman

Is Able to Help Sick Women When Doctors Fail.

How gladly would men fly to woman's aid did they but understand a woman's feelings, trials, sensibilities, and peculiar organic disturbances.

Those things are known only to women, and the aid a man would give is not at his command.

To treat a case properly it is necessary to know all about it, and full information, many times, cannot be given by a woman to her family physician. She cannot bring herself to tell everything, and the physician is at a constant disadvantage. This is why, for the past twenty-five years, thousands of women have been confiding their troubles to us, and our advice has brought happiness and health to countless women in the U.S.

Mrs. Chappell, of Grant Park, Ill., whose portrait we publish, advises all suffering women to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it cured her of inflammation of the ovaries and womb; she, therefore, speaks from knowledge, and her experience ought to give others confidence. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

TWO MORE HEAVILY FINED.

Last Two of the Six Youths Who Stoned Acton Boys, Were Tried by Recorder.

The last two of the six young men who assaulted Dr. Acton's sons Sunday night were arrested yesterday. They were Louis Kocher and Will Ray. Both admitted being in the crowd that stoned the Acton boys, but said they did not throw any stones themselves.

The defendants were each fined $25.75, which was paid.

As has been stated in The Constitution, the sons of Dr. Acton were roughly handled by six youths Sunday night because they escorted a young lady home.

The Hot Weather Test makes people better acquainted with their resources of strength and endurance. Many find they need Hood's Sarsaparilla, which invigorates the blood, promotes refreshing sleep and overcomes that tired feeling.

THE BATTERY PARK.

An Ever Popular Resort—Don't Miss Going There.

There is no question in the minds of thousands that the Battery Park, Asheville, is the most charming summer resort hotel in the whole country. Most resorts are popular for a year or two and then the crowd goes somewhere else. But it is not so with the Battery Park. This is because it is always delightfully cool, the location is picturesque, the service excellent and you always find agreeable people there.

You are right among the grand mountains of North Carolina, and, of course, everybody knows that the most eminent medical authorities have pronounced Asheville the one place above all others to go to for health.

The railway schedules are superb. You can leave Atlanta at midnight and be at the Battery Park for breakfast. You can leave there at night and be in Atlanta, Macon, Charleston, Augusta and many other points for breakfast. Write for accommodations.

FOR A LAZY DAY

You might pick out a cool spot, get in a hammock or a big, comfortable chair and enjoy reading "Ghosts I Have Known." John Kendrick Bangs wrote it, and John M. Miller sells it at 10 Marietta street.

UNDERTONE BETTER

Cotton Prices Were Higher Pretty Much Through the List.

REPORT NOT UNFAVORABLE

Corn and Oats Strong—Others Weak. Banking Interests Supported Stocks.

New York, July 9.—Operations in cotton were anything but broad today, yet the market exhibited a much better undertone, and prices were higher pretty much through the list. While there was no great demand for the staple, offerings were exceptionally light and forced shorts to raise their ideas of values. The opening was steady with prices up 4 to 6 points. A full advance of 9 to 12 points was really due to the cable showing, but traders preferred to take profits on cotton purchased late yesterday. This slim rise caused Liverpool to partially react, but at the close that market was 4½ to 6½ net higher. Toward midday shorts in the local pit became aware of their precarious position and were fearful lest the weekly government report from Washington show a much lower condition than had been discounted. This demand, in conjunction with bull support, sent August to 7.88; October to 7.74 and January to 7.76, the latter figures being the highest yet touched by the new crop options. The New Orleans market contributed a few good sized buying orders. The July option was an exception to the rule and worked up but 5 points all day. The report from Washington was not so unfavorable as anticipated and led to moderate liquidation. Under this pressure the market eased off several points. On the firmer periods leading bears sold and on weak spots conservative bulls bought. Closed steady with July 4 points lower and other months net 4 to 7 points higher.

Review of New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, July 9.—Spot cotton market today was very quiet. Factors are asking higher figures for their holdings than quoted recently, especially for middling and the better grades, and generally refuse to entertain demands of purchasers for concessions, hence the trading is very limited. The supplies available are now fairly large and well assorted, but with the two elements so radically at variance in their opinions there is at present but little trading. Sales 1,500 bales, including 600 to arrive. Quotations unchanged.

In the line of contracts there was moderate activity during the day and fluctuations in values were just sufficiently wide to warrant room traders in showing a bit more interest in the market than has been the rule of late. The market opened 5 to 6 points higher than yesterday's closing and after first calls fluctuated over a range of only a few points either way with just a slight leaning toward a higher level.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin.

Washington, July 9.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions:

The northern and central district east of the Rocky mountains has experienced two consecutive weeks of intense heat, and while the average daily temperature excess for the week ending July 8th was not quite so marked as the previous week in the central valleys, it was more so in the middle Atlantic coast districts. No seriously injurious effects to crops from this period of intense heat is reported from the middle Atlantic states, but from Texas northward to Nebraska, including Missouri, Arkansas and portions of Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee, crops have suffered to a greater or less extent. The weather conditions on the Pacific coast and in the plateau regions have been favorable although frosts caused some injury in Utah and Wyoming on the 5th.

In Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas, corn has been seriously damaged by intense heat and drying winds, although late corn in Kansas is in fair condition. The bulk of the crop in Nebraska and Indiana has so far escaped injury except in a few southwestern counties in Nebraska, where corn has been slightly injured, while in southeastern Iowa it is threatened. In the states of the Ohio valley corn has suffered no injury from heat, and has generally made good growth, but continues in need of cultivation in portions of Ohio and West Virginia.

Winter wheat harvest is finished in Kansas, Missouri and in the lower Ohio valley, and is in progress in the more northerly sections. Rains have interfered with harvest in portions of Ohio and West Virginia, and reports of injury by fly continue from the first named state, as well as from portions of Pennsylvania and New York.

In the Dakotas, Minnesota, Oregon and Washington spring wheat conditions generally are very promising.

The oats crop in the states of the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys has suffered further injury from intense heat, but in southern Minnesota and portions of South Dakota it is in promising condition. In the Ohio valley and middle Atlantic states the crop has ripened rapidly under the high temperatures, a fair to good yield being indicated for these districts.

In the central and eastern portions of the cotton belt, with the exception of South Carolina and Florida, cotton, though small, is generally growing and fruiting well. In Tennessee and to the westward of the Mississippi river cotton is much in need of rain, especially in the uplands of Texas and portions of Arkansas. The crop is generally from one to two weeks late.

Tobacco has suffered somewhat from heat in Maryland and Virginia, and its growth has been checked by drought in portions of Tennessee and western Kentucky. The general condition of the crop, however, is satisfactory. Cutting and curing continues in South Carolina and has begun in North Carolina.

In the states of the Missouri and central Mississippi valleys apples and other fruits have been seriously injured by heat, and the reports from the districts to the eastward respecting apples are not encouraging.

Southern Exchange Cotton Letter.

July York, July 9.—Futures in Liverpool were 4 to 6-64d higher on good buying, the continent and London shorts being principal buyers. Spots were unchanged; sales 7,000. Our market opened 1 to 6 points higher, but quickly lost the advance on realizing sales for local bulls. Shorts, however, took advantage of the decline to cover and the market quickly regained the loss, the advance placing prices 3 to 7 points above the first sales. The market held firm but dull 3 to 5 points under the best, with neither side disposed to be aggressive. Reports from the southwest were bullish, little rain having been reported. The weekly bureau report was somewhat mixed, and was interpreted to suit either side. After a dull afternoon session, the market closed quiet but steady 4 points lower for July and 2 to 6 points net higher on the balance of the list.

Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 9.—Texas proved a further bull card this morning, the weather conditions there being unchanged and no report of rain in any section of the state being reported at the opening of the local market. The effect was to further intensify the bullish feeling as to the condition in that state, the seriousness of which does not appear to be as yet recognized by the trade. The belief is that one week's further dry weather will cause a general awakening along the line. Stations in that state are beginning to complain of the absolute necessity of rain at an early date. Some say they can go without moisture for a week or so, but the crop is undoubtedly lost by drought up to this date, and it would be folly to expect anything more than a moderate crop from Texas under the most favorable circumstances, including a late fall. Rain reported today was at a few stations of the cotton belt and included 1.01 inch at Savannah; .32 at Charleston, a trace at Montgomery. Columbus, Ga., had a hard rain. The temperature early in the day in Texas was 78 at Paris, 85 at Sherman, 85 at Gainesville, 86 at Waco, 84 at Austin, 81 at Dallas, 77 at Houston and 75 at Greenville. During the forenoon the market picked up considerably, prices advanced 8 to 9 points and there was more outside business than has been the case for some time. Liverpool was a good buyer here, and speculators were taking hold with confidence. Yesterday's sellers were anxious to buy back. Liverpool advices were to the effect there was a scarcity of sellers and buyers were on the anxious state. Liverpool final prices showed an advance of 4 to 6 points. Port receipts for the day were 5,447, against 4,300 last year. The weekly government report was rather mixed, and led to a little selling.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 9.—The advance in Liverpool acted as a mild stimulant to the market, and on very limited business slight improvement was made, but the trading has been very light during the forenoon with a weakness on the official weather report, which was recovered. The trading is local with no demand from the south, from which the persistent reports of possible injury should surely bring buying orders if any apprehension existed.

W. E. Small & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 9.—There was still the same narrow market again today, and yet the tone ruled firm and before noon new high prices were recorded for October and January cotton. There was very little business—very little buying to bring out an advance, but the feature of the market was the absence of offerings at all times. The early advance in Liverpool and no rain in the south started the price level a little higher than yesterday, and later some short covering advanced October to 7.74 and January to 7.76. At this point some selling of the cotton bought easily started a reaction and the Washington report at noon increased the selling. The statement was not as unfavorable as many expected, but the fact that the market only declined a few points when each Tuesday the past month a substantial reaction has taken place, indicated that the outlook was not altogether satisfactory. The factor in the market continues to be the rain in the southwest, or rather the absence of rain throughout that portion of the cotton belt. There were no showers of importance reported with no indications of rain for the coming twenty-four hours. Variable winds, however, led many to hope that a storm might be approaching, but until there is general relief from the drought now prevailing traders are not disposed to change their attitude on the market. The question now before the trade is whether there will be a broader market as a result of the present condition or rains and a decline. There is no inclination here to short cotton until the rains are reported, and those who bought two weeks ago are taking their chances on a further advance. The crop is not doing well in the southwest.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, July 9.—There has been no change in the market today. The demand continues quiet throughout for all staple cottons. Prints also quiet. Print cloths have sold at 2⅝c for regulars. Ginghams quiet but firm. Hosiery and underwear steady. Silks firm.

H. & B. Beer's Cotton Letter.

New Orleans, July 9.—Liverpool advices were even more favorable than anticipated, causing our market to open 3 to 5 points better, subsequently improving 5 points additional on absence of rain in Texas, but losing most of the improvement in the afternoon owing to the weekly bureau report showing better than expected, closing 4 to 5 higher than last night. The Washington summary read as follows: "In the central and eastern portions of the cotton belt, with the exception of South Carolina and Florida, cotton, though small, is generally growing and fruiting small. In Tennessee and to the westward of the Mississippi river cotton is much in need of rain, especially in the uplands of Texas and portions of Arkansas. The crop is generally from one to two weeks late." The trend of the market continues to hinge on the weather west of the Mississippi river, and complaints of drought are becoming more frequent. While we think these complaints are somewhat exaggerated and no irreparable injury has yet been sustained that early rains cannot remedy, still moisture in the western belt is desirable. Rain in Texas in the next few days would cause heavy selling, and as the short interest is practically out, values would suffer materially.

CHICAGO MARKET REVIEWED.

Chicago, July 9.—Trade on the board of trade centered in the corn market, which was strong and active as a result of continued reports of damage by the dry hot weather, and the September delivery closed an even cent higher than yesterday. September wheat closed ⅛@⅜c lower, September oats were ⅜@½c higher and provisions closed weak and from 5 to 10c lower.

Wheat opened weak in the face of strength in coarse grains, and trading was dull. The market improved somewhat in the first hour, when, after a little reaction from the opening figures, corn and oats started on a fresh advance. Taking of profits by shorts caused a firmer feeling to succeed the early weakness. September opened ⅛@¼c lower at 64c and advanced to 64⅛c on buying by shorts. On selling by commission houses, led by Phillips, prices declined to 63¾c and the close was ⅛@⅜c lower at 63⅞c. The seaboard reported 40 boatloads taken for export, while clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 664,000 bushels. Bradstreet's reported a decrease in the world's visible supply of 4,300,000 bushels. Northwest receipts were 193 cars, against 271 cars last week and 104 cars a week ago. Primary receipts were 585,000 bushels, compared with 379,000 bushels last year. Local receipts were 174 cars, 101 of contract grade.

Corn again attracted a large crowd, and the opening was strong with buyers largely in the majority and bidding ⅜c to almost 1c above yesterday's close. The continuation for the hot weather was the cause of strength. September opened 48½@49c, but at that figure there were numerous holders willing to take profits, and prices reacted to 48⅛c. Buying was general at the reaction and another rise began. At 49½c there was more realizing and prices dropped to around 49c. The close was 1c higher at 49@49⅛c. Local receipts were 352 cars, 16 of contract grade.

Trading in oats was active, and the opening was higher. The dominating bull factor was the prospect of curtailment of the crop occasioned by unfavorable weather. Country traders were active buyers, while the selling was mostly local and for long account. September sold between 30@30⅜c, closing ⅜@½c higher at 30⅜@30½c. Local receipts were 131 cars.

Provisions were easier and were prevented from responding to the moderate receipts of hogs and strength of coarse grains by realizing sales of lard for account of a prominent local speculator. September pork ranged between $13.87½@13.95, closing 10c lower; September lard sold between $8.50@8.52½@8.60, closing from 5@7½c lower at $8.52½. Ribs sold between $7.87½@7.95@7.97½, closing from 5 to 7½c lower at $7.87½@7.90.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 55 cars; corn, 205 cars; oats, 55 cars; hogs, 28,000 head.

W. E. Small & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, July 9.—The weather map showed no rain in the corn belt. Forecast for Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri fair and cooler, possibly light showers in Nebraska. Seaboard sales 40 loads for export and 185,000 worked here. Contract stocks: Wheat 4,059,000, decrease 402,000; corn 5,031,000, increase 80,000; oats 2,219,000, decrease 1,052,000. The market started off weak, but the large local shorts thought it a good time to cover owing to the strength in corn and oats, while it was expected that a large export business would be transacted. There was a good sized recovery, which was helped along by large decrease in world's visible. The northwest took advantage of the advance to sell quite freely, resulting in a decline with the market closing heavy at the lowest point of the day. There is an inclination toward sentimental buying, but it looks to us as if purchases could be made much lower down the scale.

Corn—Three loads corn for export at the seaboard. There is no demand for eastern shipment here, buyers holding off, while offerings continue light. The market was quite strong with September at the highest price so far reached, and while crop news was all of the most bullish character with commission houses heavy buyers for outside account, there was a disposition among large local holders to accept profits in a liberal manner. The full advance was not maintained, but the market closed strong. It is now claimed that the Kansas crop will not be over 100,000,000 bushels.

Oats were very strong and heavily bought by commission houses for outside account, while shorts covered freely. Profit taking was indulged in to a large extent, but the market closed strong with sentiment bullish.

Provisions—Hogs closed 2½c higher; about 30,000 left over. The principal feature was selling of September lard by a broker supposedly for Patten. Armour was a liberal buyer of ribs and lard. Should corn advance further it will be likely to stimulate provisions.

Murphy & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, July 9.—Wheat—The market opened active and weak on further declines abroad in both English and continental markets, and generally a condition of depression, which was extremely disappointing. Prices declined ⅜@½c in American markets, rallied, but were heavy later with steady offerings. The weather was fine for finishing winter harvest work, and it was good for spring wheat. There are complaints from North Dakota as to the effect of the excessive rains there, but the general reports are very favorable. Prices this morning sold at the lowest figures yet touched on the crop, breaking to below 70c at New York and 64c here. Wheat was stronger at midday, with covering and buying for reaction, closing very weak.

Corn—Trade was active and prices were excited and heavy, advancing ¾@1c on further dry weather in the southwest; in fact, all through the corn states. Press dispatches and private advices reiterate the claims of damage in Missouri and Kansas, and some complaints come from Nebraska, but generally in the corn belt, outside of the states mentioned, there have been comparatively few complaints recently. The situation is entirely dependent on the weather. Today the barometer was low west of the Mississippi, but with no general storm center. Corn was very strong at noon on dry weather predictions, partially reacting later.

Provisions—The trade in hog product was fairly active this morning, and prices were weak and lower on further realizing, although live hog receipts were small. Provisions closed quiet.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, July 9.—Support for the market from the large banking interests and syndicates which seemed yesterday to have abandoned it to the effects of forced liquidation worked a prompt transformation in speculative sentiment today. The opening transactions disclosed that there was still urgent liquidation to be effected, and some heavy blocks were thrown upon the market at sharp concessions from last night's closing prices, but brokers with supporting orders were present at the same time and were bidding above the prices at which others were letting stocks go. The consequence was some wide openings in the prices of the Granger, Pacific and Southwestern stocks on sales of 1,000 to 3,500 shares of each. The average level of prices was carried a point or more below last night and there were exceptional losses in Louisville and Nashville of 3⅝, in Baltimore and Ohio of 3¾ and in Southern Pacific of 1⅝. United States Steel received support from the outset, and although the first offerings were of 10,000 shares, the price was held at last night's level. During the rest of the day the market showed steady recuperation, and at times developed a tone of positive buoyancy. The stocks which suffered most acutely in yesterday's liquidation were most conspicuous in today's rally—notably, St. Paul, Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific and Atchison. The movement in these stocks was eclipsed by that of Louisville, in which the dealings were on a very large scale. The opening loss in this stock and the subsequent movement gave color to the supposition that it was raided for the purpose of accumulating stock. In the late dealings it spurted to 110½, an extreme rise of 7¼. It closed with a net gain of 2½. The recovery in the other leaders from the low point ranged from 3 to 5. Some special strength was shown by Illinois Central on the declaration of the dividend and the decision to issue new stock, and by St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred on the placing of the stock on a 4 per cent dividend basis. There was no apparent cause for the recovery in the general list, aside from the confidence inspired by the evidence that powerful support was in the market and that the ominous and urgent liquidation of yesterday by the mystery surrounding last week's large loss in the cash reserves of the banks was dispelled by the explanation that cash had been shipped to Buffalo to provide against a possible run on the banks there. The open-handed freedom with which loans were made by banks under Morgan control quieted fears of credit contraction and counteracted the effect of the recent policy of the banks in discriminating against collateral. This policy had its part in inducing liquidation which might have endangered themselves if carried to extremes. Its check, therefore, caused general relief. News regarding the corn crop was not improved today, and Atchison officials continued to talk in a belligerent tone of the announced cut in freight rates. Assertions were persistently made, however, that the freight rate trouble would be adjusted, and some scepticism was expressed as to the logic of a cut in freight rates at a time when complaint is made of the car famine and of more business offering than can be handled by the railroads. The feeling that a campaign to depress prices might be involved, with the purpose of accumulating stocks, made the bears timid, and the covering of large short lines helped the rise in prices. The closing was firm and near the top.

The bond market was moderately active, but only a part of the list recovered in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $2,905,000.

United States new 4s declined ¼ per cent and the old 4s advanced ¼ per cent on the last call.

Commercial Advertiser's Financial Cable.

New York, July 9.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: The stock market opened despondent all around today. Although the rumors that depressed the trading yesterday were unconfirmed, they caused wholesale realization, while Berlin, Paris and Amsterdam all sold stocks freely.

Consols developed weakness and fell ½ on talk of a fresh loan of £60,000,000. This decline in turn was responsible for a rumor that the syndicate that had taken £30,000,000 of the last loan was unloading. The continentals showed an inclination to get rid of consols and sold.

In the afternoon there was a rally started by Amsterdam, which bought American stocks. New York then came to the support of the market, other centers responded, and assisted by the report that the Boer leader—General Botha—had been surrounded, the whole list closed cheerful and well above the worst.

Tintos dipped to 50¾ and closed at 52. Calls on the stock up to the end of September at 1⅞.

W. E. Small & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, July 9.—Apprehensions in Berlin of further financial troubles created selling in London, while Amsterdam bought Americans. Heavy selling appeared at the start in a number of stocks, but it was soon checked by commission house buying on a large scale in St. Paul, Pacifics, Illinois Central, Atchison, the Coalers and Louisville and Nashville. Sugar and People's Gas were in demand, while the Steels were heavily bought by Morgan and Keene brokers. Good recoveries were witnessed in the transactions, while the market assumed a better tone all around with shorts covering. Illinois Central was helped not only by its splendid annual statement, but also by the expected issue of $13,200,000 new stock in October, which insures valuable rights. It was stated that Southern Railway would soon reduce its present issue of common stock by one-half and declare a lump dividend of 2 per cent on the stock. Action of this nature has been expected for some time. The market became dull at times during the afternoon. Good buying appeared in Atchison on statement that the management would withdraw from the rate cutting contest with Chicago Great Western. The market generally displayed a much better tone late in the day, compared with yesterday, although transactions were not near so heavy. Further advances are likely to meet with profit taking sales as well as bear attacks.

Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, July 9.—The stock market opened heavy and lower this morning in sympathy with declines at London, which extended from 1 to 2 per cent. The relatively firm features of London were Atchison common and United States Steel common. The weak features in this market at the opening were Southern Pacific, Southern Railway common and Louisville and Nashville, Union Pacific common, Pennsylvania, the Erie and Readings. The Steel issues, St. Paul, the Atchisons, Illinois Central and the Tractions were fairly steady. The volume of trading was on a larger scale than yesterday. Again today the weather map reported no indications of rain in the corn belt, and a continuance of high temperatures. Inasmuch, however, as the advance in corn yesterday did not correspond with the extent of the decline in stocks, there was a disposition to believe that the corn outlook was not so grave as some reports would have holders of stocks believe. A more cheerful view of the monetary situation was also taken this morning, and it is believed that the officers of the United States Steel Corporation, acting under instructions from Mr. Morgan, will be successful in adjusting their labor difficulties. While there is some apprehension that the Atchison cut in freight rates may extend to eastern territory, it is nevertheless believed that the matter is one that can be settled without impairing the prosperous condition of the railroad industry. The Illinois Central management has recommended an increase in the capital stock of that company of $13,200,000 to be offered for subscription at par, one share of new stock for five shares of present holdings.

ATLANTA Y. W. C. A. MAY SECURE ATHLETIC CLUB

Association Expects To Begin with Well Equipped Gymnasium.

RECEPTION IS GIVEN BY MISS EVA WILBY

Several Hundred Guests Greeted by Charming Hostess — Mr. and Mrs. John M. Slaton To Entertain—Social Items.

Miss Susie Harwood presided at an interesting meeting of the board of directors of the Young Woman's Christian Association yesterday morning, the meeting held in her apartments at the Majestic.

Reports read by the preparatory committees relative to the establishment of the association work in the fall were most encouraging and proved the broad interest that is being taken in the proposed institution. Mrs. A. McD. Wilson made a report of the recent conference of the Young Woman's Christian Association in Asheville, where she and Miss Harwood were present, and related to the board many important and interesting matters she had investigated with a view to the establishment of the association work in Atlanta. Miss Martha Nunnally, as chairman of the committee on constitution and by-laws, reported that she was investigating the constitution and by-laws governing the city divisions of the Young Woman's Christian Association throughout the country and that her committee would proceed with their work and make a full report at the next general meeting.

Mrs. Woods White, chairman of the membership committee, made a most encouraging report, and the report of Miss Jennie Armstrong, as chairman of the committee on physical culture, brought forth much interesting discussion pertaining to that very important department of the association work.

Miss Harwood made the suggestion that it was the object of the association to begin their work with a thoroughly equipped gymnasium; that an effort be made to secure as quarters for the department of physical culture the Athletic Club of Atlanta, which will soon be vacated by its members to go into larger quarters. She explained that the clubhouse, with but little interior adaptation, would exactly answer the purpose of the physical culture department, there being in connection with the club the tennis court and many other opportunities for similar wholesome exercise. She urged the necessity of this department being begun with correct and complete equipment, as in its success the association might depend for its broader work along other lines.

The necessity for a trained instructor in this department was also discussed, it being decided that a committee be appointed to investigate the business side involved in the lease of the Athletic Club and also to investigate the applications made for the office of instructor.

By unanimous vote of the meeting Miss Harwood was empowered to take steps at once in securing a general secretary for the association work in Atlanta, such an ocer being indispensable in the work of organization as well as in the management of it when established.

The secretary will be selected from among those identified with the national board and it is understood that every effort will be made to secure the services of Miss Florence Brown, who is recognized as one of the most successful woman workers in the national organization. Besides the general secretary of the association and the physical director there will probably be a third secretary employed to assume the responsibility of the various departments which will increase from time to time.

No less important than the physical department will be that by which the members will have the advantage of a well equipped restaurant, a restroom, a library and the class rooms, where, according to the demand made, classes will be furnished. The restaurant will be opened to the public and will be operated according to the best methods, an expert chef and assistants to be employed.

It is the desire of the board to have this department of the association centrally located, so as to be convenient to professional and business women, those shopping or those who are strangers within the city who will find such a place exactly what they need. A committee was appointed to investigate as to a suitable locality and to report at the next meeting. Wherever the association rooms are located they will be comfortable and inviting and large enough to assure the series of entertainments that will come under the head of the social and intellectual work of the association.

Although the constitution and bylaws of the Atlanta Young Women's Christian Association have not as yet been decided upon, the chairman of that committee stated that membership in the association would be governed according to the rules and regulations observed in similar institutions of the kind throughout the country. That is:

The members of the association shall be of four classes—active, associate, sustaining and life members.

The active members shall consist of women over fifteen years of age who are members in good standing in Protestant Evangelical churches and have been elected by a majority vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the board of directors.

Any woman over fifteen years of age, of good moral character, may be elected an associate member by a majority vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the board. Associate members shall be entitled to all the privileges of the association except the right to vote and hold office.

Miss Wilby's Reception.

The reception yesterday evening at which Miss Eva Wilby extended a gracious hospitality to several hundred guests was a compliment to one of the recent and most charming acquisitions to the young married set, Mrs. John Daniel Ruden. From 6 until 8 o'clock there was a constant and numerous succession of guests who were made to enjoy a delightful half hour or so in the cool reception rooms and out on the broad piazza, which was canvas-inclosed and picturesquely fitted up with all the adjuncts to the summer parlor, including cool-looking palms and flowers, and at one end a refreshing bowl of punch. In the reception rooms were palms and white flowers, and in the dining room asparagus, fern and daises were the decorations. From the chandelier over the table the graceful fern was trailed downward to meet the cluster of daisies which formed the centerpiece. Battenburg lace over green covered the table, and green-spun candy and green-shaded candelabra completed the table design. Delicious ices were served, while an orchestra in the next room made entertainment with its music. After the general reception the ladies of the receiving party and a number of gentlemen who had been invited to remain enjoyed an informal dance.

Among the unusually lovely toilets of the gathering of pretty women, those of the hostess and her receiving party were notably so.

Miss Wilby wore black point d'esprit, which emphasized the brilliancy of her eyes and coloring, and Mrs. Ruden was lovely in her wedding gown of soft white satin, with which she carried white carnations.

Mrs. N. E. Campbell wore black lace over white taffeta; Mrs. Harry Goodhart's gown was lace covered white satin, and Mrs. Claude Buchanan wore white cotton chiffon with blue ribbons. Miss Helen Angier wore white organdie and lace inserting; Miss Lillian Smith and Miss Jean Ramspeck wore dainty gowns of tucked organdie and lace; Miss Nellie Howell wore white mull over blue; Miss Lillian Franklin wore white tucked chiffon with lace applique and blue ribbons, Miss Kitty Cope was most attractive in white; Miss Aline Ruse wore white embroidered swiss; Miss Lucile Atkinson was handsome in black; Miss Laura Boyd was strikingly pretty in point d'esprit over pink taffetas; Miss Lena Swift was graceful and winning in white organdie and renaissance lace; Miss Tochie Davis was lovely in white tucked liberty satin with a touch of red panne, and Miss Laurie Davis in pink liberty silk, and there were many other exceptionally attractive toilets.

Miss Jennie Armstrong Delegate to Northfield

Miss Jennie Armstrong was yesterday appointed by the executive board of the Young Women's Christian Association of Atlanta as their delegate to the Northfield conference of the Young Women's Christian Association, which holds in August. This conference will bring together all the branches in the east of the Young Women's Christian Association and there will be fraternal delegates present from all sections of the country.

Miss Armstrong goes to be present especially at the Bible classes which are conducted at the Northfield conference by the foremost biblical scholars of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Slaton to Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Slaton will entertain a party of friends at a trolley party Friday evening, July 12th. The party will meet at their residence that evening at half-past 8 o'clock and the occasion promises to be a very happy one.

Musicale Given by Mrs. W. L. Peel

The musicale given by Mrs. William Lawson Peel on Monday evening at her home on Peachtree was a brilliant occasion and afforded much pleasure to the music lovers of Atlanta.

Her entertainments are always interesting as she possesses the gift of gathering about her people of musical talents and brightness. Mrs. Peel has a thorough understanding and appreciation of music and the programme rendered on Monday evening was one that delighted and charmed the fortunate guests.

The music room was filled with an eager audience that greeted each musician with sincere and unaffected applause. Miss Dorothy Whitcomb, a young violinist of rare talent, opened the programme accompanied by Miss Clarkson, a brilliant pupil of Professor Barili. These two young musicians leave soon for a two years' course of study in Germany.

Mrs. Trawick and Miss Furlow Anderson delighted the audience with their singing, which was of exquisite feeling and sweetness. Another delightful violinist of the occasion was Miss Theodora Morgan, who showed remarkable talent in her rendition of several difficult selections.

Delicious refreshments and punch were served the guests by Misses Sarah and Marian Peel, the two pretty and attractive daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Peel.

EXPRESS COMPANY GIVEN A CHARTER

Brunswick and Birmingham Railroad Interested in Project.

TERRITORY IS UNLIMITED

Company Incorporated with Paid in Capital of $10,000.

PRINCIPAL OFFICE TO BE IN BRUNSWICK

Incorporators Are All Interested in the Brunswick and Birmingham Railroad.

Georgia is to have a new express company. A charter was issued yesterday by Secretary of State Phil Cook to the Brunswick and Birmingham Express Company, with headquarters at Brunswick, Ga.

The incorporators of the new company are those interested principally in the new Brunswick and Birmingham railroad, and it is presumed the new express company will begin its business on that line. The railroad is not yet completed, but work on it is progressing rapidly, and it is expected it will be finished within a few months.

But that the incorporators do not intend to confine the new express company to that road alone is clearly evident from the petition for charter. It asks for the right to do business in all of the states and territories of the United States, in Canada, Cuba, Porto Rico and all of the West Indies, in Mexico and Central America, and in all the states and countries both of North and South America. It may be a long time before the company spreads out to cover all of this territory, but it has been given that privilege in its charter.

The company begins with a comparatively small capital stock of $10,000, but is given the right to increase the amount to $350,000 at any time the directors see fit to take such a step. The principal office of the company will be in Brunswick, but it is given the right to establish branch offices wherever it is convenient or necessary to do so.

The incorporators of the company are E. C. Machen, who has been the prime mover in the building of the Brunswick and Birmingham railroad; J. A. McDuffie, Tobias Newman and F. E. Twitty, all of Brunswick, and C. J. Bushnell, of New York. The charter provides that these incorporators shall be the first directors of the new company.

Just how the new company will cope with the Southern Express Company is a thing that the future must develop. There was talk of organizing a new express company in Georgia about a year ago, but it was abandoned, it is said, because it was thought nothing could be done against the big company which now controls the field.

The Theatres

The performance at the Lyceum this week is one which has not been excelled since the opening of the house and represents the highest standard of vaudeville. The attendance at yesterday's two performances were record-breakers.

Bert Coote & Co., who present a delightful sketch entitled "Supper for Two," are the headliners, and the only thing to be regretted about this act is that it does not last long enough to satisfy the audience. Mr. Coote is ably assisted by Mr. E. B. Tifton and Miss Marie Pavey, who is a very attractive woman and an actress of rare talent and exceptional ability.

The opening number, "Sansone and Delilah," billed as novelty equilibrists, is one of the best things in this line ever brought to Atlanta and is greeted with enthusiastic applause at every performance, showing the appreciation of the audience for this kind of work.

Another novelty is presented by Zeda and Elden, two contortionists whose equal it would be hard to find. The act is called "The Death of the Dragon," and the scenic effects are very elaborate.

Lou Harvey contributes his share of the entertainment by singing Hebrew parodies, and is the hit of the show, now that he has changed his songs, and the applause following this act is well deserved by the performer.

Katie Allen Fox sings and dances her way into the hearts of the audience, and it is pleasing to note that all her songs are new to the Atlanta public. Miss Fox's manikin dance was responsible for much laughter.

Josie and Willie Barrows complete the bill with a neat singing and dancing act which is second to none, and the vitagraph, as usual, closes the show with many new and amusing views.

MILK PERMITS ARE ISSUED.

Nineteen Was the Record for Yesterday, and 505 the Total Number to Date.

Nineteen milk permits were issued yesterday by Secretary John Jentzen, of the board of health.

The system of issuing permits was inaugurated June 21, and the total number issued to date is 505. It is expected that the number will reach seven or eight hundred by the time all of the dairymen are heard from. The issuing of the permits locates the different dairies about the city and they are then paid a visit by the recently elected milk inspector.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE GOOD

The Week Has Been Generally Favorable in Georgia.

COTTON HAS TAKEN A START

General Condition of the Staple, However, Is Still Regarded as Inferior.

The following is the weekly crop report for the week ending Monday, July 8th, issued yesterday by the local weather bureau:

The weather conditions of the week were generally very favorable to crops, and much cultivation was accomplished. Local showers occurred in a few sections, but in a majority of the counties dry and hot weather prevailed. Cotton has taken a start, is growing favorably, blooming and forming; its general condition is, however, still regarded as inferior, and black root has appeared in some of the southern counties. Corn needs moisture in nearly all sections. Melons are poor, peaches continue to rot; cane, potatoes, peas and minor crops are progressing well as a rule.

The following are extracts from reports by counties:

NORTHERN SECTION.

Banks—Warm and dry week; much work done; cotton small and irregular; some bottom lands abandoned; melons poor.

Bartow—Local showers have afforded ample moisture; crops growing rapidly, but cotton is small; wheat crop good.

Catoosa—Farm work progressed rapidly; much hay saved; oats and wheat thrashed; corn plowed; gardens fine.

Chattooga—Hot and dry weather; corn and cotton well cultivated; gardens failing, fruit only fair.

Cherokee—Crops have improved; cotton late but doing well; oats fine; peas good.

Cobb—Crops are in fairly good condition, but rain is needed; gardens drying, oats about all harvested.

Dawson—Fair and warm weather prevails; much grass destroyed; corn and cotton doing fairly well; showers needed.

DeKalb—Corn fine; cotton growing rapidly; pastures good; fruit generally poor; farm work pushed.

Fannin—Favorable week for farm work; wheat and oats mostly harvested; gardens doing well; fruit crop light.

Floyd—Cotton blooming and generally doing well; corn not promising; rain needed.

Forsyth—Weather very favorable for farm work; cotton and corn irregular; peaches and apples scarce; grapes rotting.

Gordon—Fine growing weather; much grass killed, cotton improving, but no blooms; corn being "laid by."

Gwinnett—Weather favorable on all crops; cotton taking on forms; melons late; peaches poor; grape crop light.

Habersham—Warm, dry week; crops growing rapidly; corn fine; wheat and rye harvested in fine condition.

Hall—Dry and hot week; cotton and corn growing rapidly, cotton blooming; wheat yielding well; cane and peas sown.

Hart—Heavy rains first of week; fine weather for exterminating grass; cotton requires much working.

Lincoln—Fine week for work; crops generally well cultivated; bottom land corn poor; many cotton fields abandoned.

Madison—All crops improved; cotton and corn doing well; oats about all harvested and wheat threshed.

Walker—Farmers busy haying; wheat turning out well; fruit ripening and doing fairly well; corn and cotton small.

Walton—Fine growing weather; well cultivated crops doing well, although corn and cotton are small.

Wilkes—Crops below average; sorghum poor; sweet potatoes fair; apples scarce; pastures and gardens good.

MIDDLE SECTION.

Baldwin—No rain since first of the month; much grass destroyed; some improvement in crops noted.

Bulloch—Good progress made in cleaning crops; cotton shows slight improvement; stubble lands will be sown in peas.

Burke—Slight improvement in cotton; corn yellow, prospects poor; melons late but doing well; rain needed.

Campbell—Cotton very small, but fruiting well for its size; early corn needs rain, but corn doing well.

Carroll—All crops much improved and about cleaned of grass; rain would benefit corn; wheat threshing progressing.

Columbia—Cotton generally small and poor, but beginning to bloom; corn doing fairly well; sweet potatoes fine.

Crawford—Fine weather for crops; corn and cotton growing well and are about clear of grass; melons poor; cane fine.

Dodge—Cotton poor; cane medium; corn doing well.

Douglas—Dry weather prevails; farm work well up.

Effingham—Showery week, but favorable for crops; cotton small but improving; corn generally very poor; rice good.

Emanuel—Weather favorable; work pushed; progress for corn and cotton poor; cane better than for years.

Haralson—Favorable weather for cultivation; early wheat made good yield; late plantings damaged by rust.

Harris—Cotton not entirely free from grass; corn small.

Houston—Favorable week; large peach shipments being made; corn generally poor, also cane; field peas promising.

Jasper—Abundant rainfall during week; corn and cotton growing nicely where well worked; Irish potatoes fine.

Jefferson—Cotton slightly improved, but still small and grassy, blooms scarce; corn poor; peaches rotting.

Laurens—Many crops still grassy; potatoes and cane doing well; cotton improved where well worked; melons in market.

McDuffie—Rain needed; corn indicates short crop; sweet potatoes growing nicely; melons poor; peaches being shipped.

Marion—Work well advanced; cotton fruiting; corn needs rain in places; fruit poor; melons not yet ripe.

Meriwether—Well cultivated crops are growing favorably, but grass is plentiful; peaches rotting.

Monroe—Dry and hot; much cotton yet to be chopped; labor insufficient to meet demands.

Montgomery—Abundant rain has fallen during the week; fruit rotting; cane doing well.

Newton—Favorable week for crops; cotton doing well; wheat threshing in progress.

Pike—Cotton has taken a start but seems to be rusting, much unchopped; corn small but growing nicely.

Rockdale—Cotton doing reasonably well; well cultivated corn growing rapidly; potatoes fine.

Screven—Cotton and corn slightly improved, but are still small and yellow; fruit badly rotted; fall gardens planted.

Spalding—Fine week for work; cotton and corn generally well worked and growing favorably.

Taliaferro—Dry and hot week; cotton blooming; melons scarce; peach crop short; corn sorry; gardens fine.

Troup—Dry and hot week; upland corn suffering for moisture; cotton blooming; sorghum and ribbon cane good.

Warren—Corn and cotton generally much improved by sunshine; peaches ripening; potatoes and cane fine.

Washington—Damaging rain storm on 1st washed land badly; cotton small and late, but growing well; corn spotted.

Wilkinson—Crops generally well cultivated; corn needs rain; cotton backward; melons small; cane rather poor.

SOUTHERN SECTION.

Brooks—Crops improving; potatoes being set; cotton fruiting well; melons poor; peaches rotting; grapes fine.

Bryan—Weather warm and dry; corn needs moisture; cane fair; potatoes fine; cotton indifferent; melons poor.

Camden—Weather fine; early melons ripening; peaches small and hard; corn "laid by."

Calhoun—Favorable week for crops; much grass destroyed; general condition of crops greatly improved.

Clay—Dry weather over larger portion of county; drought and intense sunshine have injured corn and gardens; cotton late, but doing fairly well at present.

Coffee—Farm work well in hand; uplands need rain; corn and cotton improving; pears good; melons ripening.

Decatur—Corn doing well; cotton rusting and has black root; cane fine; melons ripening, but are small.

Dooly—Favorable weather; corn crop nearly safe from drought; much cotton ruined by grass.

Liberty—Fine growing weather; a few pears shipped; melons ripe; peas and sweet potatoes planted; cotton improved.

Lowndes—Peas, peanuts and corn doing well; cotton poor.

McIntosh—Upland crops suffering for moisture; rice grassy but doing well; labor scarce.

Mitchell—Light showers and sunshine have improved cotton, although it is small and fruiting sparsely; corn fair.

Randolph—Much damage done by local hail and wind storms; little improvement in cotton, black root spreading rapidly.

Stewart—Local showers have benefited all crops; corn tasseling well; cotton blooming and forming.

Telfair—Weather hot and dry and crops show improvement; melons coming in slowly; fruit scarce.

Ware—Hot and moist weather, frequent showers; early corn ripening; Irish potatoes rotting; cotton improving.

Wayne—Corn, cane and potatoes doing well; cotton poor. J. B. MARBURY, Section Director.

RACE WILL BE GREAT EVENT.

Charley H. and Musquetoon Will Trot for Big Stake—Great Interest Manifested.

Atlanta sporting men are greatly interested in the coming race between Charley H. and Musquetoon on July 20th. No horse owned by an Atlanta man has ever been more popular here, and Charley H. will run for heavy stakes. The Macon people are greatly elated over their victory on July 4th, and say that they will repeat the dose, but those who know the two horses say that Charley H. will win, and the entire sporting population of Atlanta will be out in the hope of seeing him touch the wire in the lead.

The proposition of the promoters of the race to give part of the receipts to the family of Officer DeBray has met with universal favor, and many favorable comments on the generous proposal were heard during the day.

The race will be a great event and will decide the much mooted question as to whether Atlanta or Macon has the supremacy in matters pertaining to horseflesh. Sporting men of both cities are counting the days until the date for the race.

Funeral of Little Challis Lester.

SIMONS' STOCK LEVIED ON.

Eighteen Shares in Atlanta Home Insurance Company in Litigation.

Eighteen shares of stock in the Atlanta Home Insurance Company, held by C. J. Simmons, were yesterday levied upon to satisfy a fi. fa. in favor of the Beck & Gregg Hardware Company.

Mr. Simmons, as the holder of these eighteen shares of stock, recently sought an injunction against the insurance company to prevent it from reducing its capital stock from $500,000 to $200,000. The hardware company claims that Mr. Simmons was indebted to it in the sum of $1,200, but that $600 of the amount has been paid. They seek to secure the remainder by the levy on the stock. The levy was made by Deputy Sheriff A. J. Shropshire. The Beck & Gregg Company is represented by Attorney Shepard Bryan.

POLICE MATINEE PEN SHOTS

By Gordon Noel Hustel.

The Peacemaker.

A peacemaker he tried to be,
When Darktown had a row;
With limbs in splints and plastered head
Is how he shows up now.

"Luke Cain," said the recorder to a Darktownite, at yesterday's police matinee, who looked as if he had been run through a cotton gin, "the officer tells me that you were caught in the midst of a ferocious fight in Crooked alley. Then there is the prima facie evidence about your anatomy."

"Jedge Briles," exclaimed Luke solemnly, "habs yer ebber read in de gude book erbout de blessedness ob de peacemaker?"

"Yes, that's in the Bible," stated the recorder.

"Den I is er libin' 'zample ob de bustedness ob dat the'ry," said Luke. "I seed sum ob dem niggers in Darktown habin er hot fight erbout er watermillion an' I sed ter merse'f, I did, dat hit wus er pow'ful an' mity gude time ter be er peacemaker. So I git in bertwixt dem niggers an' fore I had de time ter reerlize de sitterwashun dey bof went ter hittin' me wid all dem uppercuts an' dem ondercuts, an' dem rite han' swings an' dem lef' han' swings tell I wus feelin' lak hog meet at sawsidge grindin'. Den jes erbout dat time de perlice cummed up an' dem udder niggers all lit out an' ez I wuz de onliest one dat warn't in no fit kornd'shun ter run dey cotched me."

"Then, I am going to turn you loose," the recorder told him. "You keep out of Darktown fights, unless you are out for blood yourself. A peacemaker in Darktown is as much out of place as a Hottentot on an iceberg or a lamb at a wolf's dinner party. The only kind of peace they want down there is a piece of watermelon or catfish."

The Kicker.

He kicked from morning until night.
All things went wrong, he swore;
And now for many a night and day
He's sure to kick no more.

Wiley Hutch was introduced to Recorder Broyles as the champion kicker of Devil's Dip. The arresting officer stated that Wiley had kicked and kicked until all the Dippers were afraid to even ask him to take a mug of beer. His last kick was against a policeman for arresting a woman for cruelly beating her child.

"You are a pessimist, Wiley," remarked the recorder.

"Fer heaben's sake doan call me sech ez dat, Jedge Briles," exclaimed the prisoner as he trembled with apprehension.

"It's a wonder that you don't want to make the people believe the world is turning the wrong way on its axis. But you gave one kick too much when you kicked against the police. You simply kicked out of the traces. What did you have to do with the officer arresting a woman about her child?"

"Solermon sez," replied the prisoner, "dat yer mus' not spar' de hick'ry onless yer wants to git de chile sp'ilt. Den, sez I, how kin de perlice stop de 'oman usin' de hick'ry?"

"There are a heap of kickers in this world," commented Recorder Broyles. "There are some who are kicking around in the world and there are others who think they are kicking the world around. Then there are some who look upon the earth as a gridiron, and think they must be kicking all the time, and they are not particular what they use for a football. You will have to pay $10.75, Wiley, or your last kick will cause you to make a touchdown at the stockade."

The Waddler.

He waddled when he walked along;
A cop took in the p'ints;
And then he loudly swore that he
Was stiff about "de j'ints."

"I found Peter Schaker," stated an officer, "waddling along the street last night too full to take care of himself."

Peter is a corn doctor in Hell's Half Acre, and he calls himself "de perfessor."

"What do you say about being drunk last night?" the recorder asked.

"Me drunk!" exclaimed Peter. "Is yer axin' Perfessor Peter Schaker dat queshun, Jedge Briles?"

"I'm sorry that I have shocked your sense of propriety," stated the recorder, "but duty compels me to ask you why you waddled and wabbled on the streets of Atlanta last night?"

"Dar, now," said Peter, as he wiped the perspiration from his brow with a piece of dishcloth. "Dar now, dese j'ints done git me in trubbel at las'. Jedge Briles, de r'ason dat de perlice seed me 'pearin' lak I wus wogglin' wus bekase mer j'ints am bin full ob mis'ry wid de rumermatics."

"I'm afraid your story is a little too stiff for me to believe," remarked Recorder Broyles. "There is a heap of difference between a rheumatic wabble and a whisky wabble."

"It was a whisky waddle he had last night, Judge Broyles," put in the officer.

"I'll fine Peter $5.75 for being drunk," said the recorder. "Stiff joints are barred. If he has not got the money, he will have to join the stockade joint."

SOMETHING EXTRA GOOD.

We offer two 4-room houses, renting to negro tenants at $12 a month, for $900. One house is new, built last year, and the other as good as new. Both houses have always been occupied and not a dollar's worth of repairs necessary for years to come.

HERE ARE THE FIGURES

For the past twelve months this property has netted the owner clear of all taxes, insurance and repairs $122.50 or a little over 13½ per cent net. This property is in a good negro neighborhood with a lot 40x90 to each house and title absolutely perfect. We expect to sell the property to the first one that sees it and has the money.

EDITORS OFF FOR BUFFALO

Georgia and Weekly Press Association Will Leave Today

TO TAKE IN PAN-AMERICAN

Annual Trip Unusually Large This Year—Many Ladies Along—Party Will Return Individually.

The Georgia Press Association and the Weekly Press Association will leave this afternoon at 5:15 o'clock for Buffalo.

The party will start in a body on three special Pullman cars. They will keep together, taking in the exposition, Niagara Falls and other points until the 15th, when individual members will probably return separately by way of New York or as they went, via Cincinnati.

The Georgia Press Association will hold its thirty-third annual meeting this morning at 11 o'clock at the Kimball house. Customary business will be transacted, then the members will leave for their big trip to the Pan-American. Many ladies will be in the party.

The fact that the Georgia and the weekly editors combine this year will make the excursion an unusually large one. They will start on the Southern via Cincinnati, returning the same way, or at a small extra cost by way of New York and Washington.

The programme for the trip is as follows:

Leave Atlanta 5:15 p. m., July 10th, via Southern railway.
Arrive Chattanooga 9 p. m., supper.
Arrive Cincinnati 8:30 a. m. Thursday, breakfast.
Arrive Cleveland 1:55 p. m. Thursday.
Arrive Buffalo 8 p. m. Thursday.
Friday will be spent in visiting the exposition.
Saturday, July 13th, will be Georgia Day and appropriate exercises will be held.
Sunday will be spent as the members may wish. Many will go during the afternoon for a visit to Niagara Falls.
On Monday, July 15th, the members will visit the exposition or leave for New York or for Atlanta.

TECH'S SUMMER SCHOOL; ITS GREAT ADVANTAGES

Though the doors of the Technological school have been closed since June 20th and the professors and students have dispersed, some to their homes, others to duties of various kinds, there is not the spirit of quiet and rest about the campus one expects to find during the vacation season.

President Hall is to be found daily at his desk receiving letters of inquiry from prospective students, dictating replies and attending to such other executive business as may require his attention. Professor Wallace, the director of the summer school, is busy perfecting the arrangements for the opening of the summer session July 15th.

Business such as the above goes on unobserved and its effects are seen only when the term opens and the students begin to throng the grounds and buildings.

There is, however, business of another nature going on at the institution, characterized by noise and bustle, for the Janie Swann dormitory and the new engineering building are in course of construction. These buildings are to be ready for occupancy on the opening of the fall session in October, consequently the sound of the hammer, the unloading of materials and the voices of the workmen give to the place an air of business. Visitors and those seeking information are impressed with the idea of progress everywhere manifest about the Tech, even during vacation.

In a few days the campus and buildings will be alive with students who have entered the summer school. These young men mean business and they sacrifice a part of their vacation that they may enter the school in the fall or be more thoroughly prepared to keep up with their classes.

The Tech, realizing the needs of this class of young men, as well as of many other classes, has provided means for their advancement, by offering a thoroughly equipped summer school. The summer course is an index of progress and industry, made possible by the self-denial of young men in their eagerness for knowledge; it has gradually become an important factor in the scheme of education.

It is a well recognized principle that students and teachers need rest and a change of scene after a term of nine or ten months, but most teachers agree that long vacations are fraught with more of evil to the mental man than of benefit to the physical. The summer session does not usurp the entire vacation period, but engages to utilize that portion not needed for recreation and rest. Recognizing this fact, many of the leading universities of the land have extended their sessions in such a way that it forms a continuous term. The fall, winter, spring and summer are all terms of equal value.

The members of the faculty of the Tech regret that circumstances so far have not permitted them to follow the lead of some larger institutions in the north to the extent of offering the same course in summer as in the other parts of the year. They have, however, made a beginning and believe that the time is not far distant when the southern student may remain at home and pursue courses of study adequate to his needs.

The climate is not an unconquerable enemy to mental effort in the warm months, as has already been proved by courses given at the University of Georgia, Vanderbilt and the Technological school.

The latter has been conducted by a number of the junior professors of the school, who, awake to the needs of hundreds of young men of the south, have denied themselves the pleasures of the mountains and the gayeties of the seashore in order that they may make it possible for young men of limited means and opportunity to enjoy the privileges of a college education.

The summer school faculty consists of Professors F. C. Furlow, William Jennings, S. S. Wallace and A. B. Morton. Professor Furlow is to give the courses in engineering, and as this is his regular work in the school and as his reputation is too well known to need comment, it is unnecessary to remark upon the golden opportunity offered to students in this line.

Professor Jennings is professor of mathematics in the summer school and his successes already achieved in mathematical circles guarantee the character of the instruction he provides.

Professor S. S. Wallace, the director of the summer school, has been identified with it in the capacity as professor of English for the past three years. He is a man of broad experience and there is no doubt that the character of his work which has gained him words of praise on all sides will stimulate his students to increased efforts.

The last of this famous quartet of southern educators is Professor A. B. Morton. He is a graduate of Brown university and is winning his way to the forefront of educational circles.

These gentlemen have entered upon this undertaking with a zeal and earnestness which argues well for the future of the summer session of the Technological school.

TO JOURNEY TO MANILA

Edward T. Payne, Jr., To Accept Position in Distant Islands.

SON OF CITY TAX COLLECTOR

His Sister Recently Made the Trip to Manila To Wed—He Is To Leave in September.

Edward T. Payne, Jr., son of City Tax Collector Payne, will leave in September for the far-away Philippine islands, where he will go to accept a position in the commissary department at Manila.

Mr. Payne is a well known young man and his many friends throughout the city will be surprised to learn of his intended long journey. He assists his father in the tax collector's office a portion of each month and is a familiar figure about the city hall. He is planning for the trip and expects to take his departure from Atlanta about the middle of September.

It was only recently that Miss Dollie Payne, sister of the young man, journeyed to the distant islands to wed W. M. Thebeaut, who is connected with the mail department in Manila. Mr. and Mrs. Thebeaut now reside in Manila and the latter has written to her family expressing herself as being very much pleased with her new residence. Mr. Payne has communicated with his sister his intention to go to Manila and he will join her and her husband there.

The route selected by Mr. Payne will carry him through an interesting section of the world. Instead of taking the usual route to San Francisco, he will go to Vancouver, British Columbia. The trip from there will be made by steamer around by Alaska, Japan and China. Three days will be spent in Hong Kong and from there he will proceed to Manila.

STOLEN GOODS ARE FOUND

Police Discover Goods in Negro Woman's House.

SHE SET THE PLACE ON FIRE

Several Hundred Dollars' Worth of Stolen Property Awaits Identification at the Police Barracks.

Stolen goods were piled up at the police barracks yesterday morning awaiting identification by the owners. The goods were found at No. 88 Hilliard street, where Sarah Mann, a negro woman, lived.

The woman was seen by Officers Englett and Fogg, who were in citizens' clothes, carrying a pair of new trousers from her house to a neighbor's. She was questioned and allowed to go. The officers hid near by and watched the house. In a few moments they discovered that it had been set on fire and they were in time to extinguish the flames.

Sarah Mann had set the place on fire to burn down the dwelling and destroy the stolen goods she had there.

Acting Captain Abbott was notified of the discovery and he ordered the woman locked up and had the goods, which were packed in boxes and trunks, conveyed to the police barracks.

Among the goods were laces, silks, dress goods and table linen. Some of the goods were new and some had been used.

Several people called at the police barracks and identified some of the stolen property.

The police believe the woman was running a "fence" for a band of thieves and burglars, and they hope to get her to tell all she knows.

Goods worth several hundred dollars are still at the police barracks awaiting identification.

Technological Summer School.

There is a summer course at the Georgia School of Technology for the purpose of preparing boys for the regular session that opens in October. Boys who enter the summer school invariably gain admittance to the regular school. The cost is small. For information, address Professor S. S. Wallace, care School of Technology, Atlanta, Ga.
